The technological revolution has changed our real existential question. on how human beings could remain free. Technology has eroded personal privacy. The changes produced by the information technology revolution are more profound than those generated by the industrial revolution. The technological revolution needs ethics or it will enslave us. Is that possible ?. It seems that this pandemic is showing the opposite, the loss of rights and freedoms is polarizing our lives to slavery.

Freedom is known in the discernment of man, in his ability to choose between good and evil. Our lives are information banks, our lives are given over to the oligarchies of power that use our data to drag us into consumerism and subject us to extreme surveillance. We have lost the freedom to be private people, knowingly or hypnotized, bewitched, we broadcast a version of ourselves in the digital world for dominance purposes, to make techno-fascist structures more powerful.

But in the face of this general dehumanization that ruthlessly crushes all the paths of dignity, there is still a ray of hope, a green emerald that illuminates our mistake, that makes us understand that we are not on the right path, that this is not the path by which that the human being must direct his steps.

Rehumanization is possible if the human values of respect for life are embedded in our mind and illuminate a new path of light and humanization. But for this, we must be firm, unite, create a new society in accordance with humanity, a world where respect for life, for equality, for our Mother Earth, are fundamental pillars of society.

Forgive me all for riding Guillerrou's coattails on this one: Today is the inaugural opening of Robert Kennedy's newest CHD chapter in Europe. A big shout to the German people whose zeitgeist is probably the most keenly tuned to "never again". This wonderful man and his cohorts will be presenting this symposium to be delivered in 10 different languages:

Thanks Gui for eloquently expressing the dangers we face. And epi-cure for mentioning the Robert F Kennedy Jnr, speech which I will mention again as it is so crucial and important. I am seriously beginning to wonder whether the world "health" mandarins think the Hippocratic Oath means that Doctors are allowed to be hypocrites?? Here's an excerpt from a disturbing consultation document here in the UK. ""In addition, the consultation - which seeks to amend the Human medicine regulations 2012 - will look into ways to protect companies that manufacture and distribute vaccines should it cause any harm. This is to prevent them bearing the risk caused by decisions made by government to roll out unlicensed vaccines in order to protect the health of the public""

This is so bizarre - ....protect the public by allowing vaccines which could cause harm??? This must be the sickest joke since God switched on the sun in Genesis. We now have a depopulation agenda where compromised governments and the Big Pharma $$ are putting profit before people's rights and well-being, denying the life-saving drug HCQ & Zinc, Vitamin D, C Quercetin and other natural protocols thereby causing the deaths of thousands. All this simultaneously while pushing the New World Order of Bill Gates and his soulless cronies so they can vaccinate & goose-step over the birthright of our children and grandchildren.

But some good news to end with, as epi-cure has pointed out. Robert F Kennedy Jnr is in Germany and due to give a speech which will be part of a push back by the German people against the New World Order. Let's hope it spreads like a pandemic of Truth to cleanse the earth of mega-rich totally corrupt psychopaths and their demonic influence in the world.

Great post, Gui! Since the beginning of this Planneddemic, the erosion of our "rights and freedoms" has been obvious to me. Regardless of whether people can see it or not, we are now under MEDICAL TYRANNY. As more and more people cut off their breathing apparatus, breathing back their own carbon dioxide while restricting their oxygen intake and creating a petri dish of bacteria inside the mask from perspiration and such, the sickness of humanity will increase - exponentially...sounds like "part of the plan" to me. I won't even get into the psychological toll that these "measures" will take on the masses - especially the children...So much for their chances of a "normal" life!

As far as my "chances of contracting covid"; let me explain: Allegedly, this "deadly virus" has been with us "globally" for at least 8 months - correct? Now; in that 8 months, I and countless others have not worn a mask, not social distanced and have not felt the need to rub "hand sanitizer" on our hands at every 'station' we encounter. The simple fact of the matter is that I, personally, have taken absolutely no measures to "protect" me from this phantom virus; other than my usual practice of good hygiene. That just may be something that people need to think about, before they OBEY, OBEY, OBEY!

It's that word "unite" you used that troubles me, Gui. By virtue of the public brainwashing that has already taken place in the last six months, it is proving premature to feel any sense awareness let alone of unity against the plandemic. Mercoleans must represent even less than the 1 per cent which brought off the successful virtual coup d'etat of governments who are the real puppets in this plandemic as they appear to be compliant in enforcing the anti-social rules of the new abnormal. I am looking forward to the on line Conference "Protecting Health and Autonomy in the 21st Century" at which Dr M is speaking and who knows - perhaps a leader will emerge from that to unite us and lead us forward to the stage where we "do not comply" en masse.

Thank you Guillermou for so eloquently stating this. I would just add that we have an important role in practicing Real Self-Government. For decades, we have mindlessly "taken the bait" that has led to our vulnerable position. That bait falls into two the broad categories of fears or appetites, the latter being our training as passive-but-dutiful consumers, whereupon the mania of consuming for consuming's sake allows ample opportunity for the producers to slip all kinds of junk fare into the production stream. Self Government starts with clear & free thinking.

Right now the fear cycle is so strong & pervasive because so many people have been mindless, dependent consumers of junk food and junk media... that is essentially a failure of their democratic duty in rigorous Self-Government. Sadly, vast swaths of populations have to assume some responsibility for this debacle; we can't just finger-point. But hopefully there is an awakening happening in Germany, supported by the nephew of an American president who once proclaimed that he too was a Berliner, thus expressing a real global fraternity the likes of which the globalist technocrats will apparently never know.

You are absolutely correct Gui. Most members of the US population have "no clue" just how corrupt our country is. I really don't want to sound like a conspiracy nut but it is what it is. We have people that we elect as our "representatives" that are supposed to be our liaisons to the government. You and I live ordinary little lives paying our taxes, obeying the laws these representatives make and doing the right things just to get along. Compare that to the way these representatives live and it is pretty obvious we still live in a "feudal system". Congress and lower level politicians are the lords and masters and we little people are the serfs. We work just to have a roof over our heads and bread on the table while they become millionaires if they are not already millionaires when elected. We are lucky if we have a job and get two weeks of vacation.

