It is so gratifying that both Dr Mercola and Robert F Kennedy Jr have the courage to speak out against the atrocities now being openly committed against citizens, by governments around the world.

"Bill Gates is building a data center ... that will be able to take the data on your Alexa in your home". Really? Who signed the building warrant for this? I don't know about US laws but in the UK we have (on paper, at least) data protection laws to protect personal information from unauthorised use and you must obtain a building warrant from your local Council's building control authority before your building plan and its use can proceed. www.gov.uk/data-protection . "Bill Gates brags that his satellites will be able to monitor every square inch of the planet 24 hours a day". Really? Again, what about data protection laws? Does his real estate (aka planet earth) include the stratosphere and who issues licences for this? Is there nowhere left even in the cosmos that money can't buy? Why bother electing governments if they do not represent our interests? There is a word for this state of affairs: anarchy.

"We want to see the studies on hydroxychloroquine" implores Robt Kennedy Jr. We know already about the HCQ studies that were deliberately designed to fail. A well worn internet search reveals many have long since discovered Fauci's own official NIH publication - Virology Journal study on HCQ in 2005 which states " We have identified chloroquine as an effective anti-viral agent for SARS-COV" ... prior to infection or after the initiation and establishment of infection". This article has not been retracted and Dr Fauci has known for the last 15 years that HCQ is effective against corona viruses both therapeutically and prophylactically. Sad to say, he has blood on his hands and should be tried in a court of law to answer for his actions. "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself" - needs a rewrite now: "The only three things we have to fear is fear itself, elected governments and self appointed governments".

Some really great posts here, in addition to Dr. Mercola's always great articles. At 83, I don't claim to have the sharpness and clarity of mind as many of those who post regularly, but I think I can attest to the fact that taking charge of one's health is the best health insurance. I feel certain that I had this current virus back in March, since I had all the symptoms, and it was the first time I had felt ill since I beat the flu six years earlier. Being in the high risk group for both, I loaded down both times with extra vitamin C, up to 50,000 mg a day, quercetin, and elderberry syrup and, of course, stayed away from all junk and drugs. In addition, I have been taking mega doses of vitamin C daily for the past 55 years or so. Many thanks to all for your great posts and links.

Yes, katguy - indeed there are many other highly qualified people speaking out, despite the real risks in a world seemingly run by tyrants and their lackeys. And absolutely we need to step up too. Thankfully that is now happening in large numbers at protests around the world. Even in Melbourne, Australia, where lockdowns are the most severe and repressive there have been anywhere, brave souls are risking, and suffering, police brutality by participating in public protests. But we still need many more people waking up and taking action if we are to thwart the plans of TPT(shouldn't)B.

ColdTurkey - Good on you! I wish you many more good years, taking charge of your own health. My Dad just turned 90, and is also still healthy, and living independently, thanks to taking responsibility for his own health. He also takes supplements, and refuses flu shots and other toxic pharma drugs. And he grows many of his own fruits and veges organically - which keeps him fit as well as healthy. That's an example I think we should all be aiming to follow.

Nadine17 - that all depends on your own situation and circumstances. Here are a few suggestions that might work for you. 1. Forward this Dr Mercola article, along with a link to Children's Health Defense: childrenshealthdefense.org to family and friends. 2. Research and inform yourself, till you feel confident speaking out. Note, this is not always easy in today's era of 'fake news,' and censorship of anyone who speaks against the mainstream narrative - especially when search engines like Goo..e use algorithms to bury alternative or dissenting views and information.

3. Alert family, friends and others about what you have learned whenever the opportunity arises. But you'll need to steel yourself to being called a 'conspiracy theorist' by those who can't see past government and mainstream media propaganda.

4. Write to, or phone your representatives in government, stating your views and concerns - backed up with evidence from credible sources, such as the many reputable doctors, scientists and other highly qualified people who have spoken out against what is going on.

5. Join protests if they are organized by trustworthy groups or activists. Or if you are confident enough, and have the resources, form a group yourself, and organize your own protests. And that doesn't necessarily mean rallies or marches. It can also mean organized letter writing campaigns, or letterbox drops, or placing of posters/information leaflets where they will be seen by members of the public, and so on.

This is a war of attrition waged in the guise of a protracted pandemic response. It began for me in Tokyo, mid February. Passengers confined to their docked cruise ships were among the few absentees in an onshore run on toilet paper. No one insisted I wear a mask, even though it's closer to a cultural norm in Japan, but I was beginning to wonder if there would be problems getting back home. It all seems like a lifetime ago.

This is a war of attrition. A two week lockdown is now over half a year. Despite all of the viable therapies and preventatives cited by Dr. Mercola and many genuine authorities, we're supposed to wait for a vaccine, a never seen mRNA coronavirus vaccine, a legendary beast of questionable reality. Those sustained by the hope of its appearance don't weigh the passing of time. It's significant that this effort is called "Warp Speed, since their terms are all inverted: truth is "conspiracy theory"; natural health is "alternative"; criminals and tyrants are "health authorities"; imprisoning and destroying lives is "safety"; loss of life is "gain of function"; lack of double-blind placebo testing is "science."

So what is "warp speed"? A war of attrition. It weaponizes time. It is designed to wear away questioning and critical thinking, to fog over memory of a time when none of this would've been considered reasonable, let alone normal. It's human nature to allow expediency to compel new habits. That's an exploitable feature of our nature; new habits are personal new normals. But who chooses a "new normal" of contact tracing, immunity passports, masks, social distancing, pharmaceutical tyranny and other items on a Technocratic, Transhumanist wish list? Freedom means we each have a say in our normals. Normally, we write here to share useful information and to expose lies and hypocrisies. But when the tactic is to attack memory, to gradually herd us unaware into tighter controls, we also write to hold firm. We write to remember.

