Medical and monetary slavery is the framework of action of totalitarian governments. In 2017, the IMF published a document offering suggestions to governments, even in the face of strong public opposition, on how to move towards a cashless society. The government could easily track digital payments with a CBDC. Bloomberg noted in an article published when the digital yuan pilot program was launched that the digital currency "offers authorities in China a degree of control that would never be possible with cash." A CBDC could allow the Chinese government to more closely monitor mobile app purchases. Apple CEO Tim Cook looks forward to a "common future in cyberspace" with China, he told the Chinese government's World Internet Conference earlier this month.

The Washington Post went even further, openly participating in a social credit scheme by publicly identifying people who recently contributed to the Canadian truck protesters and demanding to know why they gave money. mises.org/wire/progressive-governance-needs-social-credit-state .--- Your identity would be verified for each purchase. That means no food reserves would go unnoticed. There is no generator or stash of medical supplies. There is no life off the grid, or revolutionary philosophies. There are no lessons on self defense.

Each of the items you have purchased can be removed or marked when the purchase has been made, painting a picture of your lifestyle and personal philosophies. The control and manipulation of people is part of the Great Rest and digital money is a highly relevant factor. Unfortunately, "According to the Atlantic Council central bank digital currency tracker, 112 countries, representing more than 95 percent of global GDP, are exploring a CBDC," adds Kanekoah the Great. Anthony Pompliano, an American entrepreneur, investor, and Bitcoin evangelist wrote last March that "central bank digital currencies will be one of the biggest human rights violations in history."

Just like communist China runs its infamous social credit scoring system, Biden's proposed CBDC would be tied to people's identities. As long as a person obeys everything the government says, they will be allowed to spend money and do things. Those who disobey the government will have their CBDC accounts closed and their funds seized. "The state removes all elements of privacy, while giving institutions the ability to censor any and all transactions, regardless of whether they have a legitimate reason or not." www.atlanticcouncil.org/cbdctracker .-----kanekoa.substack.com/.../central-bank-digital-currencies-are .-----The Biden Bucks are getting closer to becoming a reality for all of us.

This month, the Digital Dollar Project (DDP) published an updated version of its white paper called "Exploring a US CBDC." At that point, all of us will be in the slaughterhouse ready for the digital slaughter of negative interest rates. All your money will be blocked in the banking system. If you don't want to spend your money. The government can punish you by imposing negative rates. He doesn't want you to save your money. account freezing, tax withholding and outright forfeiture in some cases.

Under Biden Bucks, identity theft would become commonplace. You are one step away from being investigated by the FBI if you vote for the wrong candidate, buy the "wrong" reading material, or donate to the wrong political party. The fight against this imposition is in our opposition, open a window of opportunity to wake up as many people as possible to resist converting to a new cashless society, where digital currencies issued by central banks will completely dominate our lives. and will remove any remnants of "privacy". christine257.substack.com/p/central-bank-digital-currencies-cbdcs?utm_. At the very least, every household should have an adequate number of reusable canning lids and know methods of preserving food without refrigeration or freezers. Store salt. Also, save at least a 3-year supply of heirloom seed in case of crop failure or needing to share. If at all possible, live in an area isolated from cross-pollination. Keep planting fruit trees, perennials and garlic--a person cannot have too much garlic! Be able to identify wild foodstuffs in your locale--esp. sources of protein. Look to the fields and forests for your needs. Admittedly, some parts of the country are better places to be located than others. Initially, when food rationing begins, it may be wise to wear your ragged clothing, stand in line for handouts and commiserate with others.

Tell people you are lucky to find a few weeds to eat. Take the crap food you are allocated and barter it on the black market. If 2A is eliminated, you had better be far gone by then. One step at a time. There is so much more I could add beyond that... The main problem I see is a lack of individual responsibility. Ever since the onset of covid-19, how can a person not be aware and doing some kind of prepping? Or speaking up and protesting? Too scary, so sheeple remain in denial and stick their heads in the ground leaving their butts exposed.

Hoping nothing bad will happen to them or that someone else will take care of them--govt, their church or family. Not everyone is a prepper, either. Even among those who are, very few have even a 3-month food supply. It is getting late in the game. Out of jealousy, many preppers will be criticized for being hoarders--if people find out they have stuff. The opposite is true. Preppers have no reason to panic buy when there are shortages, leaving more for everyone else. In times of plenty, you should store up for times of need. That was once considered responsible behavior and the way most people lived.

Hi, Gui. I can see the day fast approaching, when global monopolies such as Amazon will take control of all commerce. All transactions will be digital; either through an "app", or online purchase. How many people already "buy and sell" in that manner? "SMART" devices could have many benefits; although, that is not what they were designed for "convenience". It's obvious to me that it is all a meticulously designed TRAP, to get people used to the idea of totally relying upon their digital devices, in every aspect of their lives. When the CBDC's arrive, those people will welcome it with open arms (and closed minds!) I will continue to think for myself. Often, when I'm at a store checkout, the cashier is surprised when I have my purchases figured out before their "SMART" cash register has time to compute. I prefer my God-given "smart" device to any man-made machine!

I fear CBDC more than anything else right now. When you come right down to it what is it that we can't live without? Consider investment in non perishable food stores and water which could also be used to barter for other goods if it comes to that. A few ideas: freeze dried foods are widely available, though expensive. Canned goods are useful but have a more limited shelf life. Dried beans and nut butters for protein. Seeds can last a long time if stored properly and can be sprouted or grown as microgreens right in your kitchen for concentrated nutrition.