They confiscate far more money than we should owe for what we get in return. What I am getting at is that the things going on in government, behind the curtain that government doesn't want us serfs to know about has grown exponentially since the Declaration and Constitution were written. Long before Edward Snowden exposed the depth and breadth of the illegal surveillance going on, my sixth sense (that gut feeling that there was something not right that government was doing) gnawed away at me. The digital age was going to happen no matter what. But the use of it by government to spy on everything we do was not normal. The development of the cell phone was the most insidious invention ever. It wasn't developed as a convenience to we the people. It was developed as a convenience to government. Governments consider us criminals if we oppose being controlled by a small number of people ie Congress. We must be controlled. They must know everything we say or do. This is the paranoia of politicians. We had better not spend $100.00 on something unless they approve. Technology and digitization is governments open door.

EPI-CURE. Thank you for your hopeful message. It is a great event that fills me with satisfaction to hear the words of Robert F. Kennedy, on the fight against water pollution by mercury this week that Dr. Mercola also celebrates this fight, which links with the vaccines where Kennedy has developed an extraordinary job. "We are not going to let them take away our health or our freedoms."

Pharmaceutical companies are capturing politicians and governments around the world and this meeting in Germany is a huge demonstration against globalist technocrats, corrupt elites who want mass vaccination, including children, on the way to imposing a new world order.

NW. Sad but words that express a great reality: "We now have a depopulation agenda where compromised governments and the Big Pharma $$ are putting profit before people's rights and well-being, denying the life-saving drug" .... The economic and social collateral "of COVID-19 is mass unemployment, poverty, death and despair that flows from the financial establishment. We have a blockade that destroys our institutions, undermines family life and social relations, closes schools and universities, destroys culture (including music and the arts), impoverishes large sectors of the world's population. You are very well oriented on the path of health, but as you know, we can appreciate a large number of people "disoriented" and / or "disconnected" in terms of their personal (and spiritual) "care and cultivation", with a marked egocentric character and low reflective capacity, which has an impact on the perception that a greater number of people with low values are perceived. Citizens are subjected to a "bombardment" of information that is actually a tool for manipulating society. It is no longer necessary to think to have an opinion, but only to repeat "slogans" said ad nauseam by the media, which direct the social interest according to their interests. We are in a reality of loss of human and ethical values, we are in the mass man dominated by the great powers of the oligarchy. At this time, let's take a little breath to oxygenate our minds. The fight continues.

Epidemics are one of the great factors in human history, one of the most telling us about who we are as human beings, in terms of our beliefs, our moral priorities, and our capacities to act collectively.

The civilization of wealth marginalizes, undervalues and excludes those who are different from those "who have less, those who are less effective. This culture of money makes people fail and feel like failures, places those who have the least in a defenseless situation, makes them feel powerless, unable to control the situation and reaches a state of helplessness. The civilization of money has deteriorated and dehumanized politicians and infected people. It has been and is the civilization of intolerance that has a lot to do with dogmatism, with authoritarianism and with force and imposition.

A new world order cannot be created by the nations without the support of the people, a democratic attitude is needed, away from the corporatocracy and techno-fascist currents and that needs to be grounded by a world ethic that is supported and lived by people of all ages. cultures based on human values.

They engulf us in consumer adornments and drug our desires to obtain things and waste our time on entertainments that they manipulate in the unconsciousness of our minds. Politicians in a large majority corrupt, allies of an extreme technological advance that observes us that directs us, who only look after the interests of power and profit and the support of the monopolies of great fortunes, are largely responsible for the dehumanization in which the world lives on all fronts of our existence. The world's largest study in children by COVID-19 finds a new symptom of multisystemic inflammatory syndrome in children (MIS-C). The team, led by researchers from the Universities of Edinburgh and Liverpool, Imperial College London and the Royal Hospital for Children in Glasgow, UK, recruited 651 children and young people aged 19 or younger who had been admitted to hospital with Covid-19. The work confirms that the disease is mild in the vast majority of cases and that less than 1% are admitted. The typical age of hospitalized children was five years. About 42 percent of the patients had at least one other condition, the most common including neurological conditions and asthma.

Obesity, black ethnicity, and being less than a month old are factors that increase the risk of a child being admitted to intensive care with the condition. About 18 percent of hospitalized children and youth were admitted to intensive care. Experts say that the children most at risk of needing intensive care are those under one month of age and those aged 10 to 14. As in adults, obesity and black ethnicity were also found to be risk factors.

The study also identified 52 patients who had MIS-C, an inflammatory syndrome. The researchers found that these children were five times more likely to be admitted to intensive care. Symptoms generally seen in people with MIS-C include conjunctivitis, a rash, or gastrointestinal problems such as abdominal pain, vomiting, and diarrhea. This study also found new symptoms of Covid-19 in children with MIS-C, including headaches, tiredness, muscle aches, and a sore throat. The study also found that the number of platelets, a component of blood involved in clotting, was much lower in the blood of children with MIS-C than in those without the condition. The combination of symptoms and low platelets may be important in identifying children with MIS-C who may feel worse, experts say.

Thanks EPI-CURE, you are part of this environment where criticism is a great encouragement to defend rights, freedoms and the health of the planet and humanity. Those who master the technique of making criticisms have within their reach the possibility of achieving their objectives, establishing relationships with the other members of this great forum of Dr. Mercola. You do very well if you process the madness of this world, if you also provide convincing arguments.

Only when we have exposed what we want to achieve, and we have introduced some positive element, can we achieve change. Sometimes we don't have the alternative, but we can find the solution together. Also listen to their proposals and, in addition, define how it can be evaluated that this is fulfilled in the future, so that the criticisms are not carried away by the wind.

Daniel Goleman explains how the art of criticism is like the art of relating to one's partner. Emotional intelligence applied in constructive criticism is the next step in improving the quality of relationships, and fundamental for a world where words must flood the minds and hearts of people to achieve greater effectiveness, and at the same time, getting involved and satisfying in order to achieve a better world. The man of talent is naturally prone to criticism, because he sees more things than other men and sees them better.- Montesquieu.

