We live in a world steeped in shrewd traps in which disinformation is depleting our intellectual capacity for criticism and truthfulness is conspicuous by its absence. This has an impact on a liberal democratic society that in theory respects freedom of expression and encourages the promotion of human rights, when in reality it is the opposite. By bombarding alternative messages in the social fabric, they often undermine the legitimacy and strength of democracy. Dr. Mercola is delving into the origin of COVID-19 and his arguments do not interest the corrupt oligarchies, who do not want to search for the truth, because behind it there is a display of actions that can harm many interests.

Just looking at the NewsGuard agenda and seeing who finances it, we have the description of a mafia information medium, an Internet watchdog, born to Publicis Groupe, promoter of large industries, including tobacco. Newsguard constitutes a powerful tool of the corrupt capitalism market, backed by a political ideology marked mainly by the monetary, military and economic dominance of a globalized world. It is a tool marked by the oligarchies, which aims to defend the interests of corrupt elites, leading a war against the independent media

The business-led oligarchy and the powerful monetary interests have been working to silence the dissenters. Newsguard, by virtue of its deep connections with the world's largest technology corporations and the attention of related media, praising its intentions, we all know, of which foot they limp: from the power of great fortunes, framed in this movement of corrupt neo-conservatism . A quick look at its co-founders, major funders, and advisory board makes it clear that Newsguard aims to curb the voices of independent media confronting the Pharmaceutical Mafia and corrupt oligarchic powers.

Beautifully laid out Gui. People can take yes or no, they can not stand I don't know. Where do we keep finding ourselves? In the land of I don't know. Why? Because entity's like Newsguard are organizations of Sales Dog's, students of Marketing Science & seller's of Let the Buyer Beware. Shutting down discussions and debate among the many people normally separated by regional cultures, types of jobs or lack there of, perceived social status and so on.

A modern Tower of Babble serving a Money Machine at the expense of Life itself as it is a linear process mining the health & life of not only the fellow humans who inhabit the Planet, but the Garden itself, Earth, to feed $$$ power & control - in a process of death to even themselves. What do we actually know from our personal experience? We were already separated in our lives when compared to life just a few short decades ago. Now with the global shutdown what is being pushed? Digital this, digital that, completely sterile & empty of personal interactive human contact or engagement.

This site, those cross sections of people and their normally separate experiences are a danger to them as we engage in process of discovery and may find out we are not separated, we are not a minority, we are the actual and real center who can and will find solutions to a healthy, Regenerative, Sustainable Culture. A culture not beholding to people behind a curtain, smoke & mirrors selling one thing but delivering something else all together. Our drive, our push is to Co-Create with Creation & it's closed loop that everything nurtures and feeds everything else, there is no throw away. There is no need to create vaccines to prevent disease & then take those virus back to a lab to slice & dice to create something more horrible, for what? To make more vaccines? The same suspicion applies to computer virus's also. Just saying.

Well said Guillermo, I think this whole situation is one more chapter of the history of humanity in our planet earth. The human animal behavior have not changed in centuries. Driven by power, ego, greediness, ones more than others. How we can change this? Listening to Dr. Bruce Lipton "The Biology of Believe" gives me hope, we really need to change our perceptions our thoughts, our intentions. in the end our actions; not allowing those on top to manipulate us with all the "needs" that they create for us.

In some way, on a direct or indirect form we are "feeding" them with our consumerism, we are brain washed; we must change our behavior in order to achieve some results. of course there are other aspects that we do not have control over... can we change the outcome? what can we do? how? A friend of mine sent me this link, for USA residents. petitions.whitehouse.gov/petition/no-mandatory-vaccines-u-s-citizens-n.. Gui; there are a number of "fact" checking sites that dispense nothing but dis/misinformation. Anything that Newsguard, Snopes, et al "debunks" - I always assume it's the truth! I like that Dr. Mercola is questioning this virus. With all the info that I've seen, things don't add up. First of all; this virus seemed to pop up in various parts of the world, simultaneously, which doesn't sound like a 'natural' occurrence to me. Secondly; it seems to affect everyone differently. Some people die and others are barely affected (assuming that it is indeed COVID-19 that they're suffering from). Having looked at this from many angles, I believe that this Chimera has the ability to morph/mutate, given the right catalyst. How about this for a "conspiracy theory": At some point, people were injected with a vaccine that had this virus, lying dormant and now, something has activated it! I would never put it past the evil minions! One thing for sure - mandatory vaccines are coming and who knows how much harm they will cause! Also; Big Brother/Sister is about to go ALL IN with the surveillance game!

Randyfast, thanks for mentioning Snopes. That's another one I ignore. From the start I thought none of this made any sense either. Through Mercola and a few others I trust the pieces are coming together. Was it an accident or intentional is a big question. Could be either, but incredible incompetence let it get totally out of control. But our saviors are ready to ride in with vaccines and inserted chips. That's very easy to believe from our current health system and Gate's history.

NewsGuard sounds exactly like our own MSM media outlets. It has an agenda leaning in favor of socialism/communism just like CNN, ABC, NBC and CBS. It also falls into the same category of "misnamed" entities, the same thing that George Soro's 100 plus organization he uses to subvert America. They all have names chosen specifically to sound patriotic but in reality they are the exact opposite. Soros's agenda is to destroy America. He should be branded as an enemy of America as well as freedom and liberty world-wide. I believe Russia still has an open arrest warrant for him as well as Hungary. Why he is still walking around free is beyond me.

Thanks RAGUS, you have defined it very well, a plutocrat advisory council. The truth is that much of what happens in American politics is, at bottom, a struggle between democracy and the plutocracy. A plutocracy has come as the end of an oligarchy in which our society is governed or controlled by a minority of its wealthiest members. A representative example, is the absence of limits on electoral expenses and campaign contributions, strengthens the political and ideological domain of those who have economic power and may end up silencing the voice of the middle and lower classes. In the US and in many countries, the selection of rulers does not depend so much on the egalitarian will of citizens as on the preferences of the richest. What to expect next in the protection of citizens and the conservation of the environment and sustainable development policies?