Supporting a local regenerative farm through CSA programs is a great way to have the freshest produce and maintain a relationship with a food producer. I started doing some of these things over ten years ago and if nothing else it fosters a sense of a little bit of security in an unpredictable world. A bit more extreme, but I also forged a plan over ten years ago to be able to leave the US if the heat is too much. If not for me, perhaps my children will find it useful one day.

Totally agree, Just, Almond and pjmauigirl, two very basic principles the economy and the local supply and the own harvest. Land, seeds and the illusion of being self-sufficient or depending on a community where barter can be very useful. A globalized market with corrupt interests of multinationals, big banks and speculators always ends in economic disaster. Socioeconomic activity began to gain prominence from the 70s, a decade in which the incompetence of traditional development policies became apparent, thus producing a change in its orientation, from top-down or centralized development to bottom-up or bottom-up development.

This link discusses the importance of incorporating local culture into community development. The territorial development policy has included social cohesion and comprehensive planning. Territorial approaches are better suited to the unique and complex conditions present in rural areas. The local culture is part of this later development model. As a result, more and more attention is being paid to local level and "bottom-up" approaches that focus on culture, territory, local diversity and optimization of local resources. extension.psu.edu/importance-of-incorporating-local-culture-into-commu..

Thank you JohnRose, this video explains very well the scope of the theory of terrain and germs as a cause of disease and names major contributors to the fight against disease. My admiration for the Gerson therapy. We have to go back to Hippocrates. He said: the important thing is not to hurt. www.bitcute.com/.../xVG3df1w7RpW .---- You will know that Dr. Mercola informed about the Gerson Therapy. His summary read: At age 15, Garrett's father gave his son a book by Dr. Max Gerson to read. The book proposes a direct relationship between diet and cancer cure.

In this documentary, Garrett ventures on a cross-country road trip to investigate the Gerson Therapy and learns how it is in the interests of the multi-billion dollar medical industry to reject alternative and natural cures- The Therapy Gerson focuses on the concept that everyone has the power to heal themselves, and uses non-toxic methods, including organic foods, juices, detoxification, and supplements, to activate this healing potential. It is to be admired that Schweitzer's worldview was based on his idea of Reverence for life, which he believed was his simplest and greatest contribution to humanity.

He saw a decline in Western civilization, due to a gradual abandonment of its ethical roots: those of the affirmation of life. Admire his dedication along with his wife in the Republic of Gabon where he established a hospital near an existing mission where he helped thousands of patients. including hundreds of lepers and treated many victims of the African sleeping sickness.

Both Gandhi and Schopenhauer made what I consider to be some of the most valuable observations on changing minds about what is true for human beings. A truth that food can be the basis of "medicine". Most people don't need a new and improved drug. They just need the right nutrition... First they ignore you, then they laugh at you, then they attack you, then you win.- Mahatma Gandhi All truth goes through three stages: First, it is ridiculed. Second, it receives violent opposition. And third, it is accepted as evident.- Arthur Schopenhauer.

This article has a projection of who is at the helm of the ship carrying the treasure: THE FEDERAL RESERVE POSTER EIGHT FAMILIES OWN THE USA, BIS, IMF, WORLD BANK They are the Goldman Sachs, Rockefellers, Lehmans and Kuhn Loeb's of New York; the Rothschilds of Paris and London; the Warburgs of Hamburg; the Lazards in Paris; and the Israel Moses Seifs of Rome.

Many of the bank's shareholders reside in Europe. The US government was historically distrustful of the BIS, unsuccessfully pushing for its demise at the post-World War II Bretton Woods Conference in 1944. Instead, the power of the Eight Families was exacerbated, with the creation in Bretton Woods of the IMF and the World Bank. Bretton Woods became a boon to the Eight Families. The IMF and the World Bank were central to this "new world order", writes Dean Henderson in The Herland Report and Free21. The Four Horsemen of Banking (Bank of America, JP Morgan Chase, Citigroup, and Wells Fargo) own the Four Horsemen of Oil (Exxon Mobil, Royal Dutch/Shell, BP, and Chevron Texaco); along with Deutsche Bank, BNP, Barclays and other European giants of old money.

The Federal Reserve Cartel: Who owns the Federal Reserve? Its monopoly over the global economy does not end at the edge of the oil patch. According to the company's 10K filings with the SEC, the Four Horsemen of Banking are among the top ten shareholders of virtually all Fortune 500 corporations. Almond's advice is always soooo sound. If you have ever read "Little House in the Big Woods," then you know that family spent all summer preparing for winter's lack of food. Salted hams, dried veggies, potatoes and apples that always needed to be picked through and rotated, all in their lovely attic. If you did not prepare, you would die. So that is motivation enough. Re: pjmaugirl, I am interested in the plan you forged if it got too bad in the U.S. We have a Jamaican friend, born here, and his plan is to move back to Jamaica. We asked why? Strange things are happening to our food supply. It used to be that the FDA would only allow a certain number of bug parts per million in foods. Now, bugs are appearing as major ingredients in foods (crickets, worms, roaches). Does this mean we are approaching a soylent green' situation? Read all labels of food ingredients carefully. Do not be fooled by euphemisms and attempts to deceive consumers. "Acheta flour" is ground up crickets. Some other bug burgers (crickets, worms, roaches) are listed under their Latin names. Be suspicious of ingredients you do not recognize.