As you commented EPI-CURE, praise Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. who yesterday spoke with hundreds of thousands of people on the streets of Berlin, for Freedom and Peace.

"With Großer Stern Square and the Siegesäule Monument as a backdrop, Mr. Kennedy talked about government control by fear and spoke out against totalitarianism. He said the government and those with the greatest wealth and control have done a terrible job on public health and will shift us all to 5G and a cashless society. He said that 5G is being pushed on us as a good thing but it will be used for surveillance and data harvesting. Mr. Kennedy added that the COVID 19 pandemic is a crisis of convenience that is destroying the middle class, impoverishing us all, and it is making the powerful elite even more powerful. He closed with the message that we must protect our fellow man, our vulnerable children and our freedoms and democracy!"

Dr. Steven

The Covid-19 "pandemic" is being used to institute massive social control through usurpation of personal freedoms and civil liberties under the guise of public health and media-induced fear. The general population is becoming like "sheep," following orders, wearing our masks, accepting the loss of "normalcy" in human relationships and our daily lives. When we speak up we get pushback and shaming; when we ask questions and raise alternative views, we're called "conspiracy theorists." My concern is that this ongoing forced social isolation--"social distancing" and masks obscuring our identity--is becoming "normative," setting us up for forced vaccinations while forcing us to become ever more dependent upon those Big Tech companies to communicate and carry out our daily tasks. The more we're online, the more they know about us and the more we can be manipulated.

This is a spiritual crisis; whether one is religious or not, we all have a spiritual core that informs and motivates our values and passion for life. Will more people wake up and resist? Big Media abets this through biased reporting, while Big Tech suppresses alternative views. This is the "perfect storm." Can we prevail and regain and preserve our autonomy? At least websites like this and resources like this film help to heighten awareness. Thanks Dr. Mercola.

Guillermou

Yes, Dr Steven, we can consider the current state of humanity as a great failure and a great abuse of power, a total concealment of the truth and a contempt for the citizens who elect their leaders so that they only care about maintaining power serving the interests of the monopolies of great fortunes that rule the world, while spreading fear to serve the interests of the corrupt capitalist market, which have prepared the field of action for the coronavirus, with epigenetic effects contrary to the nature of the persons.

On this path we find ourselves with the loss of values that is leading to minds full of hatred, selfishness, violence and indifference to others, they are our day to day. The reason for this, falls special responsibility of the leaders, but also of ourselves, since little by little the human being has dehumanized, becoming a machine prey to daily stress and boosted by technology, leaving aside living together face to face with face with their fellow men.

Postmodernism can be defined as the time of the "I". After the loss of confidence in the transformation projects of society, today's man thinks that his efforts can only be concentrated on his personal fulfillment and he begins to feel that it is possible to live without Ideals. The important thing is to get money and power, no matter how, that fill your vanity and make you feel superior to others. It is very sad to see this, since the fundamental pillar of society has gone to the background, that is, today's man abandons ethical and moral values in order to fill all his vanities. It is the sign of this postmodern era.

Cabochon

Words are powerful messengers and re-enforcers of truth or lies, Dr Steven. Think of Orwell's choice of vocabulary to illustrate this idea: The Ministry of 'Truth', for example, was anything but and really meant the 'official' version of reality which had to be imposed upon the population, or else. We could start by using words that describe truth not lies. Therefore "Anti-social distancing" and "the new abnormal" would more accurately reflect the truth. No doubt a more accurate description of "masks" can be found as they may or may not be there to prevent infection but we suspect are a symbolic test of compliance and obedience and a fore-runner of further behaviour modelling edicts to emanate from the 1 per cent, aka our new masters. Therefore choice of language is part of the brainwashing technique and must be resisted before the concepts become accepted as "normal". If 'normal' = good then, it will be a tough battle to change attitudes.

Much depends on how many get over their virus fear, which has weakened and only 1% of the population is susceptible, and is instead watching the crazy high levels of response by governments...the media in this case, is banging that extremist drum; yet after way too much repetition, appears mostly repetitive and overly dramatic. Although Dr. Fauci is calling for everyone to get their flu shot ahead of a second wave, as if he is in control of this virus, most experts are not expecting one. Gotta turn off mainstream news.

Not mentioned was the role of the CIA in world events. It has become a force unto itself with secret operations, black budgets and the use of private contractors. They can put a spin on the information they provide to leaders to further their own agenda and influence political decisions and outcomes.

There really were weapons of mass destruction. Major nations of the world sold them in the Middle East for profit in contravention of international treaties. Chemical, biological radioactive agents. When discovered, they had to be destroyed to eliminate the evidence. Fires and explosions. Drift on winds is what caused many symptoms of Gulf War Syndrome. Intensive detox was rarely pursued and many veterans diagnosed with mental illness. Waiting for them to die off so the issue could be forgotten about and fewer lawsuits resulting.

Surveillance of individuals and information gathering is increasing at an exponential rate. I barter and will check the prices of items online. Some pretty unusual stuff that I have no intention of buying. I notice this keeps "the powers" very confused due to the diverse items I am checking buy-sell lists for. Results can be humorous. You cannot rely on mass media for news. I believe not having a tv or cell phone helps me stay grounded. Many days, I also go thru and delete any political emails. Decide how much you really need to know and consider the source.

I try to keep our lives pretty basic. Part of that is staying close to nature. Our gardens and food production at this time of year. Taking control instead of being dependent. Reducing the amount you need to spend. Knowing where your money goes and who it supports. Choosing your entertainments wisely or making your own. Being resourceful adds reflection and intentionality to your life. Value judgements. Today, I picked the garden and canned salsa. Tomorrow, I glean an organic apple orchard for our own needs in addition picking up cull apples for deer. Monday, can/dry plums. Etc

Hi ALMOND. We are at the point that the loss of freedoms and deception cannot be part of a democracy. In a democratic society, people have the resources at their disposal to participate meaningfully in the management of their private affairs, and, on the other hand, the media are free and impartial. When a country passes into dictatorship, the media are controlled by government institutions, which in turn depend on the big monopolies, configuring oligarchies of power and money. In "Media Control: The Spectacular Achievements of Propaganda", Noam Chomsky, points out that one of the first historical notes of propaganda and deception in the US, happened under the mandate of Woodrow Wilson. The population was very pacifist and saw no reason to get involved in a European war; however, the Wilson administration had decided that the country would take part in the conflict.