Yes, DARZOOM, the virus of fear. "It is incumbent on a great nation to remain confident, if it wishes to remain free. We need not be ignorant to real threats to our safety, against which we must remain vigilant. We need only to banish to the ash heap of history the notion that we ought to be ruled by our fears and those who use them to enhance their own power". Ron Paul "Today, we also have something no previous tyrant has had, namely the technology to track, trace, control and manipulate individuals wherever they live". Government institutions, BigPharma and corrupt oligarchies have a voice with COVID greatly amplified by the news of fear from the media subjected to the rule of the ruling class, which reminds us that we can get sick and die. We are in a state of psychological fear, divorced from any danger, and we take various forms: worry, anxiety, nerves, tension, fear, etc.

This period of conflict will last only as long as you hold on to feelings and emotions of fear. Let us be attentive to become aware that in a malicious situation who has entered our mind. Fear spreads faster than the worst virus. People have been ruined based on misinformation and fear and illegality of a fake pandemic created from a proprietary virus, giving up solid science and accurate statistics and purposely lied to so that the elites can gain control of our sovereignty. President Franklin Roosevelt stated that "the only thing we have to fear is fear itself" and, as Albrecht comments almost in tongue-twister form, "fear of fear probably causes more problems in our lives than fear itself." The fear of contagion leads us to be more conformist, to the point of believing in the predictions of the false scientific investigation handled by the Pharmaceutical Mafia and its promoters, which lead to much more profound social and psychological changes, promoted by fear.

Part of humanity is lost in a labyrinth of missing news, it is dazzled by lies and the anxiety of death. The only fear of the new world order of the loss of rights and freedoms, the economic crisis, poverty, increased inequalities and a possible mandatory vaccine. Fear of discovering that the scaffolding of civilization that is being forged is a house of cards. In the second episode of second season of "TRUTH" with Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., Mr. Kennedy interviewed life coach and internet comedian J. P. Sears. The two had a lively and thought-provoking conversation that centered on several themes relevant to the COVID crisis including:

How censorship leads to totalitarianism and the importance of the First Amendment, Children's Health Defense's lawsuit against Facebook. Keeping a healthy attitude in troubling times. The toll on human life from deaths of despair vs. the coronavirus. The physical and societal impacts of mask mandates. The consequences of living in fear. Long over due, Time to pull the Weeds of Greed. When we move to heal OUR GARDEN, Planet Earth, if we pull out as many of their tools of compliance through supposed convenience, perhaps we can rediscover our True Nature & build anywhere in our lives we can to shut down "their 'Food Supply' $$$$ , Power & Control. Now that more are seeing the Handwriting on the Wall, if we keep in mind we don't need 100%, what we need is enough. When we heal the Garden, we heal ourselves, we heal how our community's function & this heals our Societies as to be able to Ignore the current sick Power Structure. We can not fight sickness with sickness. We can attempt to heal ourselves & each other. Part of the current power structures game plan has been to roll up 'Spit Ball's' for us to throw at one another & then to fight in the streets over their poison fed to us, so they can in turn charge in and "save us."

Many do not understand the Amish. Some think them to be hypocrites & with many sects among them having different practices do not see them as having different community's with different needs. If the memory is working Wendell Barry had piece explaining their Church & Community are enmeshed & what they decide to do as individuals is filtered through their foundation of church & community & how is this decision going to affect them all. Indigenous peoples here had a similar drive with any decisions made now had to be made in mind how it will affect the next seven generations. As we have been living in and can see, this culture has an anything goes as long as it feeds $$$, status, power & control regardless the destruction to anything else. let them have it & the destruction is theirs. We can turn away, heal & build a New Earth

Terrible CMS. We are like the unconscious victim of the joke gradually maneuvered into increasingly ridiculous behavior. This pandemic is created and patented, and a new world order threatens us and that is reaching a police control that develops with terrorist acts. The closure of healthy and asymptomatic people throughout society is not the way to fight a pandemic; prolonged blockages to flatten the curve actually prevent the timely development of natural herd immunity. Masks create psychological and health problems. The world is mired in an economic crisis and it seems that the situation is the fines that increase fear. The capital of Italy punishes those who do not protect themselves in closed places or in transport with penalties ranging from 400 to 3,000 euros. It is closely followed by Brussels with economic penalties of 250 euros and Athens and Sofia close the podium, both with fines of 150 euros. All Europe is with masks and fines, the new confinements will probably come with the flu, whose deaths will add to deaths from COVID-19.

Hi CMS-72 You've summed the situation up eloquently. So many people in a Media-Imposed-Trance and oblivious to the real Agenda, and generally when you try to point it out no-one seems to want to know. Someone said "It ain't the things we don't know that causes all the trouble. It's the things we do know, that ain't so". And so many of the public thanks to the MSM know such a lot that just ain't so... Thanks GUI for highlighting so much of what is going on. Let's hope tide will turn soon. @health_activist some of the police methods are worthy of the Stasi. I think the mask helps take away their individuality. When I was a kid the only people who wore masks were bank robbers. This is disturbing link to add to yours of a brave guy refusing to take off his mask. Coincidentally on the day I received a letter from my Member of Parliament telling me the British Government was "keeping me safe", I was drafting my reply headed "Poisoning us with Fear", - at which point Dr Mercola's email arrived quoting Robert F Kennedy Jnr. Both I consider brave heroes for Truth. I wrote back to my MP: " I did receive a letter from someone in some department who said that the Gov is working day and night to keep us safe. I can only surmise that they are completely delusional. " Keeping us safe":??? By sending 1000's of infected Covid patients back to die alone in care homes Closing hospitals to thousands of desperate long suffering patients. Locking down catastrophically causing more deaths than Covid. Demonizing life-saving drugs like Hydroxychloroquine Vit D &c Spending millions of public money on vaccines that have NEVER worked on corona viruses. Callously masking and terrifying the populace using complicit media & compliant behaviour techniques.