This did not start with the Plandemic. As a mother who questioned/refused vaccines starting back in 1985 I can tell you that the brainwashing has been alive and well even before then. I fought pediatricians, health department officials, schools, camps, etc. Figuring out the loopholes each year was a job. The Plandemic only gave them the excuse to clamp down on all the laws they have wanted to institute for a very long time. I feel bad for young parents today, what's their recourse?

There's one major difference between 1985 and today. The covi-19 jabs are NOT vaccines. They are gene therapies! That's where someone smarter than me, that has lots of time and money, needs to focus on and file a lawsuit. Legally, no one can force you to take a gene therapy. That's exactly what's being done.

Yes, Almond a planned genocide. The prominent doctor Dr. Shankara Chetty who is credited with advancing the development of early treatments for COVID-19 has stated that, in his opinion, the purpose of the pandemic and vaccination campaigns is to "control and kill a large proportion of our population without anyone suspecting that they were poisoned." According to his website, he has "treated 7,000 Covid-19 patients without a single hospitalization or death," combining insights from his medical knowledge along with his observations of government dictates and media censorship.

to support his conclusions. "If I were to give you my opinion on what is happening on a world scale," he said, "spike protein is one of the most man-made toxins or poisons man has ever created. And the goal of this toxin is to kill billions without anyone noticing." Also journalist Josh Sigurdson of World Alternative Media pointed out that injections of experimental mRNA COVID-19 genes, which millions of people received voluntarily or were forced to receive under threat of being fired from their jobs, are aimed at killing people.

"That is certainly part of the problem we face today. There is no going back on the fact that countless people have injected themselves with poison a 163 percent increase in deaths year over year," Sigurdson said. Sigurdson also pointed to a Daily Expose article, which cited US government data showing that people vaccinated against COVID-19 are a staggering 143,233 percent more likely to be diagnosed with cancer compared to people vaccinated against the flu.

An article by Dr. Joel Hirschhorn noted that the CDC "had to change the definition of a vaccine so that COVID mRNA materials or generic therapies could be legally defined as vaccines." "This must be emphasized: if these 'fake' vaccines were legally classified as medicines, then they would not be protected from liability actions. Vaccine manufacturers would not be fully protected. So significant considering the large number of adverse health impacts and deaths that are definitely causally related to 'fake' vaccines." Hirschhorn also commented that the relentless promotion of these cancer-causing mRNA vaccines "demonstrates the historic corruption of the entire public health and medical establishment." www.lifesitenews.com/.../jab-will-poison .----- www.brighteon.com/d601ff56-36a0-4d12-be32-b45afd60134b (2022(.-----

I remember being shocked about a year ago when Neil Young threatened Spotify to remove his music if they kept Joe Rogan on their platform. I was a big fan of Young for decades....and even more so when he started publicly slamming Monsanto & GMOs. He even made an entire album about the toxicity and health risks that defines Monsanto. Young has performed over the years with Willie Nelson and others about the plight of family farmers and the role that Big Agriculture has played in this and our overall declining health. And then THIS from him. What happened to him being so captured by Big Pharma?

I'm probably naive.. but hope it was not just about the money. His stance was also an obvious slam on free speech. The ACLU is also NOT the organization it used to be. Their only job is to protect the Bill of Rights... which they have failed. They sold out to the pro-jab crowd. I was a member for close to 30 years before tearing up the card in 2021. Neil should re-think his position on this and come forward as more and more evidence of the harm it causes is right there in plain sight, if he truly believes we can be "rockin' in the free world".

Guillermo and all... Like many of the rest of you, I remain very angry about the vaccine mandates. I admit that, early on, I was more open to the vaccine, but still had my suspicions and decided to observe, learn more and do my due diligence. From there on, my conclusions became increasingly negative. My heart goes out to those who were duped and went along, even those who still remain in denial, because this is a terrible thing to do to a fellow human being. Even infants! I am counting my blessings, though. I did not have to face the possibility of job loss. It is esp. difficult for a single parent, looking at the faces of their children and wondering how they will provide for them if they lose their job.

I feel like I dodged a bullet, not only because I have a history of an unusually aggressive cancer (also thanks to the US govt!), fortunately decades in remission mostly thru natural therapies, but also. life-threatening allergies to vaccine ingredients. it is ironic that neither of these would exempt me even though the FDA had state that people with my type of allergy should not be vaccinated. That is just the crazy irrational world we live in nowadays. It is easy to realize that the less govt I have interfering in my life, the better off I am... in so many ways.

I think it's important to note that some people on this site fail to remember when the loss of our freedoms began to take hold in a monumental way: after 9/11. The Department of Homeland Security and TSA were spawned, as well as the Patriot Act. Under a Republican president (George Bush, Jr.), spying on American citizens became not only justified but commonplace. Moreover, if we back up 10 years prior to 9/11, President Bush Sr. extolled the virtues of a New World Order, and he was quite confident it would occur. Sure, political parties may periodically assume the good cop/bad cop role depending on who is in office, but the high profile players of both political parties are complicit in what is taking place today.