JUST, you say it very well, the same ones that cause or create biological or computer viruses, then create vaccines or computer antivirus, in a war for power and money. Swine flu, or H1N1, had been dead for 20 years when it suddenly re-emerged in 1977 with a curious twist. The new strain was genetically similar to one from the 1950s, almost as if it had been frozen in a laboratory since then. In fact, over time it became clear that the flu outbreak in the late 1970s was likely the result of a lab worker problem.

In this dynamic of vaccine laboratories, antivirus, and alleged biological weapons. There will always be the possibility of an accident, or the opportunity or a potentially dangerous goal. It is very important information based on reality, which does not create fear or hysteria, which does not lead us after a confinement to an economic crisis and mass vaccination.

Yes, there should be a universal law to avoid these threats to life and disinformation, but it would go against the interests, which have been established, by the oligarchies. Corruption is embedded in institutional instability. The loss of political legitimacy experienced by many governments, the polarization of power, bureaucratic inefficiency, etc., are attributed to the action of corruption. New communication and computer technologies have increased the impact of certain corrupt practices.

Guillermou, well stated. Their "shrewd traps [of] disinformation" can go one of two ways. Yes, they can and do deplete "our intellectual capacity for criticism and truthfulness," but that can also backfire on the perpetrators: it can also wake people up and energize them with greater purpose and resolve. The lid on the trap is cracked open; light is streaming in while the powerful struggle to re-secure the lid. We're at that point in the drama, and it can go one of two ways.

Yes, RANDY, you can hit the target. Leslie Snider, a biotechnology instructor at MiraCosta College in Oceanside, California, says about creating viruses (parenthetically Dr. Mercola's opinion of this community):

"It is possible to design viruses to 'be beneficial' (vaccines are a mistake), but it is already being done. Viruses have been designed primarily for use by humans as so-called recombinant (or subunit) vaccines. In this technology, the genetic material of a harmful virus is analyzed to identify the gene or genes that encode the antigens (identification proteins) that trigger the body's immune response
"Then RANDY, it is possible that on the way to To make a vaccine a new coronavirus has been born, now Gates and the Pharmaceutical Mafia want to profit from genetic error

Yes DARZOOM, so much corruption and manipulation of information, has to wake people up and open the trap for the light of change to enter. On that path, the presidential elections must be transparent. Debates where commitments and the obligation to fulfill them can be seen. The regulation of lobbies and the role they can play is essential. The absence of a sanctioning regime that penalizes breaches of obligations regarding transparency and good governance. Multiple control bodies. The participation and collaboration of citizens in the definition of public policies constitutes a great value to prevent and fight against corruption, the society constituted as one more agent in the fight against corruption, is a great contribution that requires the commitment of the administration to facilitate this collaboration. Recognize the fundamental nature of the right of access to information, avoiding the difficulties of locating information on transparency portals. It is necessary to count on each and every citizen so that they become agents of the fight against corruption, to pass on the message that what is public belongs to everyone, and that fraud, corruption and irregular behavior harm us all. society as a whole.

It is very appropriate that you mention Bruce Lipton, who mentions the dangers of genetic engineering and transgenic foods. As Lipton says, cells have memory. They learn through experience, from their contact with the environment around them, and then they keep a memory that allows them to better adapt and anticipate changes. The hope is precisely that this humanity feeds these cells with the wisdom that gives us empathy, nobility, humor, solidarity and we take care of this planet with organic agriculture, responsible consumption and a deep love for everyone around us. .

Imperial College London talks that in Spain there could be up to seven million people infected. A large percentage do not know it, they are asymptomatic. "The Imperial Collegue has algorithmically calculated the transmission speed of the virus and reached a range of about seven million infected, which could now be ten million, an order of magnitude greater. Up to 80% of the tests done in people without symptoms they are positive. And this data could be beneficial because Spain could achieve herd immunity before other countries ", by José Antonio López Guerrero, virologist, director of the neurovirology group at the Autonomous University of Madrid, and author of the Book 'Virus: neither alive nor dead'.

Bill Gates is practicing epidemiology and medicine for the entire globe, without a license. He has made outrageous statements on film, for which any other person than a man with the money to fund the globe, would be criminally prosecuted. It's time to sue and prosecute like hell, from left and right, coming out of all corners. And I don't ordinarily believe in lawsuits and have never filed one fyi. This situation is very different, and affects the entire globe's health, economic and socio political wellbeing. ALSO: I think it is really a no-brainer that a virus can leak from a lab. I wish a late NIH microbiologist researcher who I knew, was still with us to share what she would have had to say about it. EDIT: She probably would have said, "I told you not to go fooling around with viruses!"

Gates is the king of vaccines and fear. Gates urged world leaders to prepare for a pandemic in the same way that they prepare for war. Gates thought of a long way for the pandemic to continue. I advise states to enact social distancing mandates as a recipe for the disaster that is already causing great economic pain, and creating hysteria in the population at the likelihood that the virus will return and cause more deaths. Their goal is to create a vaccine in less than 18 months with a data-driven approach and rapid trials, where previous vaccines have caused serious harm, in addition to weakening people's immune systems. Gates also proposed to the federal government to help build facilities where the vaccines will be made. Target vaccines and power. Causes, suffering, diseases and deaths from the coronavirus, vaccines and the economic crisis.

And it might be that this corona virus is the end of the road for humanity....www.sciencealert.com/some-covid-19-patients-are-also-reporting-neurolo.. "Several recent studies have identified the presence of neurological symptoms in COVID-19 cases. Some of these studies are case reports where symptoms are observed in individuals. Several reports have described COVID-19 patients suffering from Guillain–Barré syndrome. Guillain–Barré syndrome is a neurological disorder where the immune system responds to an infection and ends up mistakenly attacking nerve cells, resulting in muscle weakness and eventually paralysis.