Quarantining the healthy - consequently damaging their immune health. Using PCR testing whose inventor Kary Mullis said "Please do not use this as a diagnostic test." Deceitfully conflating "cases" with "deaths". Ruining millions of lives. And don't mention Sweden - (500 people can meet up there) - because we're headed for police state Aussie style instead. And why? Because this foul obnoxious Government have dug such a bottomless pit of lies and corruption and are now desperately trying to bury the Truth along with our Democracy, Health and Freedom by POISONING US WITH FEAR"" As for asymptomatic transmission goes?. ## Maritt

Sadly the UK government is currently ramping up their fear-mongering that a so-called second wave is on the way - we did not even have a proper first wave. Patients were discharged from hospitals into care homes where many died from Covid but also other reasons such as neglect, dehydration, loneliness etc. Most deaths were ascribed to Covid, despite the fact that they were not tested for Covid. At this stage it is still impossible to visit relatives in care homes, so these poor people have been neglected and isolated (think similar to being in prison) for more than 6 months and there is no end in sight.

Testing (PCR) has also been increased and as this test is not reliable for this purpose many are false positives. The Government and media calls it 'cases' instead of 'positive tests', however despite an increase in positive tests the hospitalisation rates and death rates are extremely low and stays low. The Health Minister stated on radio that the false positive rate (FPR) is below 1% and then using this, incorrectly calculated the number of false positives to be 700% (yes seven hundred) lower than it is. No wonder they get away with all this number trickery. This is a great video that explains how the FPR should be calculated twitter.com/.../1307257907017383937 Also see video 'Oxford Professor explains the Covid Testing Scam www.youtube.com/watch">https://.../watch?v=hVdcfu40yR4 The following video "Corona - the simple truth in under 6 minutes" is highly recommended. Thanks Maritt for your helpful post and for ALL your links. Brilliant reply to your MP, NewlandsWanderer. I wonder if you will get a reply. Vaccines our Prime Minister wants to make 'as mandatory as possible' - which means using tyrannical coercion, as they are already doing through their 'No Jab, No Pay/Play' legislation for the numerous vaccines on our current childhood schedule. Who would have ever thought we would be living under such tyranny, as is happening in Australia now? Also, thank you everyone else on this thread for your great comments and links.

Most excellent article, Dr. Mercola! Now; if we could just get the oblivious masses to read this article and listen to the interviews. I've basically said since the beginning of this insanity that this is NOT about a virus. Agenda 21 is being expedited/accelerated, right under people's noses. Agenda 21 and the NWO, is what this nonsense is all about!

POLL: How many of you have been sick (with anything) during this time? How many of your friends and acquaintances have been sick? I'm not talking about "a friend of a friend who was in hospital with covid". It should be obvious by now that the "numbers" are totally manipulated/fabricated by the "authorities". I look around me and still see no evidence of this virus (whatever it is). If people aren't sick by this virus by now, they're not going to be...It just makes sense to me! BTW: In case you missed it; I've taken absolutely no "precautions" against this "deadly virus" this entire time; so, please don't tell me that masks and social distancing are "keeping people safe". Like you, I'm not seeing sick people, dead bodies littering the streets or packed hospitals with C-19 patients....turn off the news, look around and it's life as usual. Except that everyone has these ridiculous masks on. I keep hearing we need to stay positive, but it's getting harder by the day. Other than online I have yet to meet ANYONE else personally who's standing up to this. Randy, in answer to your poll: zero & zero. I take no precautions beyond my regular healthy choices and at 65 am supposedly closer to the riskier age groups; I wouldn't dream of asking anyone to wear a mask on my behalf, let alone little children trying to live out a normal childhood running around and getting their hands dirty. A quarantine is supposed to be for people who are sick, and I'm all for caring for those people who need the care. I'm not for shutting down the world, and people's lives and livelihoods so some corrupt technocratic tyrants can throw their weight around. As RFK jr. and others have pointed out, the lockdown is deadlier than the "virus."

okay Randyfast, It's me again and yes I got it, in Waikiki Beach living in a high rise hotel filled with Chinese tourists in Jan.. I got it in the elevator, always packed and always someone sneezing, coughing. Yet Hawaii's official death toll is 24.... I assume they didn't get the memo about how the CDC changed the reporting system for covid. First symptom was hic-cups, had them hard for a hour or more. I was never "sick", just a lot less energy, as there are no pains, just loss of breath. I sweat all night, coughed, sneezed and spit constantly, got pink eye and had massive hair loss, lasted 6 weeks although hair loss and fever lasted some 2+ months.

I was in Hawaii to recover from open heart surgery, so I was vulnerable, and I hadn't been outside (vitamin D) much. My blood type is A+ which means I am more susceptible to the virus, my husband has type O which means he is less likely to get it and he didn't. And I was 70 years old. We are both quite fit. I've had two people tell me they know someone who has/had it, one died, both of these people I put in the alarmist group. My small town has had two people die WITH covid, or so they say. BTW, I don't wear a mask (except to enter a store and it is very loose around my chin), wash my hands any differently than before, never use hand sanitizer.

Randyfast, I absolutely agree. And my alarm bells also rang from the very beginning. As soon as they announced a 'pandemic' when there were so few cases anywhere, I knew this was about mandatory vaccination - which of course is part of the NWO agenda. I have written several letters (first one way back in March) raising my concerns with our Prime Minister, State Premier, and all our federal and my state Members of Parliament and Senators - and including evidence for my concerns from a number of experts who were already speaking out at the time, but being ignored by governments and censored in the media.