The idea of the obligation to participate in war had to be induced in society. And a government propaganda commission was created, known as the Creel Commission, which, in six months, managed to turn a peaceful population into another hysterical and warmongering that wanted to go to war and destroy all Germans, and thus save the world. The same techniques were used to stoke what was known as Red Fear. This allowed the destruction of unions and the elimination of such dangerous problems as freedom of the press or political thought. The financial and business power and the media fostered and gave great support to this operation, from which, in turn, they obtained all kinds of benefits. The key was to control the thinking of the most intelligent members of American society, who, in turn, would disseminate the propaganda that was being crafted and drive the peaceful country into wartime hysteria.

Hi ACS. The Black Death contributed to a turning point to the rebirth because it constituted the inversion of the land / labor relationship. The Renaissance, a period that stands out especially for the rise of artistic expression, based on patronage, and that can be seen from different points of view. Society is immersed in great depression and sadness, with many fears due to the general uncertainty. In the global calculation, he could affirm that the conditions of the peasants improved, as a result of this shortage of labor. At the same time, as the disease progressed, global demand fell; thus, cultivation could be concentrated on the best and most fertile lands again.

It is clear that COVID-19 is not the black plague, but a flu turned by corrupt oligarchies into a black plague for people's minds, but like the end of the Middle Ages we need to open hearts to spiritual wealth. , until arriving at the ethics that dominate hearts, a reflective and critical thought to change the course of history with a great change of regeneration of agricultural land, of caring for nature, of clean energies, of avoiding great economic inequalities, to unmask the technocratic and dominating oligarchic currents that seek to exploit humanity in a new world order.

Hi, I'd like to add to something Cabochon said about uniting. Kind of 'united we stand divided we fall' sort of thing. I've been following Dr Mercola for many years and really appreciate all that I've learnt about taking care of my health through real food and exercise, which has benefitted mine and my family's lives enormously. Lately I've been glued to Dr Mercola's site regarding info on covid-19 but I also read Sayer Ji's GreenMed Info, which also posts in-depth articles about covid-19. As well as the UK's amazing and informative Dr Vernon Coleman, The Corbett Report, David Icke and a few posters on BitChute.

There seems to be many groups of people very upset at the possibility of mandatory worldwide vaccination. Here in the UK there is a petition against any restrictions to persons who refuse the vaccine – petition.parliament.uk/.../323442 but so far just over 100,000 people have signed, out of a population of 63 million. I actually didn't know about it (a friend I spoke to at work told me about it). I guess what I am trying to say is, for us all to gain some sort of opposition against all this madness I feel we need some kind of uniting body or base where all the groups/petitions are connected, so we all know what is going on regarding organised opposition.

Hopefully then the message would snowball into a substantial force against what is happening? I don't know? I get so frustrated in my day-to-day life, seeing the majority of people muzzled and fearful, yet unapproachable to any other input other than what the mainstream media tell them. I have never felt so threatened for mine and my family's rights to look after our own health... stress like I've never felt before (that I'm sure I'm not alone in). When I log onto this and other websites I feel better and realise I am not alone, but in my day-to-day life I'm stuck inside an ever-growing dystopian nightmare and I rarely meet anyone face-to-face that thinks along the same lines as me.

Agree. Yet, I am meeting more similar thinkers, definitely not face to face, only online. I joined a power of 8 group which I falsely assumed would be liberal leaning only to discover they are rebels- yay! We gather on zoom which is a video discussion arena so we can see each other, see our whole face unmuzzled by oppressive tyrants. Have you watched Ivor Cummins on you tube? He's got great data, interviews and information. He may encourage you also in your quest for non political info. Best to you and yours!

BTW, after busy cleaning the fridge, this article came out on Thursday, and it bears some scrutiny: ULTRA-LOW temperatures are required to transport and distribute 2 of the frontrunner vaccines: www.marketwatch.com/story/moderna-and-pfizers-covid-19-vaccine-candida.. No doubt eventually one of the contenders will come out on top, with a more reasonable option; until then, please keep your head on shoulders and not flailing in the wind - they are constantly stirring the pot by design! entirely possible the winning vaccine will not be out til late winter-early spring, in time for the virus to be burned out and gone.

This isn't really news to me. Ever since I was a kid I knew TV news was canned. Then in college, as a history major, my eyes were opened. Researching deeply into historical events, beyond what The New York Times had to say, I learned about the politics of information. It was a major coup, when cable TV began in the late 70's/early 80's, then the internet, then social media ... the dumbification has been very successful. It truly is a battle for your consciousness / perception.

This is monopolistic and oligarchic practices, through the use of global corporate communism on the stocks. And in particular the vaccine stocks, because of the billions of doses maybe or NOT needed ching cha ching $$$$. Fauci, Gates, Soros, Epstein through Moderna, can improve their wealth and their members wealth. While controlling the market in front of you with their daily COVID-19 fake scaring updates on TV pumping the public stocks through fear. What communist propaganda. Okay ~ we have a state of existence that boils down to the fact that anarchical structures are while theoretically the goal of the greatest freedom for the individual ~ however, conflicting claims undermine the possibility of consensus in the political sphere ~ certain personalities have alpha characteristics that drive their passion for control over others as a logical imperative ~ in the Cult of Personality giant statues display the Leaders Godlike APOTHEOSIS { meaning "the elevation of someone to Divine status"}, to supplant the personal image of the Leader who now usurps those powers formerly associated with a Higher Mystical Power ~ the Tyrant is omnipresent as reinforced by the constant repetition of statues and posters and images and propaganda ~ these are the emblems of Godlike power that is constantly brought to the attention of the Masses by the slaughter of those that do not believe ~ in this the Tyrant fantasizes that like God "He Disposes" ~ then there is the Surveillance Network/ the Secret Police where like God everything you do is being watched by Big Brother that will stamp out any dissension as subversive to the New Bible of the dictates of the Leader whose APOTHEOSIS is being conditioned in the subjugated minds ~ constant propaganda is the hallmark of these Mass Delusional attempts at creating a Religion of Personality ~ sometimes there is continuity as in the example of North Korea where a family succession continues the charade of personality idolization ~ the greatest threat to human progress and human Enlightenment is the Eugenics belief that their lives are more meaningful than yours ~ if you don't fight for the maintenance of your God given rights one of these aberrant personalities will take your rights away from you ~ is this what the Masses want??