Other cases studies have described severe COVID-19 encephalitis (brain inflammation and swelling) and stroke in healthy young people with otherwise mild COVID-19 symptoms. Larger studies from China and France have also investigated the prevalence of neurological disorders in COVID-19 patients. These studies have shown that 36 percent of patients have neurological symptoms." If it isn't COVID19...it's likely to be something else...most likely a combination of things....all things that COULD have been mitigated or slowed...but as usual the dummies voted for dummies.... npolog, adding to what Stanleybecker just said, I wanted to say that you are exactly describing lyme disease symptoms. Of course what causes the same symptoms may have a different etiology (medical source) since it is all neurological autoimmunity symptoms, but I would ask a specialist about how to do a "differential diagnosis" between what you are reporting you have read re COVID 19, and lyme itself. My bet is the doctor who is lyme literate, would probably diagnose lyme, but I can't say firmly. I would ask the question though, if the illness may be confused with lyme, and how do they know for sure that the symptoms are caused by COVID19/the virus in the brain, or if the coronavirus is merely compromising the immune system so the lyme symptoms step forward and/or the lyme is able to spread while infected with coronavirus? That would be a question for a lyme literate MD and none other, because mainstream physicians are metabunk when it comes to working with lyme. lymediseaseassociation.org/wp-content/uploads/2009/11/DrB_SymptomList2..

That said, it only makes sense that respiratory distress will cause neurological impacts. Oxygen to brain...it takes no medical degree to figure that one out.

Stanley, respecting your statements very much on a generalized basis, I do not completely agree with you. I think that to investigate whether or not this virus was genetically engineered, if the answer proves to be yes, indicates that malice is afoot. It is actually very important. I agree with you that to go after the masterminds is even more urgent. I do not know what others might say about this, and having said my piece, I hereby yield the floor. EDIT: I need to add that to investigate and prosecute anyone who gene spliced this virus, should it have been genetically modified, and anybody who aided and abetted this cause, is key to stopping them from ever trying such a thing ever again. This is IMPORTANT!

Created or accident, the truth is that although most laboratories have very high safety standards with workers wearing plastic hoods and working behind heavy steel doors, leaks can occur due to failures in respiratory equipment. Marc Lipsitch and Alison P. Galvani, two epidemiologists have demonstrated their concern for the creation of new infectious agents that put human life at risk. They estimate that if 10 American labs performed these kinds of experiments over a decade, there would be a 20 percent chance that a lab worker would become infected and pass it on to others. The Marburg and Ebola viruses have infected laboratory workers at a higher containment level than these experiments.

A Singaporean laboratory worker was inadvertently infected with SARS in 2003. In 2004, a Russian scientist died after accidentally sticking an Ebola-contaminated needle in a Siberian laboratory. In April, the Pasteur Institute in Paris lost 2,000 vials containing the SARS virus. And in March, the Galveston National Laboratory in Texas lost a vial containing the Guanarito virus, which causes "bleeding under the skin, in internal organs, or from body holes such as the mouth, eyes, or ears."

One job I quit , was working in a laboratory (gold recovery electroplating) - The nurses at the plant were responsible for cleaning and inspecting our respirators. One sad memorable time, I put on my respirator and gloves looked ok to me, and did my job adding cyanide stripper solution to a tank. Immediately as it went in the tank I was contaminated. Right in my lungs, I tossed of the "mask" (was a full face respirator with cartridges) gasping and gasping. Went to the nurse and told what happened, Got a reply . " Well your lips aren't blue." "so you must be ok" .!!! What ??? Here it was not inspected correctly . a small flap was folded over a little and left the poison blow in.

So their argument is that the new virus is ONLY 96% identical to the bat virus? Sheesh! Monkeys are 98.9% identical to humans genetically. 4% variation is a LOT! Of course this was genetically created. It happened back in 2014 in North Carolina by the Chinese "bat scientist" they brought to USA and Fauci sent 3.7 million $ to China to fund the Biolevel 4 lab for her to continue to study the extremely dangerous chimera that was created in USA. The lab was set up to study corona virus and HIV and had live animals for testing. There was much concern worldwide that there would be a screw up in this lab; especially since the new director of protocol was the inexperienced young wife of the previous director who got the job because of nepotism.

I think we all need to be paying attention to the recent study released that showed that those who got the H1N1 shots were way more likely to get a corona virus. This next experimental vaccine will alter our immune systems forever making us slave to Big Pharma in order to survive at all. Nice business plan. That along with Gates, Kissinger and Fauci's plan to ruin the economy, chip or tattoo us for immunity passes and make a fortune on untested vaccine that they want to be mandatory need to be opposed now. Keep in mind that Gates is also a supporter of GMO's, Monsanto , owns largest share in the Norwegian seed repository and is trying to digitize all our money to do away with cash and the rest of our privacy & independence. His vaccine programs have crippled and sterilized brown people in multiple countries and he is being sued by India for paralyzing 490,000 children. His "philanthropy donates to PRIVATE companies that he owns stock in so he takes a tax write off while making a huge profit and as he has mentioned many times REDUCING THE WORLD POPULATION! When Steven Colbert asked Gates about the "conspiracy theory" that he wanted to chip us with vaccines; Gates laughed it off but DID NOT DENY IT!

Farmercist, Appears to be correct if you care to believe the Chinese govt. However, if following the early days of this virus outbreak, the Chinese "story" about its origins did not add up. Repeated across the International Press, dna or partial rna analysis reports from the UK mentioned this virus is most likely man-made - and why. The US media was silent on this topic until much later. Meanwhile, last summer, many residents of Wuhan had been protesting heavy air pollution, (this is something you would not want to do in a repressive govt. system). After replaying video clips showing President Trump stating in a press conference that "we have this thing under control" while visiting Seattle in January, an effort was made trace back what the White House knew about the virus and when.