I have had very few replies, of course. The first reply was from a federal MP who accused me of spreading misinformation which would make me responsible for people's deaths. Since then I've had two 'generic' replies, neither of which addressed any of my questions or concerns - but instead pushed the government propaganda, and the coming vaccine. Like you, I don't know of anyone who has had COVID - but I do know a lot of people who have suffered severe stress because of the restrictions and loss of earnings, and in some cases because of the fear-mongering from the government and media, which they couldn't see beyond (because they see me as 'just a conspiracy theorist').

Thankfully mask wearing hasn't been made mandatory in our state - because we have had almost no deaths and only a few 'cases' - despite their calls to get everyone tested so they could inflate the numbers. But alarmingly, every time I go out I see other people wearing masks - even walking in the park, and alone in their cars! There's no hope at all for them!

Hi Randy. Many in the truth community agree with you and have also accessed that the BS corona( crown in Spanish, first claimed case in Seattle in the US by msm in Kings county) virus exists primarily on TV if one never watched any screens barely a sneeze is out there( and the two a heard were from spring allergies LOL) That's why the mask ritual is so important to the tyrants in control ( Jesuit Order/military sect ) the mask keeps the sleepers in fear/compliance and consent to believe in the LIE. And the controllers are people of the LIE. Psychopaths and evil to the core. Watching Bill Gates smile when talking about Covid deaths and the "second wave" is telling enough of the mindset we are dealing with. And Gates Fauci Newsom and the other faces in the news are mostly the puppets for those in higher positions of power.

For Europeans on the blog today, here's one part of this ongoing lie explained, as outlined by Dr John Campbell, (no idea who he is) - up late watching "Trace Amounts" and somehow his analysis of cases vs death numbers for the UK and Germany came up, see for yourself, this is fairly simple, certainly not rocket science! www.bitchute.com/.../ZLrMwvnZGhzS - in my view, this "thing" has been over for some time now, yet govts have no vision or plan to turn off all their measures, now their plan lacks substance, so what's next?

Guillermou

Yes, ROSE I believe that more than ever, we are not in a pandemic, even though people's control is governed by fear and it seems that Europe has not learned its lesson and will continue with drastic measures. There are three parameters that influence the calculation of fatality: the number of cases, the number of deaths, and time. In the case of Spain, it may have generalization aspects in some European countries. In the initial moments, detection was focused on the most severe cases, including the presence of symptoms in the case definition, so asymptomatic patients were not considered in the count. Furthermore, in recent months tests have been carried out in vulnerable populations in the context of outbreaks, or prior to some assistance actions.

To this is added that the characteristics of those affected have changed. Thus, in week 32 (August 2020) the highest accumulated incidents were presented by groups under 60 years of age, the group with the highest incidence being those between 15 and 29 years of age. Nightlife and tourism have led to an increased risk with asymptomatic cases and an increase in the transmission of the disease.

As of May 10, 72.3% of cases had at least one symptom of the disease and 64.6% suffered from one or more diseases and risk factors. Since May 11, the proportion of those who had symptoms of the disease has decreased to 56%, and in terms of diseases and risk factors present in the cases, a decrease is also observed, since 9% had disease cardiovascular disease, 4% diabetes and 2.6% respiratory disease. Detection is increasingly early, which implies that the severity of cases is, in principle, less. In mid-May there were six days that elapsed between the onset of symptoms and diagnosis, while in mid-August this time has been reduced to three days. The severity of the cases, measured by the need for admission to hospital or to the Intensive Care Unit (ICU), has improved substantially.

Guillermou

From May 10 to August, 5.3% of the cases required hospitalization and 0.4% admission to the ICU. On the other hand, in the period from the onset of the pandemic to May 10, these percentages were much higher: 44% of cases required hospitalization and 5.3% admission to the ICU. Also the greater experience in the management of patients, which has allowed to introduce and implement greater care and life support and to treat the complications triggered during the disease. Finally, the "harvest effect" must also be considered.

This is how the advance in the number of deaths is called when the disease fundamentally affects the most vulnerable people due to their comorbidity or pre-existing conditions, that is, mortality increases at a specific time at the expense of the death of people whose death, in the absence of that phenomenon or disease, presumably, would have also occurred at a relatively near time due to their situation of fragility or vulnerability. If this effect occurs, the excess deaths are followed by a decrease in mortality in subsequent time p/ints. In the case of covid-19, this effect would explain, at least in part, the decrease in mortality in the months after spring. We can conclude by saying that it is not infrequent that, at the beginning of an epidemic outbreak, an epidemic or a pandemic, the fatality figures are higher and subsequently decrease.

This effect has been described after severe flu seasons or also with environmental phenomena such as heat waves. In this regard, herd immunization has increased over time. According to Johns Hopkins University, the fatality rate for infected people is 0.4% in Spain; in France 0.3%; in the United Kingdom by 0.8%; and in Italy by 0.6%, taking into account that each country has had deaths with different methodologies, approximately 15 times less than in the months with the highest fatality rate. Obviously this number is lower if we consider that many deaths come from complications from chronic diseases.

Gui, I posted this link because its not just Dr Campbell, but also Ivor Cummins has a slightly different set of charts, showing nearly the same thing...if you are under age 70, there is no more pandemic in the EU, yet govts are getting ready to vaccinate children and young adults next year? If we can so easily see the large disconnect, imagine if 3% of the population starts to see this. What's next?

Years ago on an american military website there was a statistic stating that in 2025 50 million people were living in the USA. Germany and Spain also reduced by large numbers, The Netherlands not that much. Although some people shared this, most people prefer to not feel negative feelings. The New Age movement, downloaded by CIA or Illuminati, just like the did Feminism, contributed to this mandatory happy feeling and abandoning of all that had mental health issues, serious traumas or just felt depressed and negative. NLP literally taught that to their students in courses. We needed to identify with the likes of Warren Buffett, Oprah Winfrey and other that were wealthy and break of contact with the rest. All of our brains were mindprogrammed in MK Ultra like mindprogramming. The Simpsons literally foretell the disasters that will happen in the future.