Posted On 02/05/2023

You also saw Bush Jr stand shoulder to shoulder with the Democrats when Trump was being persecuted. Bush Sr campaigned on upholding all of Reagan's core values, especially the maintaining and EXPANSION of the US Military. Within his 1st 3 months in office he declared the closing of like 3 Battalions and he axed "Star Wars", cut medical/dental benefits, froze pay raises, and ended enlistment/reenlistment bonuses (I know because I was in the ARMY at the time). Both Bush's sold the US out to China.

It was Bush Sr who signed the first draft of NAFTA. He did that his last month in office. This led to the mass exodes of manufacturing jobs from the US to Mexico. Here's the catch. During all of that time, Trump was a registered Democrat. Most Democrats in congress voted against NAFTA. Trump was a registered Dem up until Obama's 2nd year. Trump switched to Independent with thoughts of running for president. Trump witched to Republican when Romney lost to Obama's 2nd term. When news media confronted Trump and asked why he switched parties he had 2 answers.

First he said he didn't like how the party was aligning itself with Obama's socialist/communist/marxist values. Secondly, he said he knew he would be running for president in 2016 and that there was no way he could get the Democratic nomination. The way the Dems do their caucuses it is rigged so that only people like Hillary Clinton get nominated. That left him with no choice but to run as a Republican. Since his values were more "old school" Democrat than current level Republican, he had no support from his own party.

Like the Dems always do, anyone who defects from them becomes enemy #1. Look what they are doing to Elon Musk. He was a lifelong Dem just like Trump. He was the goldenhair child of the green climate change movement. All the virtue signaling climate activist drove Tesla's. After he declared he was changing to REPUBLICAN they have gone after him with a vengeance! It's laughable how both parties flip flop.

Read this book: Murder by Injection: The Story of the Medical Conspiracy Against America by Eustace Clarence Mullins and any by G Edward Griffin especially his cancer book and then kick yourself for not realizing these years, if not decades ago. Watch The Truth About Cancer series every year since 2009 and often twice and you should have even a better idea of what they (The Globalists) would try to do. First off, we are not the world's best place to cure cancer. Many other countries are doing a much better and more imaginative job with their patients than the US is doing. Hey skupe59, all of Mullins' books are great and here's the first paragraph from the forward to Murder by Injection followed by a link to a MUST SEE video where I took a 4 minute snippet from a 52 minute video of G. Edward Griffin interviewing Norman Dodd in 1982. "The present work, the result of some forty years of investigative research, is a logical progression from my previous books: the expose of the international control of monetary issue and banking practices in the United States; a later work revealing the secret network of organizations through which these alien forces wield political power—the secret committees, foundations, and political parties through which their hidden plans are implemented; and now; to the most vital issue of all, the manner in which these depredations affect the daily lives and health of American citizens.

Despite the great power of the hidden rulers, I found that only one group has the power to issue life or death sentences to any American—our nation's physicians." -Eustace Mullins | Why Does History Repeat Itself? | Wars & Pandemics Explained! - www.youtube.com/watch G. Edward Griffin: The story you are about to hear represents a missing piece in the puzzle of modern history. Without this Knowledge many contemporary events are simply beyond understanding. When government gets involved with corporate finance you get deep seeded corruption. The government used to keep a finger on these corporations and prevented monopolies. Now they are in bed with each other. Now congress can pass laws in an effort to promote an agenda that will guarantee the pharmaceuticals a boost in their stocks. Then these same congress men/women buy those very same stocks before the bills even go into effect. It makes the oligarchs of Russia look like kindergarten teachers. I hope we figure out a way to stop this corruption. Otherwise, we lose everything we once called the USA.

It seems hopeless and impossible yet I don't let a little thing like that stop me from doing my part. The bad news is our problems with our self-government is us and it's all our fault. But the good news is our problems with our self-government is us and it's all our fault. It's good news because we have the ultimate power to correct that by not being the "low information voters" as the ever living and legendary Rush Limbaugh calls them and even many of us. Our form of (SELF) government is not designed to be on automatic pilot.

Our Founding Fathers admonished us to be ever vigilant. That, by implication, means don't trust even the government they founded. Expand that to the media and agency insiders with global governance agenda. If we must wait for the culpable main-stream media to tell us they are switching sides and exposing themselves as well as the enemy, then that won't happen, and the world loses the United States of America. For those of us who are not the problem, become the solution by talking to people face-to-face.

If we don't succeed at outvoting them, then prepare to outlive them as they have voted for their own demise. The inheritance of the world goes to the survivors. Are you (I'm asking all of us) prepared to be among the survivors? Judging from the quality of comments on Mercola.com, you will be needed to be a vital and healthy part of our future. Survival takes commitment now as these will be viewed as the good times when preparedness was still possible. RonaldHLevine4548@yahoo.com be prepared, be very prepared

Anyone who votes is a low information voter. President Woodrow Wilson declared over 100 years ago that presidents are not elected, they are selected. Joseph Stalin proclaimed it matters not who votes, it only matters who counts the votes. Yet here we are in 2023 with people thinking their vote is "sacred". Stop voting. If people stopped, they would be stopped. And no, it won't make the "other side" win. There is NO other side!

A quick look at the future - Canada and the "trucker" protest. We keep using the term "truckers" as if they were the only ones opposed, but in fact they represented the politically disenfranchised who were powerless to fight for themselves or their families against physical harm in the form of mandated gene therapy. Canada is one of the more electronically advanced nations integrating providing full financial control of your wealth. You might have noticed that when the liberals were throwing temper tantrums they widened the net -so you kept money in cash - we can fix that.