There is usually more than one way to respond to ill intent. People will respond to the above mentions in one way or another and time will tell the tale. For now, I notice, and others claim to notice, some signs of awfulness that seem unnecessary. Most of my observations result from the use of technology. Dr. Mercola's articles, and people sharing thoughts in the comment section, provides much insight while sorting the mysteries.

After thinking for a while it seemed the solution is to sell my car, toss my phone, give my laptop away, buy a basic structure, plant a garden, get water from a well.. Maybe all of the hassles are pointing me in the right direction and it's time to get moving. If other people having the same thoughts do the same, maybe there will eventually be a community called Freedom. Maybe a good rap song will help promote the concept. I've looked for a fish cabin that is also suitable for a nice garden but haven't found the right one yet. Maybe people will head in a different direction as a result of so much chaos.

As for Bill Gates, it seems most of his ideas are becoming increasingly unpopular due to the fact he seems to have started a war with Mother Nature. I don't know if doing so was his intention but that seems to be the end result.

hi there Bluesss - thank you for your perception regarding my post - sometimes I feel as if there is no interest in the context that I focussed on with regard to the video - you ask for advice - of course, I cannot tell you what to do but I have actually stopped looking for a solution - I have posted for 8 years primarily concerning the DANGER that Gates and his fellow believers, the Rockefellers represent - all my WARNINGS have transpired - and now I am ignored by the babbling of optimists that are holding on to the cliff face with their fingertips - what you are asking is for a way out - a license to live as God planned it as a free thinking human being - this is a dream that most people have but because they cannot think for themselves, they rely on others to give them direction - the world already has too many false advisors - many people dream of a paradise in isolation but all paradises involve planning and hard work to keep the wolf from the door - work out your finances and take inflation into account - if you want to live by the sea {which I do} then think of tidal variation / wind direction- learn to fish/ pick mussels etcetera - all this is a research project - living alone as I do is not for the faint hearted - learn to cook - this is a great art that anyone can benefit from - improve your mind by always being mentally active - I suppose I could write a book on the challenges of living WITH your psyche - but there are many rewards and benefits - if you have a dream then let it become a passion that drives you towards your goal - it is not easy to be alone but it doesn't necessarily entail loneliness

Thanks mzilavy for pointing out the "Artful counter-intelligence". In truth 911 was carried out by elements in the U.S. government and certain allies not by so-called suicide bombers. Makes the entire documentary a field of bs.

I agree. He did have some points, but clearly had some biases that sent him way off in left field. His antisemitism was pretty apparent. I also find it interesting that those who claim to despise (or at least distrust) the establishment, despise and mis-characterize Trump. None of the establishment wanted him in office, red or blue.

One more comment, after I tested Start Page by typing in "xxx covid cases" and Start Page dutifully came up with pages of search results of "xxx covid cases" and I typed in 888, and 987 and 1111 and 1113 and 8000000 and start page matched, all within 2 mins of each other, then I knew that AI algorithms were spoofing the search data, as a special slap in the face to all of us trusting humans. It is unsettling to realize that we can trust only 10% or 5% or less of the information on the internet now as being truthful and correct.

Hmm...funny, but this film ("Hypernormalisation") didn't turn out as I'd expected. It's yet another one (from the BBC, of course!) pushing the same old tiresome official narrative on events, people, countries in the last few decades. I couldn't watch it beyond the point where the events on 9/11 were said to be carried out by Arab suicide bombers". Incredible that this notion is still being promoted, given the highly dubious nature of the evidence "proving" it to anyone with 2 grey cells to rub together.

So...am left wondering why Dr. Mercola recommended this film to his hyper-awake and intelligent readers and followers? This seemed to be just more official propaganda from corporate media!

Anyone else feel the same way about the film?

We're surrounded by experts with long lists of credentials telling us what to believe. Among them are similar yet contradicting them, so how are we, not being experts at everything, supposed to differentiate truth from lies for business interests or political agendas? Very accomplished and talented people are passionately voting for one side or the other. Many glom onto their choices figuring they are smart, so they must be correct and vote with their clique. I have conversations with many of them and their mind is searching only for supportive information, true or false doesn't matter as they are for their team to win and they cheer their team and shout down the opponent team and don't listen. I suppose the main thing for finding truth is seeking it yet it is still elusive. I have a natural proficiency at detecting truth, but it's been enhanced by college courses in Logic and Advanced Logic. I very much appreciate Mercola.com and find a lot of good information and wisdom among the regulars who comment on articles.

All that we see happening is a part of our evolution, we will rise above this 3D matrix of duality and polarity. This is a spiritual battle between light and dark and light will win. It is a rebirth that will be very painful but will be beautiful when we get to the other side. It had to happen this way to wake people up and demand real change. And I believe that we are at the tipping point now. There is a divine plan unfolding. Trust the plan, and help create a new earth.

The only solution now is to call out to heaven and ask for a caring and loving God to intervene. Due to His nature of love, He doesn't intrude normally into human affairs, but it's getting more obvious that we need supernatural wisdom and guidance as evil grows worse and worse. We could all choose to die in stubborn self-will and ignorance, but that's foolish, we need to start calling out for God's help.