Children's cartoons full of sexual inuendo, incl. hidden penises. Now new laws are being made to reduce the age of consent and to make children independent from parents, called selfresponsible in the Netherlands, at the age of 12. Parental consent will not be needed for vaccins and pedofilic sex tries again to become a legitimate political party in the Netherlands and even tried to be entered in the DSM as normal sexual orientation. We are talking about young children. Comparison is that if a young child can say yes to an icecream at 4 it can say yes to sex with an adult. Children are being sexualised at an ever increasing younger age. 800.000 disappearances yearly in the USA. Childtrafficking on the rise, esp. during Covid, Satanic rituals sacrificing babies, raping of minors etc. etc.

UK research claims 2700 deaths per week due to Lockdown. Many of those suicides. German pathologist finds 100 % of corpses returning from abroad to Germany did not die due to Covid but due to other morbidities. Is it a coincidence that those elders first targeted are the last remaining ones who are witnesses to what truly happened during WW II? In Rotterdam many of them only recently started sharing their real stories. Same in Dresden, Germany, Ukraine etc. It was not fear induced it was Terrorbombing with incendiary bombs burning and melting bodies alive at 600 degrees Celsius.

Hi Gertrue. Research from the Universities of Loughborough and Sheffield suggests a new approach to recording COVID deaths. During the blockade period as a whole, government policy has increased mortality rather than reduced it. Actual deaths due to COVID are about 54% to 63% lower than the standard measure of excess deaths implies, and the excess deaths reported likely include a significant number of deaths not caused by COVID. They also claim that the overall increase in mortality is the result of significant unintended consequences of blockage, for example, reduced A and E care and reduced cardiac and cancer treatments. Keep in mind that people can be controlled by controlling the money, food, fuel, water, medicine--and education. This is what we are seeing presently. The more you can do for yourself to be self-reliant, the more stable your situation will be. Your biggest challenge to keeping the roof over your head, that is bought and paid for, will be having the money to pay taxes on it. Paying taxes must be a priority. When an economy recovers after a disaster, one of the first things that happens is govt collects taxes to feed itself. You cannot make good decisions based on fear. It helps if you can distance yourself from the controllers.

Guillermou

Yes ALMOND. The ideal situation to exit the crisis would be a comprehensive approach, a healthy and ecological recovery. This means that we cannot allow economic recovery to lead to more pollution of the air, water or losses of the soil we need to feed ourselves. We cannot continue without taking urgent and drastic measures essential to reverse the loss of species, unhealthy nutrition, avoiding a health system subject to a totally discredited Allopathic Medicine, laboratories of terrorism, which may unleash new threats to the health of humanity.

The response of governments to overcome the period of economic crisis caused by COVID 19 will imply huge increases in the fiscal deficit. Defaults and bankruptcies occur due to the fall in income in homes and companies, almost certain of a similar recovery followed the Great Recession. The massive destruction of jobs in both rich and poor countries has already begun. These jobs that have been lost will only return in part, with lower wages, no benefits, part-time and more insecurity in jobs, income and wages for the majority of suffering people.

The conditions of injustice and inequality put the world at risk of falling into growing inequalities, in which the rich pay to escape the economic disaster, hunger, terrorism, wars, while the rest of the world assumes a responsibility. that you have not created.

Posted On 09/19/2020

Almond

A basic adult responsibility is to feed yourself. Don't wait until the cupboard is empty, but plan ahead. More self-reliance counters dependence on govt. That is only a pipe dream anyway. Esp., if you live in a rural area--cities get relief first... IF there is any help available. Plan to take care of yourself as you would in an extended blizzard and power outage. If you have power, good water, ammo, a full pantry and well-stocked medicinary, you are less likely to be fearful, dependent and make decisions you might later regret.

Be collecting your seed, too, at this time of year. Care for tools. If you cannot do everything, do as much as you can. If your budget is limited, delay one purchase or substitute a cheaper alternative to free up cash. (Shop second hand if you do not already do so.) Even $5-10/week extra. Buy a case of something that is shelf-stable and nutritious. You can recycle certain bottles and store water. You can forage and glean a lot at this time of year. If you see fruit falling on the ground going to waste, knock on the door and ask the homeowner if they have more than they need and you could pick. You can build a large homemade dehydrator from scrap pallet wood and a small fan if you do not have a breeze. Perhaps just as important, educate yourself about many things.

Keep a nature calendar so you know when to forage and harvest each year. Keep a pantry inventory--it will help when you restock, knowing how much you go through in a year. Have some cash, metals or barter set aside. Smaller spendable denominations. Think about what it would be like to suddenly find no ATMs and no merchants accepting credit cards. Full gas tanks. Caches. The situation is compounding and deteriorating fast. Recent ricin assassination attempt on Trump shows how low some will go. There are those who are desperate to control you.

Morning, Notice I didn't include "Good"! It's not. The times today are exactly what you state here and I agree. The only way to counteract all of this nonsense is in the power of the people. The only way! I used to be a bass player in a very well known band for many years. One time I was that hungry that I told the drummer I was just going across the street to get something to eat and I'll be right back. Well the drummer was also hungry and joined me. 5 min later the whole orchestra was eating across the street. You see the leader told us we don't eat tonight. So in my mind I said I'm eating tonight and just left. Well without a drummer and bass player there was no band for people to dance. So I had the leader in my hands. Understand everyone? The power is in the people. As long as we stick together nothing can overcome that. The question now is how to prevent this from happening again!!!Any suggestions?