How about we suspend your driver's licence and vehicle insurance so can't make a living and keep money in cash. If you want a look at complete political control we can stop banks from extended credit for mortgages so now you don't have a place for you and your family to live. If a glimpse of the future looks terrifying that is only a glimpse. In my opinion one of the reasons they had to stop it cold immediately was the protest was gaining support - well not in the city of Ottawa since coming close to smelly diesel vehicles was giving the residents the vapors.

The Left left. Left its principles behind. like freedom of speech, the sovereignty of one's body, and didn't and still doesn't see through the whole scam that the "pandemic" was. How it was just one giant step to world totalitarianism. The vilifying of hydroxychloroquine, "a horse tranquilizer" and Ivermectin (scdhec.gov/covid19/dangers-using-hydroxychloroquine-ivermectin-prevent..) was a tipoff. No cures, only vaccines...hmm. All one had to do was question what was being presented to see through it. The FDA and NIH and many previously regarded as sacrosanct institutions like John Hopkins and the WHO, as well as medical journals were corrupted.

All it takes is money, bribes, blackmail, and intimidation. BlackRock has 9 trillion. How much money one has is directly related to how much freedom one has. That is, how many options one has at one's disposal. Freedom should be equal for everyone, but obviously, it's not. And those with inordinate amounts of money have inordinate amounts of power which is being criminally misused. Instead of using that money to benefit all of mankind, they are using it to control and lower the population.

These are not conspiracy theories, anyone with eyes and a brain can see this, just by questioning everything, not taking things at face value, like a child or a naif. It is the same with Jan. 6 "insurrection". What a joke. An insurrection without arms. How is that possible? It was a protest with signs. When they were "allowed" to enter, what did they do, but wander around. What a load of bs. and all of the Left went along with it, since it was being used against Trump. How ignoble is that? The ends don't justify the means. The Left must stand for truth, but just went along with the bs.

Supporting a globalist like Biden is and was another huge mistake. Now, the policies of that fucker are putting the whole world at risk of armageddon, and where is the Left? Throwing money that could have been used for social programs and infrastructure down the drain by providing Ukraine with weapons they don't even know how to use. Billions voted by both the Left and the Right, traitors all, serving the military-industrial complex and not the people. The Left wanted everyone to be able to get vaxxed, how noble. Still, many are touting the efficacy of the vaccine, even now, after it is clear that it doesn't and didn't stop the virus and save lives as falsely touted and as he still imagines.

They tried to vaccinate remote tribes. Here, in Ecuador, many indigenous tribes refused the jab without any dire consequences. Maybe many people who identify with the Left, cannot admit how wrong they were. How the masks, cleaning hands and surfaces, social distancing, and the lockdowns of all, the pcr tests, was all bs. Early on, one could sense the falseness with all the anomalies that kept creeping in. Attaching to beliefs is not a very cogent way of thinking.

I would be happy if anyone can refute what I say. But all that I have encountered is dismissal as a conspiracy theorist, which I don't identify with, though I recognize that many "conspiracy theories" have been proven correct. Of course, one might imagine that the CIA and their ilk plant ludicrous conspiracy theories to denigrate all conspiracy theories. Such sloppy thinking coming from such intelligent people illustrates the power of propaganda, lies, and brainwashing. But we all make mistakes. It just takes some humility to admit them.

Many on both sides have the same donors, vote for massive amounts of Military spending, for wars (Bush, Jr. a good example of that), not to mention some Republicans that ALSO voted for The Patriot Act that took some of our freedoms away. Yes, Just, real robberies of white collar thieves. When it is carried out at an institutional level and causes harm to patients, the crime is greater. An intensive care doctor said that the US is wasting taxpayer money buying antiviral treatment for the Wuhan coronavirus from drugmaker Merck. Front Line COVID-19 Critical Care Alliance (FLCCC) President Dr. Pierre Kory has warned that the Biden administration should not pay Merck for a COVID-19 drug "that has already failed in hospitalized patients." Instead, he called for the "low-cost, safe [and] widely available" ivermectin with its history of efficacy against the disease. Kory's comments came as the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announced that the federal government and Merck have reached a $1.2 billion settlement.

Under the agreement, the pharmaceutical company will supply 1.7 million cycles of its molnupiravir COVID-19 antiviral drug, pending the green light from the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). We now know that Molnupiravir functions by causing mutations in COVID genome & thus preventing replication & it's actually driving transmissible mutations; we face variants due to leaky injections plus Molnupiravir?? palexander.substack.com/p/urgent-molnupiravir-made-by-merck?utm_source.. In the search for the silver lining in all this madness: As long as it is not mandatory to BE sick (though it looks like it thanks to childhood vaxes), you can take care of your own health. As long as you can buy or harvest the food you want. As long as doctors are allowed to make their own diagnosis, without Having To check on a list of pre-established illnesses outside of which 'nothing exists' (according to the world dictatorship), there is still freedom to call any illness whatever you want in your own practice and thus prescribe any treatment you want.

Obviously we shouldn't have to jump through such loopholes. But as discussed with others, I'd gladly turn away from the official evil system and call myself a private healer with zero guarantee of effectiveness (to please the illness cabal), only charge for my services without ever having to buy approved harma products (they still can't patent natural products although fresh cow milk is already forbidden in some states). Private health clubs without even calling it that.