I agree with all. only problem with Kennedy jr is that he will be targeted and eliminated. isn't this the tactic of the new world order? at 80 i am convinced that becoming a prepper, leaving this "perfect world" created by those in power is the only way to go. grow my own food, use only organic, holistic medicine. may not be "successful, wealthy But free! i truly feel sorry for the younger generation that seems to have bought into "the simple, easy way of life' . there was a letter that appeared in Ann Landers column that stated mankind went from slavery to freedom, to apathy, to slavery once again. it seems it is coming true again. we have learned nothing from history. we are now intent on wiping out history because it contains slavery, cruelty, things we do not want to see or hear because they disturb us. we must remember these things lest we allow them to happen again. i am glad i am near the end of my life rather than at the beginning of it, do not want to see the horrors of the future.

It was an interesting video. I won't pass it on, however, because, while I do believe that politics is just theater, this video perpetuates typical leftist or Statist lies about history. The idea that Muammar al-Gaddafi was used by America to create the theater is not new, but this documentary failed to mention that the two people most responsible for killing Gaddafi (presumably to cover-up) were Obama and H. Clinton. That little nugget of truth is actually relevant to Americans today who have to vote for someone from Obama & Hillary's political party in two months. In the end, the video had news footage I had never seen in the last 50 years, but it was typical BBC spin.

Interesting - a two pot of coffee view. Now, let's have an expose of Obama's rise so that he can depart Chicago without a word about its destruction since he's decamped to Martha's Vineyard, DC, or Hawaii to encourage the Obama Alumni Association to work its wiles. Let's remember that Hillary, the little girl from Wisner Avenue in Park Ridge, was just the same in 2016 as she was in high school at Maine Twp., duplicitous to the core. Perhaps Zuckerberg needs to be given the Mussolini end treatment. Doesn't leave much for voter. A serial plagiarist whose promotion describes elder abuse and who, if elected, will cause the 25th amendment to be enacted after he's inaugurated but before the ceremonial Congressional lunch has ended. Then, there's the incumbent whose background is exposed here. As this video demonstrates, today is simply an accumulation of yesterdays. Isn't it curious that all the mayors of these burning and riotous cities are products of what used to be called "good schooling"? They've all attended elite schools, especially law schools, where they've learned zip. As for BLM - shoot - that really means "Black Lies Matter". And as this film makes clear, whatever you say individually makes utterly no difference. Commentary on this or any site or on "talk radio" is a cheap way to draw a crowd of eyeballs for profit.

While the documentary tried to insinuate Trump did something wrong, with dramatic music and images, it failed to actually mention anything illegal. Second, and separately, in the manner of Robin Hood, are Americans not reduced to waiting for someone who will break the rules of the establishment that has us in chains? The establishment allows the illegals and the elected officials and the corporations to break any rules for their benefit. The rule-followers are the ones in chains today. BTW, I will be at my local City Hall today to protest our City Council's extension of the (ineffective) "emergency" mask mandate. Oh, how bad is the Covid "outbreak" here in Omaha? Well, we don't really know, because our County Health Department has scrubbed all the current information from the public website, and there are no observable signs of illness in the community. And the funniest part is that almost no one in Omaha will even hear about the protest, because our local media won't tell. I'm very grateful for people who are willing to say out loud that they disagree and for Dr. Mercola for keeping the conversation going.

Wow, what a downer, albeit a partial dose of harsh realities. All you really see is that every strategy by every group ultimately fails, as has always been the case, as the forces of good and evil perpetually counter each other in quest for power. Why? Because man fails to acknowledge and trust his Creator. If you want Utopia, you're not going to ever get it from man or man's invention. The only hope for a semblance in the present requires a complete shift from self-sufficiency to God sufficiency. By submitting to His guidance, it is possible to know and take the most profitable steps to achieve the most desirable outcome for all, including ourselves. I'm not talking about religion. I'm talking about purity of heart. That's actually the lesson taught by Jesus Christ. Religion is man-made and subject to the same flaws as every other failing strategy of man.

Walking in love with faith in God is the Way to a life that's more than abundant, right now, in this life, and it's available to anyone who seeks it. God, our Creator, has provided a path, which requires not our trust in man but rather in His Son Jesus Christ. He is a Lord who is not vulnerable to greed and lust for power and who is actually worthy of our trust. As more and more begin to truly walk in love, it is far more powerful than the opposing forces, not to mention supported by our Creator who works in our circumstances beyond our understanding. Our current President, for example, with all his flaws, has implemented policies that enhance our freedom by eliminating many unnecessary man-made restrictions and policies that serve a wealthy few, with a goal towards prosperity for every individual. I'm not saying he's a saint, I'm only saying that God is at work via him on our behalf. That's how it works. When the people lose track of the real underlying fight of light vs darkness, they elect leaders that bring huge imbalance and suffering, suppressing free thought and speech and support chaos, rather than peace.

Great doc.. BUT We, as a life form, have been lied to and misled and misinformed for the past century or more. The 'textbooks' we have all used as an information point and reference to, are all 'edited' by a select few. To gain strength and power for a single religion, I would give ya the site by it was 'conveniently' censored by the same group that runs most the internet , controls the majority of all countries, militaries and governments on earth... Research for yourself "Committee or 300" see the members and see who is running what. This is only 1 of hundreds that have been in 'The Drivers seat" for over 100 years.

Nichola Tesla was the world greatest mind EVER.factually creating the modern world with creating of generators, lights , motors ,AC power (the stuff your computer run on) and hundreds maybe thousands of other inventions and some 'We The People' will never know about..absconded by "the Government'. "The Philadelphia Experiment" in which my Mother witnesses is much more than a true occurrence...it was a fact that happened. Although the test books never covered this .It was poo-poo off as a stunt by the 'trusted news media' , Just another real thing the twisted LIAR 'trusted news medias' pumped up to inflate their very existence.interesting 99% all owned by this same group of money grabbing power hungry 'religious?' gang.