It is Nürnberg not Nuremberg. For people like me, born in a family that survived the bombardment on Rotterdam that is important. What is also important is to finally acknowledge by courageous people who will not give in to that fearmodus to learn the truth about WW II. To read the letter General Patton wrote to his wife. to watch the docu about the deathcamps of Eisenhower in the Rhinevalley and to learn about the massacre and rapes of millions of German Civilians and POW's called by Eisenhower DIS, so he would not have to respect the treaty on how to treat prisoners of war.

There are some good docs around. And no I am not a fan of Hitler either. How could I be. Born in a family severely traumatized by his bombing on Rotterdam, living in the Next street, lacking all introspection, all that fear landed in my system causing CPTSD/DID and the most severe attachment disorder. Not all people give in to the fear they feel. Women in Dresden called to be raped in a stable by some Bolsjevik soldier executed by a bullet because she resisted. And the father and the mother and the baby in the pram, to rape the one remaining probably a teenager or even younger, now severely traumatized. She refused, The entire family refusing to give in to their fear. Many women and children suicided themselves by walking into the river and drowning themselves to escape that same fate. Watch Juri Lina, Le arn about the Holodomor and finally realize that there is a specific group of people behind all this, hiding behind Marxist Communism and possibly hiding behind an entire people. All I can do is watch the docs, read the articles, the references and check them for truth. I do not have it in me to expose the evildoers. For it is evil. The pentagrams on the US flag already for longer pointing downwards, meaning Lucifer rules, now in Eu during the State of the Union carefully draped to point downwards where originally all pentagrams were standing on their 2 legs, to point it one leg downwards.

Tyranny is when the People fear the Government. Democracy is when the Government fear the People. I think Thomas Jefferson wrote about the same thing. So what is USA today. I would say it is closer to a tyranny than a democracy. I will go even further. USA with China are the same in not so subtle way. In both cases it is indeed controlled by people from the shadows, (The Deep State), some say the CFR, the Bilderburgers, the Trilateral Commission or the UN. The tyrants are mostly the controllers at the top of the ponzi money pyramid: THE BANKSTERS. They are the ones that profit the most from the fear. The governments are just their little vicious tool to enforce their terror. All road lead to the Ruckerfeller mafia and the Rothchild mafia.

Fear motivates people to move rapidly without thinking things out. It has never motivated me, even as a young person as I was taught to think, before I made a move. I played chess with my dad who was a champion chess player. We played the game for four years.. I leaned not to make a move without thinking about the ramifications of every move. In 1976, when I was told by two doctors that I would be given no guarantees, if I did not have an immediate operation. I told the second doctor that every one is going to die sometime...I was going to go home and pray. Well, I prayed and a book came into my hands that changed my life. Two and a half months later I went back to the second doctor to show him that the tumor was gone. He was not one bit interested in what I had done. It taught me a great deal how fear is being used to motivate people.

There is a lesson here. A person should consider what skills or goods they can produce for barter or sale to insure their independence and financial stability.

Lately, we have had an abundance of fruit and garden produce. (I don't know what nice fruit costs in the store, but I bet it is expensive.) Eventually, we will buy a cider press. I am barely keeping up with apples as it is and we eat A LOT of apples--much canning! (Applesauce, juice, sparkling cider in swing-top liters (usually several batches), dried schnitz, baking, fresh eating, relishes/chutneys/mincemeat, crocks of cinnamon apples, etc.) Food gifts!!! Even so, our production will soon outpace our needs. There was wisdom in the homestead requirements for 40 apple or pear trees as they preserve well (esp. dried) and are very versatile. (The army often had to bring food in to settlers to prevent starvation, esp. their first few years.) I also recommend plums/prunes for the self-reliance for the same reasons.

During recent circumstances, I have discovered that organic food is very valuable for barter. I have a network, but not a formal system. It seems the more I give away, the more I receive in return. When I take food orders for farmers and deliver to drop sites, they give me a share of the product for my efforts.

This month, friends have given me produce I did not have large harvests of, a generous amount of home-grown beef and poultry, fish, honey, herbs and more. My brewing skill also seems to be much in demand. Forest fires have resulted in an increase in lumber prices, so if you have a shop where you can mill wood... Child care is often in demand. Good mechanics are in demand. Something most people do not think about that has a good clientele is horse-shoers. (I have a friend making over $100K/yr shoeing horses!) Of course, much depends on where you choose to live. Many of these can be started as part of your regular lifestyle, as hobbies, or sidelines while working a regular job.

epa and all... When you grow an heirloom garden, your produce may not all ripen at once. (Of course, there are still those bumper crop days when you feel overwhelmed.) As harvest winds down, I find I am sometimes only canning a few more jars of this or that. I often ask myself if it is worth the effort. However, it all adds up. Even several extra jars fill tummies. I remind myself that it is not always about cost, but the wholistic experience of working with nature, understanding your roots and eating nutritious food. If you have children at home, it is even more important that they learn where real food comes from. I suppose I could make a trip to the supermarket, too--but that would cost me time and gas.

The true cost in terms of money is that I would prob have to earn $2 for every dollar I spend once I take into account taxes, fees, gas, etc. I think I would rather be out picking my garden rather than sitting in traffic or standing in a socially-distanced supermarket line. I know where the food on my table comes from, every step of the way. Well, most of it, anyway. It is not enough that I feel blessed. I am not afraid of work and understand that work is an opportunity that brings rewards. It feels good to help others fill a pantry when I have surplus--esp. in a year like this when many people have been faced with challenges. I do hope more people learn from experience and by example, though.