Seems a US trade official in Wuhan had warned in mid-November of unusual activity (presumably a spike in trading activity) was going on Wuhan before the first identified Wuhan patient 0 on December 1. Recently, a US research lab in the Pacific NW is tracing how the virus spread across the US, and where. Although they were thinking it came from a single flight from Wuhan to Seattle, California later provided evidence that this virus was in the US well before US patient 0 flew back from visiting Wuhan. For whatever reason, the Chinese timeline is placed way later than actual reports, and with a long incubation period, this virus could have been in circulation as early as mid-October 2019. The wet-market story now appears just that, a story.

Hahaha! I am laughing now. (Though not happy either, just laughing at the ridiculousness of the agenda afoot). See this...but then they say that Snopes is the trustworthy one as is Newsguard, time for the Coronagate investigation to begin www.foxnews.com/media/physician-blasts-cdc-coronavirus-death-count-gui.. "Dr. Scott Jensen, a Minnesota family physician who is also a Republican state senator, told "The Ingraham Angle" Wednesday that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) guidelines for doctors to certify whether a patient has died of coronavirus are "ridiculous" and could be misleading the public". "Jensen also reacted to Dr. Anthony Fauci's response to a question about the potential for the number of coronavirus deaths being "padded," in which the NIAID director described the prevalence of "conspiracy theories" during "challenging" times in public health. "I would remind him that anytime health care intersects with dollars it gets awkward," Jensen said."

Propaganda and censorship are a bit like laws in this sense: no one passes a law to compel people to do what everyone is already doing, or to prevent what no one would ever dream of doing. Likewise, there is no need to block information that no one is interested in, or that is so obviously discredited that everyone can see through it. In a society where the media and the government are beyond reproach, trustworthy from a long-demonstrated track record of being just and forthright, why would anyone seek alternatives?

Just such alternatives—e.g. a recent interview with Dr. Buttar, or a London Real interview with David Icke—have shot into the millions of views without the long-established resources and advantages of mainstream outlets. The censors shut down both; meanwhile mainstream outlets have in recent years been caught staging fake stories, most recently portraying an Italian E.R. as being in N.Y., or CNN's Chris Cuomo pretending to be quarantined in his basement. They struggle for viewership and should be embarrassed, if not for repeatedly being caught in deceit, then for relying on all their advantages while still falling behind. They have a problem; people are waking up. The censorship and propaganda may seem powerful, but they are tacit admissions of weakness and vulnerability. When enough people wake up from their trance, induced by the mass-hypnotizing media-government complex, it is game over for their corrupt rule; we can then resume the hard work of aspiring to realize the ideals that are now only pretended.

Yes, DARZOOM, serve this for reflection. In the introduction to his book History of Propaganda, Jacques Ellul, a philosopher, sociologist and theologian writes: "In the midst of increasing mechanization and technological organization, propaganda is simply the means used... to persuade man to submit with good grace. When man... will end by obeying with enthusiasm, convinced of the excellence of what he is forced to do, the constraint of the organizations will no longer be felt by him; the truth is, it will no longer be a constraint, and the police will have nothing to do. The civic and technological good will and the enthusiasm for the right social myths - both created by propaganda - will finally have solved the problem of man. "

In the body of the book, Ellul writes: "To make the organization of propaganda possible, the media must be concentrated, the number of news agencies reduced, the press brought under single control, and radio and film monopolies established. The effect will be still greater if the various media are concentrated in the same hands. When a newspaper trust (ie, monopoly) also extends its control over films and radio, propaganda can be directed at the masses and the individual can be caught in the wide net of media. "

Ellul describes what we have now, an agreeable, comfortable enslavement, aided and abetted by the comforts, conveniences and distractions of modern technologies and the "ethos" of materialistic consumerism.

Darzoum, already people are getting tired of the Shelter in Place, protests are being organized, and obviously people are questioning things. I know when I stand in line at Whole Foods and talk with people, they all say things like "we have a bad government" "The government wants us to think a certain way" "it is all being exaggerated" "they are guessing the figures without testing" ie: they see right through it. I think the signs are that people no longer just plain trust the government outright, and they shouldn't. After a certain point the Boy Who Cried Wolf no longer gets the attentive ears. And it is already happening....at least in the area where I live.

Mirandola, that's good to hear. I see mixed reactions, but my feeling is telling me people are waking up and that the globalists and technocrats, despite their decades of planning, propaganda and incrementalist nibbling, might have tried to bite off too much with this latest stunt... they're now trying to keep their cover in some dark corner while conspicuously choking and gagging and making a horrible rukus.

Darzoum, full disclosure, I too see mixed responses from the crowds. Yet, when I talk to those who believe the mainstream story, and tell them certain things, they wake up like a lightning bolt saying "WHAT?????" They get it right away. I think the time is ripe for even those asleep, to start waking up. People have seen enough corruption from our government to start to distrust the powers that be. As the Psalmist said...oh I hate to sound so biblical, but this phrase is proving to be true...."The weight of their rise shall be their downfall".

As people become more awake and concerned about the economic impacts of the shelter in place, the time will become more and more ripe for sending URL links by chain emails. But, I suggest send the ones that will encourage, not discourage, and to not send things that can be said to be "conspiracy theory". YOU know that old canned speech....canned speeches immediately should be a no-brainer for the pure and provable fact, that an agenda is afoot....but, avoid that route with friends and associates. Instead, I suggest send links that offer hope since people need that now. And break through the fear with truth quoted out of the mouths of highly credible sources.

If emails repeatedly get stuck for no apparently good reason, report to the <http://www.aclu.org> ACLU and <http://www.eff.org> the Electronic Frontier Foundation, only should the email carrier not be able to solve the problem. www.aclu.org/fact-sheet/documents-confirm-how-nsas-surveillance-proced..