In the 1950s the worlds 'LiarGroup' got a real boost with TV. What a fabulous tool for BrainTraining multi millions of people.and this 'Gang-LiarGroup' was into this super creation(Tesla's Idea)was and IS still being used to virtually destroy man minds and ability to THINK ,for the last century all anyone REALLY KNOWS is what they have been TOLD TO KNOW...by teachers in schools, which is conveniently run by the same group and the good-ole liar NewsMedias worldwide.and they ALL DO IT for M O N E Y Just like the Chemical and BigPharms does it all for M O N E Y , Like politics just another TV Show done for MONEY Money=POWER2Control

I did not finish watching; the music drowned out the narrator, it dragged on and on with no connection to the previous premise; that was painful. In a nutshell ...we're each manipulated by a power greater than ourselves be it the banker, religion, mass murdering manipulators, corporations, gov agencies, tattletale citizenry, ad nauseum. Which is why I follow no one, I lead no one, I choose autonomy and freedom to the best of my reasoning ability.

Yes, I've lived a manipulated life, like all have and do, clanging about rejecting societal norms leaving ashes as my trail. I've moved about in a state of semi-functional depression, alone, yet remaining hopeful, I plan my garden, ever questioning, withdrawing, preparing. I prefer to drown my sorrows in the soil and place my hope in the growth of a seedling than anything else this world has to offer. I've checked out, become an anonymous meme layered between the intellectuals of Mercola, like the Russian girl scraping wheat paste from the wallpaper- I don't believe in anything, yet I always look forward to spring so, there's that, hope springs eternal : )

Sometimes I wonder why do I comment here? I warned people here many times that this world is ruled by the Illuminati. There are 13 original bloodlines of these families, for which the Bush family is one of them —yes, that Bush family, and the single reason why 9-11 was allowed to happen. The Patriot Acts I and II were all planned months if not years in advance, which is why it rammed through Congress and implemented within 45 days. How was it accomplished? The same way the Covid-19 is being touted—by fear. As long as fear is maintained the public will cry for more security, no matter the sacrifices, which means “We the People” have nullified the Constitution.

There were 51 signers of our Constitution. When King George received a list of all the signatures, he ordered his military to round up the signers and execute them, with their entire families and burn their houses down, for which the British military was able to murder 31 of those signers, along with their families burned to death. Our government was so kind as to spare our school children from such an act, and not allowed it into the school textbooks. Our Forefathers were heroes of the highest degree, and their sacrifice is nothing less than we should practice if we want to preserve this nation. I am a free man, for which when possible I refuse to wear a mask, refuse the vaccination that will most likely be mandated, for which I may die in some internment camp, but I would die a free man. Do not kid yourself, we are under the tyranny of the media, so-called "health experts," including Bill Gates, and WHO, for which the United Nations is echoing everything the Illuminati wants.

Given how many have accepted the mainstream narrative and have been scared into submission, we must resist. One way to do this is to minimize ur support for the mega corporations that are trying to enslave us. Stop buying their products, especially tech gear. Use your cellphones as little as possible. I have one but it's off. You don't need to check your email 24 hours x seven. Minimize use of all social media platforms. The new order is being normalized; people are just accepting what's happening--making "the best of it". By opting out of as much as possible, we might hurt people; but that might wake some up and cause them to question the narrative. In particular, stop going to those medical practices that are supporting the agenda and minimize use of OTC and prescription drugs. Not only will your health improve, but it will hurt their bottom line. Email your elected officials and request that mask and vaccine mandates be overturned.

These giant US corporations have one thing in common. They hate individual freedom. Their goal is to return the world to a global serfdom. In essence US Corporations are as fascists as the ones that served Hitler. Kissinger for that matter, if you read his memoirs and did not know who wrote them, you would indeed think that they are the memoirs of Himmler. USA is run at the corporate level in 2020 by English speaking quasinazis. They adore doing business with Communist Chinese tyrants because that is what they want for USA and the West, especially people like the Rockefellers and Rothschilds but also Bill Gates, Mark Zuckerberg, Serguei Brin, Jeff Bezos, Lloyd Blankfein, Steve Jobs etc..... They are in behaviour and essence fascists but of a certain foul kind of fascists, because they pretend being for things like Antifa, BLM and pseudo liberal values, while backing slave labor, harvesting of prisoners organs, Daesh, ISIS and Al Nusra. Saudi terrorism, neo nazis in Ukraine, death squads in South America and Pentagon CIA total police and war state etc..... in most countries they operate.

Yes, the Jews are everywhere. Even Jesus started out as a Jew. This is cultural because most Jewish boys and girls are brainwashed to be somebody and to make something of themselves. It is cultural and it is very, very wrong. Even Bill Gates is from Jewish ancestry. This is why we see so many Jewish people who are of very limited intellectual capacity (including Bill Gates) who create so much havoc. Too driven for their own good or ours. Generally Jewish people do not value health and have awful bodies. I still have to meet a physically attractive Jewish person. Their value system is messed up, they value external achievement and "power." The power of brainwashing and all the supra- and subliminal messages of culture create damaged people.

This video was quite a let down. Time would have been better spent reading abstracts of "Brave New World" and "1984" or watching the movies "Lord of War" and "The Wizard of Oz." Why the persistent attack on Donald Trump of all people? He had no influence on American foreign policy until 2017. Since his election, Trump has drawn down our troops and attempted to negotiate peace with our adversaries. If re-elected, Trump will get our military out of Iraq and Afghanistan and put an end to this fake war.

It's no secret the global elites have been striving for a world government since 1920. They have used every advancement in technology to indoctrinate people with their globalist agenda: books, newspapers, radio, television, movies, and the internet. The United States is the last remaining obstacle to achieving their goal. Every attempt has been made to divide our people and perpetually create angst among us; reshape our culture by attacking and removing all references to Christianity (virtue and peace); exhaust our resources and in-debt us with endless wars and conflicts; and pollute our bodies with countless toxins in our food and water supply. It should come as no surprise the US leads the world in Covid-19 fatalities.