They're also giving us a clue about what needs to be added to the next constitution: a lot! But of course that won't be allowed, the game is rigged more everyday to put the master in a god position. Allowing the immoral to happen, to be written in dictated laws, is self destructive and we have the choice between destruction in the long run, or a smaller price but which has to be paid directly. There are no heroes without lots and lots of pain. Or with unblemished karma either.

Being peaceful, I fall in the trap of believing you can win a war against evil without sacrifice or bloodshed on both sides. I can only hope mankind sheds no more than necessary and can see where the true evil lies. In ourself, and in those exploiting it. There's nothing to exploit in a society of self-knowledge and acceptance, only a society of fools can be trapped. Evil self-destructs in the long run, the matrix is programmed like that. Truth is love and demands effort.

The key to what you say is "as long as". Once there is no more hard currency, 2A or private medical care, your options are gone. The key is understanding that power we hold since we greatly outnumber those who would destroy us. All it would take is for the masses to refuse to comply and enough business leaders in key positions to resign.

With the CBDCCD, control of citizen movements is projected. The restrictions are also affecting the health system and will increase with the control of where the money is spent, with the punishment of the medical class that promotes alarmative treatments, the control of supplements by government institutions will impose severe restrictions on Alternative Medicines . But people are waking up. An increasing number of people are losing trust in the main communication channels. Official sources have flagrant political, industrial and ideological agendas that misrepresent facts and misrepresent events.

The rise in popularity of independent media shows that people are more questioning and making their own decisions about important issues, history, medical decisions, and current events.

greenwald.substack.com/.../journalists-start-demanding-substack The courageous determination of people, in democracies around the world, who publicly defend civil liberties (freedom of thought, expression, conscience and assembly) and the human right to informed consent to take medical risks, demonstrates that the spirit of freedom lives in the hearts and the minds of people everywhere. "What we have here is failure to communicate," or even worse than failure, a complete intolerance of legitimate questions or even actual facts and data that contradict and disprove the standing policy of the medical establishment. The quacks are running the institutions. The medical profession is being crushed by a tyrannical group of health organizations that is undermining the knowledge and wisdom of experienced medical doctors, and has ordered forced compliance to the entire profession. "Do no harm" has turned into 'Do as you're told' or lose your job and career.

Well, what is happening is a systematic plan of world domination by a clique of elitist control freaks to take over human life from conception to death. They will succeed if each and every one of us does not resist and push back. It's the final tug of war between the forces of good and evil. You may have to make sacrifices and change your way of life to defeat those who want to destroy you. They can only win if you let them. pixels.com/.../aye-magine

It seems a spontaneously evolving grassroots 'parallel' healthcare system is growing in every state in America. Licensed and formerly licensed doctors, nurses, therapists of all kinds, are banding together to offer out-of-hospital, out-of-insurance company services to provide continuity of care, especially to those who were/are discriminated against for not submitting to 'vaccination'. Bartering, house calls, and whatever special adjustments are needed, are underpinning this network of dedicated practitioners. Many have given up their licenses as a token of their disgust for the licensing government agencies, and do not want to be under their jurisdiction. The System needs the practitioners; the practitioners don't need, and never did need, the System. The relationship of healer and patient should never have been pimped by opportunists.

or contradicts "contemporary scientific consensus," Consensus is completely counter to scientific method! Real science requires reproducible PROOF that a hypothesis is accurate & reliably true in every instance. Consensus is anti-science! It is only useful in Political "Science" which is a "science" of MANIPULATING THE MASSES. How can anyone imagine that a mob will arrive at an accurate law of science. Have you forgotten how Dr. Ignaz Semmelweis died in a psychiatric hospital because he told physicians they needed to wash their hands after dissecting cadavers & before delivering babies.

The CONSENSUS was that hand-washing was silly & he was insane. Do you want to return to what the consensus demanded? How about the consensus when Galileo said that the earth orbits the sun instead of the sun orbiting the earth. Consensus is NOT valid science & is NOT a reliable standard over logic & proof! It is one of the manipulative tactics used by political science, propagandists, & scammers. Do you really want a "science" driven by consensus. Einstein did not. He said that it would take only one single person with actual proof to show that he was wrong.

There may be a little window of hope here. The AMA actually came out IN FAVOR of Newsome's idea that doctors are simply mouthpieces for the CDC. I do not think even the most liberal of physicians are behind that law, and would be incensed that the AMA is representing doctors in such a vile manner. I'm a member of the AMA, simply because being a member offers deep discounts on my disability and life insurance policies. Clever, huh? But the AMA does not represent what physicians actually believe, and that is what people may not realize. I'm sure the same is true for teachers' unions, etc. it is a brilliant strategy to sway public opinion.

Thanks for pointing that out Deb. I had a similar experience in 2010 as a new mayor of a small town in California. The League of Cities holds their "newly electeds training" under the guise of teaching protocols, rules of order, legislative process, etc. Our lunchtime speaker one day was newly elected Governor, Jerry Brown. He spoke about his vision and what he hoped to accomplish during his term. As soon as he left the room, the League of Cities representative got up and said we will do everything in our power to see that he doesn't accomplish anything. There had not been any poll of the hundreds of elected councilmembers and mayors of every city. The League of Cities had an agenda that we were all intended to go along with. It was shocking. People don't understand that it is INSTITUTIONS(WEF/WHO) and SYSTEMS (legal and government codes) that are in charge. Neither Biden/Trump or any President has been in charge since JFK or even before him.