The ACLU has reported about stingray technology that can cut off our phone calls unexpectedly and inexplicably. www.aclunc.org/publications/stingrays-most-common-surveillance-tool-go.. Do an ACLU search on Stingrays, police and official US Government abuse thereof. This could be official intercepting, but try the email carrier first, and only if that does not work, then report to the sources above.

Mirandola, thanks.

I've never thought of myself as a "conspiracy theorist," nor have I ever identified myself that way to others. Even so, I think it's ridiculous how that term has been weaponized, as if there have never been conspiracies in history or current event! And then when I think about who might benefit through that form of social self-censorship, and the ramifications it has on freedom of speech, I use the term freely and liberally whenever my thinking leads me there, without self censorship.

off-guardian.org/2020/04/25/say-it-aint-so-consortium-news-deploys-the..

"By then the tactic had been used successfully for roughly thirty years, after the CIA, in its Memo #1035-960, first weaponized the phrase "conspiracy theory" to discredit critics of the Warren Report. "conspiracy theory" had been absorbed into the hearts and minds of everybody in the US and beyond, so that most people felt – and feel – that they must distrust their own quite rational suspicions of elite attempts to rob them of their rights and freedoms, as if the very notion of such covert class warfare, waged by Them against the rest of us, is absolutely crazy on its face."

I'll look into "Stingrays."

Hi Darzoum! I love what you say about freedom of speech, censorship, and who benefits from the canned speech...."conspiracy theory"...thank you for sharing those talking points! I think you are quite right, well said! I will remember that too. Gratitude! Consider what whistleblowers of WWII concentration camps would have been called...yet the reality was there...does denial pay off? Absolutely not. It only hurts us. Oh but it is so painful to face certain realities. People don't want to. It is too much to face.. They want to tread lightly, let life be easy and fun.

Well it won't be so much fun if we let dynamics spiral downward unchecked. Where did that phrase originate ? Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty...or something like that.....we must take breaks, then continue on.....send links to strategic places, I think that is key. Sending very best wishes!!! KEep well, keep the faith! The pendulum is going to swing back and I think the architects of this mess will find that they created their own trap in the long run, for their own selves. Yesterday on npr they interviewed a woman from snopes, another thought police agency. She was there to debunk many of the "fake" news stories going around. She mentioned gates, wuhan and several other things. It was interesting how she put a little spin on each one of those stories, a spin that I'd never heard before, and thus claimed them all false. An example; she said that the fake news story that gates created this c-19 was false. I've never heard anyone say gates was the 'creator' of the virus and yet, the way she spins it, gates is completely innocent (read the next article to get a glimpse of the gates plan). The same approach was used on all the other examples she gave. Not only should we not trust snopes, we should not trust any media who uses any of these thought police agencies. Npr is now complicit in promoting this false narrative.

Krofter, it's the "straw man" fallacy... old as the hills; don't address the actual position someone is arguing, particularly if you can't beat it with the facts; rather, mischaracterize their position: build up as a surrogate argument or "straw man" something you can beat and then proceed to attack that.

Hi Krofter., you are quite right! Snopes never engage with the data. They are just TRUTH BLOCKERS. They don't want any open dialogue. Robert F Kennedy Jnr has begged one of the Big Pharma companies to take him to court for revealing the shite in Gardisol. They won't because it will mean an open forum and the truth will come out. We live in a synthetic world. So yes this would be a synthetic virus. We need to learn from this experiment on the human race, from the Fear and Anxiety and lies they tried to spread to people's minds. As we need to get ready for the next item released on us. Stronger pandemics and all. Fake food ,fake vaccines, fake drugs, fake health care, fake fabrics, plastic containers, chemicals , pesticides, herbicides. --That's our man made world. Lot of serious something we don't know about going on, that the real fake news is covering up, with all this virus cover-up. We never even hear about major earthquakes anymore. Something going on "they" are hiding.

Many people have stated that the "shutdown" will do infinitely more harm than the virus. This insanity will have repercussions/ramifications that will be with us for some time. Here's one of many examples I can think of: What about the thousands of people who have had surgery and were just beginning physio when all this nonsense began? If you need any kind of surgery now (or in years to come), you can forget about it! They will all be suffering now; as will millions of others, for various reasons. The "New Normal" will be anything but! This is the total collapse and rebuilding/reinventing of society (as per the NWO). I can't see it being anything else.

YES, IT IS SCARY TO THINK ABOUT. so many other viruses have come and gone IN VIRTUAL SILENCE! You didn't even HEAR about them! and they killed and infected MILLIONS, a LOT more than this covid. Yet here we are in a complete shut down, and like u said collapsed society, millions unemployed. Was all this really necessary? Our old influenza STILL has it over the amount of people who died from this. (and even those numbers are being inflated now - I've been hearing that a lot - tho not through mainstream). so what gives? why would the ENTIRE WORLD just shutter up it's really unbelievable. AND.. now that people have had some time for this to even sink in, maybe many are asking the same thing. Questioning things... YET, we have all been scared so *less that we dare not question it. And you can't go against these mandates or you will be outcast by the mainstream and the brainwashed. But wow... how FAST it all happened. NOBODY had time to even think! and here we are. An entirely new world, for many months, or like u said even years to come. It's almost unreal.

Thanks, Lin. I've been studying the evil for many years and I'll say it again; this really has nothing to do with a virus and everything to do with the coming tyranny. If people can't see that this is already turning into a Police State (Canada, U.S....doesn't matter!); then, they are blind! Most people don't even think anymore - they just "do as they're told"! I had a thought, yesterday that this nonsense will still be going on when the 'elections' are to take place. I wonder what will happen then! This can go so many different ways - it makes me dizzy! I guarantee you this: From now on, our lives are not our own.