Before I got married, I had to sit thru religious classes. Not sure I learned much. I wish someone would have taught me to cook and garden, instead. Nothing helps marriage like a good meal on the table. You cannot learn everything from a book, but you can learn a lot if you are determined. You can teach yourself if you can read. Nowadays videos. I read cook books and found mentors, usually older women. My dear husband responded to my kitchen fears by telling me he would bring food in by the bushel basket and I would have plenty to practice on. :-)

Once that trust is gone, it is very difficult to regain that trust. Skewing data and calling it science is the ultimate lie! Doctors that don't go along with the "experts" are being called "quacks" and people pushing back are being called either unscientific or "Flat Earthers". This is what we have been told would happen in books like 1984 and Brave New World. We are living it now!

If we assume that the CDC and FDA are aware of the problem with vaccines and autism but the government may not or are misinformed then how do we move them to action? The government may in fact be aware but unmoved so the trick will be to move them. The problem with any initiative is its intended goal eg. science, educational, recruiting, influence, legal, government action. The medium you use often determines the goal you are pursuing and here is where the problem lies in a mismatch. For example science studies are recorded as documents for publishing and not as a documentary for televised viewing.

You can not wave around a scientific study or a copy of Vaxxed and expect to impress an elected official. The problem is not having a document that carries authority. If we assume that the Govt was concerned the first thing they would do is to commission a report done by if not one several contributing public schools of health. This report would outline the size of the problem and concern, the cost to public health and economy and what needs to be done or investigated. Vaccine herd immunity theory does allow a certain percentage of children to receive varying amounts of vaccines to determine if vaccines are the issue and need to be monitored.

The problem (Autism) speaks for itself if by 1 or 2 generations 1 in 2 children will have it then autism does not discriminate as to politics or profession and all children are at risk. A commissioned report once printed is not easy to stop or censor by Big Pharma or any Billionaire and it can be waved around with some authority and sent to anyone. Since it is unlikely such a report will be commissioned by FDA, CDC or the Govt alternative health must consider commissioning one and the more public schools of health that see the problem and are on board the better. Autism will not classify as a viral pandemic but much worse a Global Nightmare. Autism is a life sentence. Severe autism is a life sentence for all.

I keep hearing, just about everywhere, facade attributions because it works with the masses mostly devoid of critical thinking. Examples:{"The science says ..." "The Whitehouse says ..." "Everyone knows ..."} That is the logical fallacy known as appeal to authority as in the quote below. There are other scientists saying differently than the "mainstream media" ( and "the authoritative source" as their terms for themselves) picks, so the "authority" is selectively chosen by (my term and you should use it, too) the "Luciferian globalist owned networks" with the main function being to advance their agenda, profit or not, because why else did they choose to accept the loss of market share and credibility? They have much more wealth than to be concerned with profitability of their networks as a miniscule fraction of their holdings particularly when their intention is to own everything including you and me which makes any loss to get there a moot point to them.

We enjoy the questioning of concepts and employ our own interpretation of scientific and medical studies. Even those studies have incorrect interpretations for political or corporate profit agenda reasons, but here we question, with alertness that there are massive corruptions, in the spirit of our Founding Fathers' admonition that we must "be ever vigilant" for us to keep our Constitutional Republic form of Representative self-government. That means to not be dissuaded from critical thinking and sharing your thoughts by being called a "conspiracy theorist" because conspiracies happen and we live in a dangerous and corrupt world with our duty being to call it out when we see it and fight it particularly in the minds of people by talking to them as the tool we have since we don't own networks. Regarding: "What we know is that we're not being dealt with honestly," he says. "We're being told, 'This is the science,' but it's an appeal to authority. It's science because Tony Fauci and Bill Gates tell us it's science."

I am betting this whole fiasco is about getting rid of the drug cartel and illegal businesses (no tax revenue). When they make paper money illegal and every thing you buy is through a credit card of sorts there will be no way to work under cover, right? Except swapping trades, I'll paint for you - if you install my toilet, which would be okay as it is petty. Which means Trump is behind this as he has never even had a glass of wine and his brother died from alcoholism. Drugs are huge where I live, heroin is suppose to be available all the time, lots of meth too, and you see Mexicans at the grocery store with huge wads of cash, they buy houses with cash (3 million is the cheapest house in town). I remember waiting tables and guys tipping me 20 bucks a drink... this was 45 years ago. So no would ever talk. And if this had been known - that we were squashing the drug cartel then this little town of mine would have been up in arms, no masks that's for sure, but with this con job they ALL wear masks. I'll bet record amounts of drugs are being sold now, they say alcohol sales are up 300% And I see all the world leaders getting on board. What do you think?

Worst yet. I know many doctors that totally believe what they see on the news and agree with the protocols imposed by these tyrants.

Read this latest piece of propaganda from the NYT's. Is it telling or what? To the "ethicist" a vaccine won't matter. www.nytimes.com/2020/09/15/magazine/i-got-a-trial-covid-19-vaccine-do-..

rrealrose, I like where Offit says, "wearing a mask is the most powerful thing we can do." Oh brother.

rrealrose

Yes, Grabs your attention, doesn't it? I doubt Dr Offit believes any covid vaccine will work effectively. At least that's what I am reading into his article.

It is so gratifying to receive valuable information such as this. Unfortunately it is a battle we must continue to fight. The enemy will not go away quietly. Keep your foot on the accelerator and don't let up.

Finite Terrian Paradise needs systemic, prepared protectivity. As humans-gods (superior, evolved beings, but also humble part of Terra-Family-Ship), we need a Philosophy of equitable, reasonable Cosmo.Pantheism, for Terra.Protectivity. Let us stop global toxigangsterisms, official and paraofficial, with peace and justice. One mirable Terra-Family-Ship, one finite Time, one ecosociable Peace.