Nobody expected Donald Trump to win the election in 2016. His run for office was considered a joke by the elite. Since his victory, he has exposed the globalists, the fake media, and the sell-out politicians posing as Republicans and Democrats. This has come at a great cost to him, his family, and his associates. He did not need this, but he wanted it. He has exposed the great and mighty Oz like no other before him. Prior to Trump, only Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy dare speak about it. Now it is up to the people of this world to reclaim their God-given right to self-determination. Else, be ruled by an algorithm.

My ideas to fix the situation. Independent investigation of the truth via understanding how media sources, government policies, research and education are all influenced for profit. Identify demogogy and lobbying tactics such as fake conspiracies to discredit people affiliated with views opposing the orthodox. Get rid of your mobile, tv, wifi, remote meters, etc. Grow/catch your own food. Test your soil and the food you catch if unknown. Avoid the doctor using holistic, natural and preventative methods.

Don't freak out people that aren't ready or able to investigate properly as you will be ostracized and eventually singled out in your community. Some people are still struggling to understand how corporate lobbying works so they have no way of rationalizing the fact that food, medicine and other necessities are made with profits not world betterment in mind. Websites such as this can be used to identify people obstructing this corporate control and in the future I would say that you will not want to be put into this category.

Understand where the things you consume come from then try to do no harm by consuming thoughtfully. Give back by picking up rubbish, planting natives, rescuing animals or making sacrifices to ease your consumption. If we don't use the products or view the content then these powerful interests lose and their influence will dwindle. Do you really need a new car or a new shirt with a logo? Consuming is addictive as most get a dopamine hit from it. Fixing stuff is fun and rewarding.

Having meaningful, elevated conversations on a level that the person you are communicating with can handle is the best way to make a difference. Some professionals are on an even lower level due to brainwashing throughout their twisted education. Hopefully one day all children can be taught independent investigation and how to identify conflict of interest. It is becoming harder by the day with all the distractions.

Except: In truth 911 was carried out by elements in the U.S. government and certain allies not by so-called suicide bombers. Makes the entire documentary a field of bs.

"Hypernormalisation tells the story of how politicians, financiers and "technological utopians" constructed a fake world over the last four decades in an attempt to maintain power and control" Wow this TOPIC has really opened up a rabbit hole for some of the posters, right? I just want to add this to it: Gates, Fauci, Moderna and etc. have been working on this PLANDEMIC for a long time. "The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation Leadership Council is comprised of: Dr. Margaret Chan, Director General of WHO; Dr. Anthony S. Fauci, Director of NIAID, part of the National Institutes of Health" and etc.

www.gatesfoundation.org/Media-Center/Press-Releases/2010/12/Global-Hea.. " And there is probably a litany of so called "Elites and Experts" from around the world who are in on it too. Yes it is all about maintaining power and control to eventually bring on their final solution.

epa1375, a couple of days ago I wrote the following and realrose submitted a similar opinion some 5 hours later: epa1375, do you have any more information on the source of that Facebook link? My suspicions were first aroused when they said Gates and Fauci were roommates at Cornell. I think Fauci is more than a dozen years older than ole lizard face. Soros was a teenager (15, 16?) when WWII ended. I'd like to believe that the story was that tidy but until I get more info it seems like a disinformation ad intended to make those questioning vaccines seem sloppy with their assertions.

epi-cure, This video was sent to me by three different people. I assumed it was correct. But checking it for myself there appears to be some dis-info in this video. Even though Fauci owns part of Moderna and went to Cornell, and has been on the board or advisors for the Gates Foundations for many years, apparently some of the info in the video appears to be false. So I removed the video and revised my post to express what I believe to be true. Thanks epi-for your feedback.

Is this news? All news is propaganda as Noam Chomsky has pointed out. Do you think this is going to change. Don't hold your breath. This has been going on for centuries and is a great example of Darwinism.

There is no mention of Faith and the transformative clarity it can bring to mind soul and body Dr. mercola. To embrace life with a balance of awareness that isn't just in your head but a balancing heart space too. That is separate from the ills of phone and computer. Where you can be wise see this distressing social and public conditioning. Do you know I joined briefly Facebook. It's so geared to addicting connections in the brain. And to see how the brain lights up and gives endorphins to areas wanting you to interact in a facade way. Was just eye opening. I can't do it. It's too toxic and to only see what it doles out in a narrow format . I am saddened by all the control and lack of doing the right thing. There is a higher T truth that can bring a measure of hope and measure of sanity in this life not that it's easy or right here. But what is the real focus eternity what needs to be addressed is our future first.

So when that is held and responded too, then clarity wisdom strength joy in nature,peace,hope health of mind and spirit can move thru these illusions or facades better. So we're talking faith in Love,faith in an eternal life. So you can face death with more dignity and honor of heart that is what Jesus brings and meet you where your at be invited in no blame. Only His spirit can help you not feel alone in this crisis and a relationship is a growth that builds freedom hope joy even in these sad days. To embrace what is happening with a more balanced wholeness and not let the grim issues in this world today overcome you fully. There is a soft essence that protects you. A softer still no words deep love and peace that can encourage and ensure whatever we face is held by God who is in control fully. So there is much heart preparation and skills and prayer to do to help balance and heal from trauma and pain heals immune system better. to find that still small voice and walk in Loves essence. It calms the frenetic brain and brings heart wisdom.

The information age seems to be a slap to the face of God. Let me explain. In Genesis 11: 1-9 states "And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech:. Basically they were trying to build a tower to touch the heavens. The Trinity came down and said (Gen 11:6 " Nothing which they purpose to do will be impossible for them". So they scattered them across the globe and confounded their language. Now skip ahead approx 4200 years and humans switched from analog to DIGITAL. We now have 0's and 1's which is one common language again even though there are 100's of spoken and written languages the world is united by the Universal Digital language. I don't recall in Scripture where the Trinity rescinded their action.

Basically mankind did an end run so it seemed like a slap in the face. Look at all the problems facing society now with 0's and 1's being scattered worldwide instantly. In my opinion the Trinity were not concerned for themselves but for what mankind could do to itself when united for one purpose whatever that may be either good or bad. Mostly bad it seems!