I feel sorry for impressionable infants born at this time. Go to the store, look at face masks, spooky, creepy, dehumanized. First life's impressions for a baby. I have seen newborns at the store, and am always very concerned for them. How do they perceive this? What is the psychological imprint? But much worse, what is the economic impact going to be? How long can the government go on paying unemployment checks to so many? Is the breaking of the economy deliberate, and a foreshadow of things to come? This is spooky. This is why I want to see lawsuits, now, before it is too late. We don't want to see riots and war. I much prefer lawsuits, and they can have a far better outcome.

Hi, Mirandola. Yes; the psychological effects will be numerous, far and wide. Do you know what that means...More Big Pharma drugs for everyone! The game changes; but the evil agendas remain the same. It's always about the rich getting richer. I've been saying for a few years that children being born today, won't stand much of a chance at life. I think the current situation has proven me right - and they're just getting started. I don't just "know" bad (worse) times are coming. I can feel it in the air. That may not make any sense; although, I do seem to have some fine tuned perceptions. Stay vigilant. Coming on the heels of this, will be forced vaccinations, 5G, A.I., smart grid, smart cities, robots and transhumanism - and TOTAL surveillance! Now is their golden opportunity to do it all - mostly by stealth!

Bert Farrell please see my post about the Wuhan lab and its contents and ever changing site "Contact us" info, etc.....but the articles at the Wuhan lab were all about genetic engineering OR the study of bats and why they can have simultaneous infections without becoming ill. What can we learn from the bats? Was one of the topics of articles. But most, I must say quite overwhelmingly, were about genetic engineering of viruses, yup. Whether they were studying this or actually doing it, could be questioned but the articles by overwhelming numbers, and their contents, were all about genetic engineering, despite the lab's protest that they don't do that, posted of course, as of January 2020! (If there were any before that date, I did not see them). It's crazy how the URL and articles were in English, suddenly to convert to Chinese, then with an English translation button but each day I see it, the "contact us" roams from Wuhan to Yunan to Beijing and the contents change. I find it fascinating to experience the rise of this freedom of information movement, apart from from the content. The suppression which has been gradually strengthening ever since the label "quack" was introduced into scientific discourse, attacking the scientist, rather than challenging the science, has reached a point where we are realizing we must fight for our freedom of speech, the freedom to be able to discuss and debate ideas, because it is at risk of being lost forever.

It makes me think about what it would have been like to have lived back in Nazi Germany when people started to experience the rise of the tyranny: the propaganda, the laws being changed, freedom of information being suppressed, the plans to label people with tattoos and the individuals who responded by forming a resistance.... but this time the patterns are being repeated in a digital environment and with the benefit of history.

from what I've read in martial arts history, the 'old' greek philosophers were very skilled fighters as daring to be different and speak out was very life threatening... It should be mentioned in history class imo. Same thing with health: even in 'old' times, 'grandmasters' or practitioners of martial arts (don't reduce it to crude thug behavior) tended to live as long as 'modern' medicine 'allows' us to nowadays. Not just because they were a bit better at defense against another human being (that's mostly a factor when young but not so much when older, mainly because of temperament and self control; not because of lack of martial efficiency when older; often the opposite) but because of knowledge of natural medicine (to not fall into a category) and the attitude of 'every solution is in nature' (as mentioned in jap kyokuns etc). In short: people who take control of their health have always lived long(er) and freedom isn't free.

We share about 98% of our genome with bonobos and chimps. If the virus shares only 96% of its genome with a normal bat virus, that's even less similar than we are to the other apes. So if the world is suddenly overrun with chimps and bonobs, that's okay, we'll just assume they came from a human somewhere at random.

I'm a bit disappointed of lots of comments, as THE ELITE's PLAN is working: WE ARE FIGHTING EACH OTHER.

It doesn't really matter where it came from because it might have come from anywhere they decided to release it. You decide if they released a virus or a storm of media terror (as used all the previous times to justify evil afterwards).

Don't get lost in the mazes of smoke screens. It's all to keep us busy and fight each other.

Most are looking for a solution to please Globalism/elite who doesn't want the solution, they want the power of the fear. All our rights are getting stripped one by one, THAT is what is happening. Not people dropping dead.

It's so obvious lockdown is a scam. As if the fragile people would not die otherways. Do people really think the 'saved' ones, 'thanks' to the measures, are gonna live another 20 years???? Since WHEN is stopping the unstoppable part of life/nature called death, the model for society?? Do people believe they are gonna stop death because big gov has started 'the War' against death?

How absurd must it get before we wake up? Blind obedience to Big Media (and uniforms) is killing us! Which is actually stupidity and lazyness which nature has always sanctioned... no escape from nature's laws, even on mass scale. Solution: better ourselves and take control of our own lives.

yeah what I meant to say before starting preaching again is that the elite has no nation, they just put us up against each other. China -and by that I mean the chinese people, not some muppet supposed to represent them- is not our enemy.

Don't let them justify the next world war, we are all misleded victims. The elite (yes and our sins/flaws of course) looks like the enemy, but who is the real enemy: the one who tells the lie or the one who executes it? Just following orders sir... I always get bad urges when I hear that crap... as justification for all that is bad.

Let's open our eyes and not fight any other nation, but fight the lies and those who spread them (and those who profit from them) and fight for a future where there is still freedom in life for our children.