Attempts to prevent exchange of information seems at an all time high. Considering ways to share knowledge without being dependent on electronics seems like a good idea. Newsletters, billboards, Free Speech Park, or whatever.. It is possible, at least in Mom and Pop businesses, to have a stack of weekly or monthly newsletters on the counter by the register. Often I see stacks in health stores in this area. When mailing friends a card, include an article that will be helpful from Dr. Mercola's site. This of ways to overcome electronic suppression, such as add a link to helpful sites on your website as a start. Just always try to keep the energy flowing in the rights direction.

Yes, becoming organized so people are able to navigate and connect with others to make informed decisions provides hope for the future. People who feel hijacked should easily recognize Robert Kennedy as a sincere American. I'm thankful. For a while, I kept searching but couldn't find such helpful information, consolidated in one place, until visiting Dr. Mercola's site. Good people paving the way, so spread the word !

After reading an article stating the Russian elite were taking a vaccine as far back as April, G.? Institute and military backed funding. The earliest date I noticed Chinese were giving people a vaccine was June, which would be several months after Russia, if accurate. A few days ago I thought I read that Russia has a vaccine coming from Mederna , and the U.S. does too. Is that a different Russia vaccine? Actually, early on during the pandemic here, I searched and noticed Russia wasn't having much of a problem at that time, around March maybe? So, I'm surprised the Russians were already vaccinating the elite by April. Early on when reading about WHO, the information I read stated that e virus made in a lab would already have an antidote, vaccine. For that reason, I thought to notice who comes up with a vaccine first, explaining my interest..

Bless... Your posting is filled with good info and good ideas. Fortunately, technology also allows for the private dissemination of information rapidly before it is pulled. Those with a good network will always be informed. It may be wise to print out hard copy of some items. Articles from major newspapers even seems to get "disappeared" an no longer be avail in archives.

Use cash for privacy when possible. Vote against tax increases to defund excess government. Vote for those who believe in small government. Looking to Libertarian candidates and policies.

Should we begin to stockpile cash?

Definitely use cash in certain places for certain purchases. You do not even want a record that you have large amounts of certain kinds of food that are shelf stable. Ammo, etc. More taxes only grow govt. More govt means less freedom. Unfortunately, at this time, a Libertarian vote will only split the vote at election time. That is the reality. However, look for candidates that are constitutionalists. I believe we need to put more effort into putting forward good candidates. By election time, it is too late if you do not like the candidates. The problem is that most responsible people are stressed and already working hard to survive and do not have a lot of extra time for politics. People with gainful employment are not out living in tents and rioting for months on end--it's a fast easy way to get drug money, though.

Already before i saw Kennedy still worships those founding fathers. the USA is the Utopia Masonic states. Watch the docus by Oliver STone on YT on how the USA was founded on Free Masonic principles, including buildings, infrastructure/lay out of streets in certain patterns etc. etc. Also watch the docu about the Bolsjevik Revolution by Juri LIna on YT. It all started in the USA. BLM also founded by Marxist Communists and funded by the same. My French Huguenots ancestors suicided themselves by jumping of french mountains with the entire communities. Suicide a strong pattern in me, as it was the last trimester of my mother;'s gestation, ending in 3 attempts to kill herself.

So yes it is always in the back of my mind. Waiting lists for Euthanasia due to psychological problems in the Netherlands now 2 years. There is always a breaking point in the human mind. The NWO is convinced they did it, they won. Enslavement and Eugemism is what is next. I appreciate articles like this. People waking up. Those founding fathers Kennedy worships, F.i. Roosevelt, Eisenhower, all handpicked by Free Masons, are responsible for atrocites, terrible warcrimes too gruesome even to watch the movies, to see the pictures let alone to have that experience and than the entire world denying what happened and changing history. A select group of people that had no qualms to sacrifice those believing they belonged to the same group Massacre of Katyn f.i.

So sorry, I found this last night on Butchute, and did not notice your posting until this evening...yes, the numbers from Germany are highly interesting, and the failure to trap important age group numbers in the UK gives the govt. no real feel for what's happened, doesn't bode well...here's a link to the Ivor Cummins number crunching from Ireland, for the entire EU: www.youtube.com/watch - this was posted on Sept 8. (Please skip the political ad before the actual charts and graphs)

Two thousand years ago these words were penned and once again are coming to fruition. Revelation 20:4 KJV [4] And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years. Please consider this prophecy carefully and read the King James Bible to see it for yourself. And to see the way of salvation. Jesus said, I am the way, the truth, and the life. No man cometh unto the Father but by me. And whosoever will may come.

First Operation Glaudio, docu on YT, and then Obama's secret army JSOC with a killlist of 3000 per day, according to Jeremy Scahill in his moviedocu Dirty Wars. Many warcrimes happened during WW II, genocides of millions by the Allied forces and none of them ever addressed or some later acknowledged. Massacre of Katyn f.e. We have all been fooled. For the sake of the next 7 generations, my grandchildren is there a way we can still topple these Evildoers. According to some that escaped possessed by real Demons.

The Communist NWO, which resulted after WW II in the UN is complete. Normal humans are obsolete. Worldpopulation reduction by the millions is next. Ted Turner, CEO CNN before desired one by 95 %. Enslaving those remaining, just as after WW II was done by the victors but never taught to us dutch children in school. Warcrimes were committed, atrocities to horrific to now witness with my eyes in the movies that were then shot, the pictures taken. And here we are still blaming ***. Nazism started in the USA. Without STandard Oil, IBM. Rothschild Hitler could not have flown his planes, As Hitler said it was Roosevelt that started the war, just as he was already accused in 1941 in an US newspaper of having done with the Japanese war. He knew beforehand about Pearl Harbour attack and sacrificed US sailors. No human life has any value except those in their specific group connected to occult groups. Hitler member of 2 occult groups. All these top people know each other as members of the same occult group, planning the demise of the current human race. Geneticists claim we are now 1 human race, coming in different groups but all intermingled. Perhaps except a select few who believe they descend from God.