The manipulators behind the scene will test the boundaries of what they can get away with using the networks they have created. They underestimate the need to create balance or harmony in life. Their own actions causes others to rise up against them. The public trust in Big Pharma and government policies are on a downward trend and alternative movements upwards and rising until they reach political influence no matter what laws are made against them. If surveillance systems are inevitable then so must privacy laws to match it and the rise of political figures to champion it.

The bank system that traces you will be offset by a need for a system within that will create privacy of spending. The need for balance and freedom is innate and any political figure that would oppose the surveillance narrative will gain support over time and the more injustice that is seen the more it will draw attention and defiance. Dr Keriarty intends to stay within the system and so will many others and what may start as a spark can be become an unlikely fire if fuelled by enough injustice.

They have been "normalizing" vaccine reactions for decades. The student doctors are told these may/will happen. It's expected; no longer do they understand, which would occur with critical thinking skills, that these reactions are actually signs and symptoms of systemic body/brain injury. It is frightening to me they are unable to grasp this simple concept at this point. Pharmaceutical influence has destroyed their educational institutions, materials, and curriculum as well as the instructors themselves. The Tylenol they are told to recommend for vaccine reactions is now linked to autism by real scientific research.

As a doctor of chiropractic, I get some of these professionals as patients. They are mostly unable to believe or see that their health comes from within and that they can have excellent health without pharmaceuticals. Very few of them are able to break free of this indoctrination fully. I see the struggle in their eyes. They usually find some reason to stop coming in, I believe, because the cognitive dissonance of what we represent and what they are taught is too uncomfortable and profound to overcome. It will take generations to correct this, and the same for the patients who are invested in the "sick care" model.

I would like to suggest that while localization and communities are good ideas, that they will not be a solution. As long as the controllers are calling the shots, have all the money, the military, the media, the institutions, and agencies like the CIA, all plans like above are not going to be of any value. Because they will not be allowed. As you state in this interview, digital currency, vaccine mandates, etc. will trap humanity inescapably. So, it seems to me that first we must find a way to break through the wall of propaganda, restructure all governments from vertical to horizontal (www.youtube.com/watch) to rid us of gov't.

corruption, closing the door to economic hitmen (www.youtube.com/watch) with extreme transparency, no more politicians, bottom up. We could coordinate world protests and strikes with some of the encrypted apps with this singular demand (horizontal governance). First things first. No one hardly is into confronting the elephant in the room, which is necessary if we are to actually succeed in the monumental battle for freedom that we must fight and to never allow them to get a foothold into world-wide totalitarianism, through vaccine mandates ala WHO, or digital currencies, etc.

How is this all a big surprise? Data collection & data mining has become the most lucrative industry ever, thanks to everyone abandoning their autonomy, privacy & security for the "free" apps & "freedom" of the iOS Apple & Google android platforms. Through 'tacit agreement' (user must allow permissions to access everything on the phone for things to work - a form of coercion), people never questioned it & couldn't willingly give their privacy & freedom away fast enough. The massive "free pot of gold" that appeared virtually overnight was the dream of tyrants, con's, politicians, big business, exploiters, psychopaths, criminals, pedophiles & the power hungry.

What could possibly go wrong?!! (sarc) The 'Big Fraud' plandemic worked exactly the same way, with only the minor tweak of death fear-mongering tactics to get the masses to give up their autonomy, rights & freedoms for a "free" job that people willingly lined up for. Just history repeating itself.... It almost seems like people secretly enjoy being abused sheep & don't care who the shepherd's are.

Good/scary article. The antidote to CBDC's exists in the form of BTC. Only discussed briefly with more time postulating bartering of chickens as a solution. Since CBDC's are by far the biggest threat you need to focus more on BTC education and awareness

We have had the DOD declare a bioweapons attack (fake covid 19) and in order to protect us use big pharma to supply the protection and cure...such as mRNA gene altering poisons. It failed miserably. Not one person was saved from anything. Now WHO, with it's pandemic treaty, will step in and attempt to control the world with invented medical emergencies forcing everyone either to get injected or be sent to slave camps. Either way, you die. So yes, it is pure medical terrorism and it's goal must be depopulation or slavery if they allow you to stay alive. If you survive, you will be turned into a Borg-like transhuman.

I can't speak out against it for the same reasons, which is infuriating when arguing with people who don't care to either do or understand research but happen to be your boss. The people who know, know.

Tek don't waste your time "arguing" with people..Just raises your stress levels.. Everyone has free will, their choice is there's..Say what you have to say, do what you have to do and move on..And yes I get it in dealing with those top notch bosses is a real challenge.. You remembered the story of all of the organs vying to see whose in charge..Yep, as expected, the rectum or the ass is always in charge..Live, love laugh and move on:).

Regarding medical exemptions, it was much the same in Australia, (almost like they were singing from the same hymn sheet). Quotes below from 9 March 2021. National Boards' position on COVID-19 vaccination for registered health practitioners "Vaccination is a crucial part of the public health response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Many registered health practitioners will have a vital role in COVID-19 vaccination programs and in educating the public about the importance and safety of COVID-19 vaccines to ensure high participation rates. " "Any promotion of anti-vaccination statements or health advice which contradicts the best available scientific evidence or seeks to actively undermine the national immunisation campaign (including via social media) is not supported by National Boards and may be in breach of the codes of conduct and subject to investigation and possible regulatory action."