Big Media watchdogs are just there to watch nobody contests their lies. It's aimed at the same people who believe everything they see on the news, are disturbed by a hint of doubt and need a watchdog for the tap on the shoulder/in the back to help them sleep. If Mercola is branded as 'fake' that's quite a compliment. We live in such a sick world where nothing natural is accepted anymore and everybody has to sneakily fulfill their urges. Guilty pleasures are the norm, makes us all feel guilty and accept whatever sentence when we get 'caught' doing something natural (like drinking fresh milk etc). We are on a path to self destruction. Globalism is not natural at all. All hail king money! Well, money is not the real problem, it's the purveyed lie that you need money to have the right to live, own, be home, respect etc that makes us enslaved to it. And our lack of action against it. Instead of blaming ourselves for voting for the wrong candidate, let's not vote for any of the puppets and they'll lose a bit of their power. When logging out, I came on that crap news of yahahahoo 'news', and amongst all the lies it was almost shocking to hear Dr. Pierre Raoult speak as he seems to not be able to conform to the official lies, an example for scientists. THANK YOU to everyone for the GREAT posts. They are precious. Some are very hopeful while others are very pessimistic. I do not know what camp I am in because the corruption across the world, the evil incarnate and the power mongering is too often insurmountable to me. I keep asking where is God in all this and, if humanity is meant to survive and revive then it will. One thing is for sure, I no longer believe in the overall good of people. I believe humans are inherently evil or subject to change to it too readily. That is pessimistic because the awake people who speak on this site are a small minority.

I agree that most people are followers and will do anything to allay their fear if told by the likes of Bill Gates and government. Though, it is interesting and heartening to see, that to even speak of him and his ilk as being in the evil class, as more are, is a step forward and hopeful. To see that petition up to have his crimes revealed etc is great. However, I live in Oz and unless our PM is on the phone to DJT to get the truth and intel, then we are doomed here to keep following medical tyranny. Any mandated vaccine would see me on a hunger strike as I will not be able to be fed, as government here links any pensions and welfare with mandates.

America has the best and worst, but we, the rest of the world, need every patriot to get out and fight for their God-given rights to the death so that the rest of us can see. We have no forums for fighting for right here: we have no constitution that protects us, no Bill of Rights, no guns, no-one to speak out like you have, nothing of consequence really. Only tradition and the ballot box and the occasional civil libertarian save us at times. COVkill as I call it, is evilman-made and deliberate. Most on the planet have a price and it only takes a promise of riches to enable the leak. Australia is implicated in this - the Geelong laboratory. Opening for a lawsuit there but who would take it up?

Thank you Dr Mercols for providing such researched information; the way you compile the evidence and also the great summary at the start. I really appreciate the lack of hype and the way language is so often very carefully used. Off to do my NO dump as it one of my most cherished learnings from you.

One thing I'd like to know is how many of those that have bad outcomes with this virus have been regularly vaccinated for other viral infections, especially 'flu'.

I find any censorship very scary and agree that it is undemocratic. I also find it too coincidental that there are labs in Wuhan working on a CV virus and yet they say it came from a market. In addition, this virus is certainly very quirky which adds to my suspicion that it has been modified from its original Bat origins. My last issue is that I am surprised that any country would give tax payers money to China to work on such things. As a communist country, it is clear that China cannot be trusted to tell the truth. Hence, it is very naive to finance such delicate and dangerous work outside of the US.

hi bryan, the news is setting us up against each other in a neverending maze of misinformation. Yes there are bioweapons labs in china whether official or not, but not only there but everywhere! Just like there's good and bad everywhere. Don't let them fool you thinking an outside country is not to be trusted. I had the 'chance' to grow up in 2 different languages and was shocked from a young age when I saw the tv news from one culture blaming everything on the other culture and vice-versa. They just blame each other all the time. Easy way out for every promise politicians wouldn't keep no?

Tax payer money? I know people strongly believe in money but the elite has no money. It is a game for us, communards, to play. They are above it. They have everything they need to be self-sustainable, money is just the easy way to control the masses as they follow the money like a magnet. And then blame innocents because the elite told you 'that's where the money went, so be angry at them'. Imagine you were the boss with a mass of unwilling idiots below you always ready to pick up a fight for no reason. Would you spend your time try to educate them or rather let them fight it out amongst each other (reducing their numbers and leaving you well alone) ? They are playing us out against each other. Don't loose your humanity for a lie from above. all best wishes ;-

A long time ago in about 1913 and before, were the Rockefeller's et. al, who set up the private Federal Reserve System and purchased the land that the WHO ! United Nations occupies. This organization and its organs, was intentionally designed for future Global Control, using Monopolistic and Oligarchic Practices "Collective Control", "Membership" and "Registration" which is "Corporate Communism" to use their "instrumentalities" to eventually make mandatory their Global Business of "Insurance and Taxation" under UN Governance.

The Rockefeller's et. al and their Foundations do not like the Constitutional design of our Republic where the "People" of the "United States of America" are "Free and Independent" non-union. Pure Capitalism vs. Communism. Everything happening in the World today is about Global Control where all the doctors, construction workers, lawyers, judges, laborers, fireman, policemen, reporters, teachers, irs, federal and state agency's, political subdivisions, employees, assigns, successors, concert and participation etc... in some shape or form are members to associations, and union membership.

Dr. Mercola and all of you, are Independent Patriots, fighting the NewsGuard type Collectives Narrative. This falls directly under the Sherman Act., protecting small business people from these types of combinations and our CCP competitors WHO are collapsing the Global Economy. I DO NOT Pledge Allegiance to the Flag of the "United States," and to the "Democracy" for which it stands, one Nation under "Science", indivisible, with liberty and justice for all, the Collective Membership to Control. So Help Me God !!! KEEP ON FIGHTING the Fake Fact Checkers !!!

They are scared silly that the truth will be known. I laugh at their saying that the covid19 being 96% like a wild bat virus is proof that it is not lab altered virus. That 4% is enough of a change in RNA to make it different from the wild strain & to destabilize it so that it can mutate wildly thereafter!

You are not alone Dr Mercola, keep up your good work! Dr Martenson, with the "Honey Badger" recently had a youtube post about the modifications on this new virus...it is mind boggling that the US government and the Canadian Government have close ties with the Chinese Government...are they all loosing their marbles...I would be very cautious with them...the human race is in serious trouble with those leaders, especially yours...injecting disinfectant...yep...frightening indeed...but keep up the good work Dr Mercola...thanks for all your efforts!