Here's a horror story. Just today, my husband was speaking with a public health care worker after she got off work. He made a sarcastic comment about the jab. She expressed buyer's regret over having taken it--but said, only once before she got smart. She says she is not allowed to say anything against the jab on the job. However, she is very conscientious about asking patients if they have done their research and due diligence, trying to discourage them as much as possible. She said she was horrified when a man came in demanding his 8th shot! How is this even possible? I recall this quote, "Humans, as a species, are not all that intelligent."

Doesn't this concern arising from an impending Californian law pale in importance compared to the threat of the part (19 pages) of the recently passed 1.7 trillion dollar Omnibus bill pertaining to off-label drugs? The latter law would codify prohibitions of doctor prescriptions for off-label drugs at the Federal level, affecting the entire United States.

It all matters. More concerning to me is the WHO seeking the power to declare pandemics and force all countries to comply.

To cdbevis1: Well, yes, I know it matters, but for most of us living in states outside of California, its laws might probably take on a lower priority than that anti-off-label provision that's part of the recently passed Omnibus bill. Maybe I wouldn't feel so concerned about that if I knew how effectively its provisions could become implemented and interfere with my preferred alternative med supplements. Regarding the WHO, I believe their plans are likely to trigger a quicker, more vigorous pushback by the United States as a whole, at all levels.

Seems to me its high time all these worldwde health profesionals stood up and declared which side of the fence they are on its either stand up now or face the wrath of the people later, there will be two types of medical personel in the next couple of years those that stood by humanity and those that let them down for what a few pennies and a percieved job security that is about to become extinct, to all those medical personel who may read this make your choice now you dont have much time left, much love to all.

hi john, That is, if there are people later. They can lock us up again any time, society still hasn't learned to overthrow. Western society is allowed to calm down to be indoctrinated to view those who called for action against the cabal as alarmist wackos. Even amongst those who lost a relative or their health, I see many fools who'd rather comply, than resist. We realize the indoctrinating, zombieifying power of the media, especially tv when we see relatives, who after 3 years of our deprogramming attempts, still put the blame on the dissenters.

I cannot see this horryfying takeover of (lazy?) minds end, even if we sacrifice ourself. I'm no hero so I won't. It looks like some people, you just have to let go and accept that there is no salvation. For ex. all those who'd rather die of 'cancer' 'treatment' than face the potential ridiculing by their 'doctor'. It's sad, but some who chose the (self) destructive path really only want to go down it while dragging as many along.

I guess the elite is rubbing that in our faces. Do we blame them, or do we blame personal flaws of those concerned? No good answers, only debatable wisdom. Unfortunately I think this is no natural thinning of the herd. I think the technocrazy is going towards self destruction, as with previous civilizations outside of official recorded bogus history (1st here on this planet, 1st to evolve, 1st to achieve this and that and maybe 'aliens' have a tech edge but no more than 50 years or so, for no apparent reason...).

Those that collaborated will be disposed of, evil likes to erase its tracks and go nestle in the opposite camp to start over once again. Hence we should always be vigilant and not believe that 'from this moment on, evil is extinct and we'll never have to worry about it'. Evil has a place in the equilibrium and is immortal. Love/truth and logic saves, but some are immune to it. Emotions are made to react to real life in front of you that require immediate action. Not to tv or data.

Please stop with the term "lockdown". They cannot "lock us up" again as they never have. That gives the enemy artificial power. Want to see a real lockdown? Move to an area in China where the people are incarcerated in their homes and can be murdered for stepping outside. Nobody locked you in your home from the outside and left with the key. I have not changed my daily activities one iota since 2019 and refuse to in the future. Today I go back to visit a friend in the local hospital. No fun battling the maskholes and maskaholics but I still have never worn one. By the way, yesterday evening at 6:50, my car was the only one in the lot. I was the only visitor and my friend was the only patient on the entire floor! Smack dab in the middle of the flu season, oh and a pandemic.

Have you heard about the daughter of the king of Thailand, she fell into a coma shortly after the jab and 3 weeks later she is still down... the king has now declared to null and void his contract with Pfizer for fraud (which is doable), he is going to make the people whole who took the jab, short video here: www.newstreason.com/post/thai-princess-struck-down-by-pfizer-jab-count.. Yes! There is somewhere to move and be safe!

"I think we need to start thinking small and local, and to develop strong face-to-face communities of communication, interaction, mutual support and exchange. " Have lived in in one place now for 25 years. It's a hermit colony. People are frightened if you say hello when walking on the road. One day, [in 2021] I was walking past a woman in her 20's and as I passed she pulled her hat down to her collarbone and walked blinded until I passed. These folks are middle class to upper crust. It's surreal and It's hopeless frankly.

Yep! At the beginning of Covid, I took a walk in the woods on a 10' wide trail in our state park. Naturally, I wore no mask. A masked woman on the trail stepped off the trail and did an about-face. I guess she thought I was a black plague carrier who was going to get in her face. Oh yes, our town pretends to fulfill that "..small and local....." but its pretend only. Sounds like paradise to actually be able to talk without being ostracized because of my conservative, thinking beliefs. Masks are still aplenty here, and our county in WA state has the most Covid cases AND the most vaxxed (and it isn't in a major metropolitan city!). Our county's public health official deems we are in danger despite the stats. She is right there with our Gov. Inslee.