NewsGuard is possibly/probably INCORRECT. We need the 4 papers that were submitted by the bat lady scientific researcher in that particular lab, as she has gone missing. IS "her" LAB the same lab that is discussed in THIS IMPORTANT PAPER cited here>> prepareforchange.net/2020/03/01/coronavirus-qinetiq-and-the-rothschild.. READ from the TOP. and if "her lab" is not the same lab, were the two labs in communication with each other? Check the maps and protocol.

It is very possible that the world military games were the unsuspecting transporters of the Virus.. as this would explain the amazing speed this virus traveled... would also explain why US military ships & French ships had the not-contained virus, and would also explain why the US military HID the fact that their personnel had the virus long before knowledge of the virus publicly rolled out... So if we get straight answers about this, we may get the dots securely connected.... but WE gotta be faster than the BURN_BARREL ... how do we find the 4 papers regarding the Virus and HOW DO WE FIND the lovely science researcher BAT LADY who was the author of those papers..?? and how does that Lab locations MAP look?` Nothing on this is confirmed and we are all suspicious.

MEANWHILE Beware of Gates' enthusiasm for vaccines, population control, purchasing and travel control etc... Just WHO does he think he is, besides a bank-roll... and why (I am "GAGGING")does he get the microphone on medicine, economy and other human interests. He is a nobody just like Fauci. Loads of material available here... www.google.com/search?client=firefox-b-d&q=fauci+and+bill+gates Dearest Dr Mercola. Please do keep up the good work. We'll get to the bottom of this. LOVE YOU!! xoxoxoxo

Oh, yeah! "There is no evidence that the Wuhan Institute of Virology was the source of the outbreak, and genomic evidence has found that the virus is 96% identical at the whole-genome level to a bat coronavirus" How about this, then? (From the National Human Genome Research Institute (NHGRI)) "The consortium found that the chimp and human genomes are very similar and encode very similar proteins. The DNA sequence that can be directly compared between the two genomes is almost 99 percent identical." www.genome.gov/15515096/2005-release-new-genome-comparison-finds-chimp.. That means if this is bat virus, then I am a chimpanzee!

Time to defund the NIH, as well as the WHO. Honestly, is there a 3-letter agency that is trustworthy at this point?

On Bill Gates: He is not a doctor. He is not a scientist. He isn't even a politician. All he is is a mega rich software guy who started in his garage and now has BILLIONS. Good for him. So Now he's considered some kind of philanthropist, but what he really is is the antiChrist. He could have been doing SO MUCH GOOD for this country and this WORLD! but no, where is he instead? In bed with corrupt Fauci, big pharm, corrupt Facebook, and in some places I also heard has dealing with Monsanto's too. Really? it's just sick how he has really turned to the dark side.

Sounds funny but it's not. He is working towards and actually encouraging digital id's so the powers that be can simply scan it and know exactly which vaccines you have (and he wants us to have them ALL) if you've had Covid and I'm sure the list goes on. He would like to imbed this information on the skin or inside the body. He's turning into some kind of deranged wannabe scientist. please don't let this man into a lab!! and in an interview with Anderson Cooper, every time AC mentioned Fauci's name, you should just see the evil grin that crosses Gates' face. to me, it's just spine chilling. we cannot trust him or that "wonderful" foundation of his!! Since he's not a doctor or scientist, I bet the next thing we see him turn to is POLITICS!! please lord NO!!!

What do you expect? If you reveal that Bill Gates could be imprisoned for life if his part in the weaponizing of Coronavirus is taken to court, do you think that he is going to publicize your article?

Krofter,

The last place you want to hang out right now is a library or bookstore, especially if you don't know who has what walking in. Unless you have 0 cases in your remote area. So many surfaces, so many possible points of transmission, you'll need to wear gloves while reading.

Echo! And thank you Dr Mercola, for bravely standing in your truth and rebutting the allegations, with yet more truth! YOu are a truth warrior and we appreciate it! We stand by, millions strong, on your side.

I think it's time to sue a lot of people, and the media is on that list. Lawsuits are legal and far more peaceful than other things that we don't want.

I do hope the truth will come out, and that we will find ways to avoid future misery with treatments that work for all affected and putting laws in place that safeguard us from such misuse of science and protect our right to true information. Dr Mercola is bravely presenting the arguments and his strong suspicion, questioning the way we are manipulated by powerful organisations, fighting in the name of true science. Thank you!

so tell me why this conversation happened? (so someone military- usa govt) its very suspicious

i personally think it was created by usa and chi both together

the military said to the gold and silver medalists .. do not go to Wuhan , military games began in october

Last September, I met the vice-president "What are you most worried about?" Without pausing, this person replied, "A highly contagious virus that begins somewhere in China and spreads rapidly." This vice-president, whose company has offices throughout east Asia,....

Business with China may have to be off. Some entities in China are probably banking on their trading partners accepting a different approach to truth. They may be out of line with their own citizens who may need support. www.smh.com.au/politics/federal/australia-could-lose-billions-from-chi..

I agree with the idea of boycotting Chinese business, but at this point it will be timely to boycott American business too! Because Fauci helped to fund this and the government is rushing along the agenda, fully complicit, as the media story proves in spades, right and left, and inside out.

my take on this subject {for what it is worth} is the question of where this virus is taking us and not "how it was started" - the "how it was started" might be of interest in a post mortem investigation of what the virus caused in society - surely this disease that was OVERHYPED and OVERBLOWN by the WHO led by a non medical communist in the pocket of Bill "kill the population" Gates - surely this is the main concern of any investigation that would be meaningful in terms of the introduction of fascist bondage and the collapse of economic security on our planet -

if this situation where a non lethal virus was pumped up to become a huge FEAR FACTOR and has been taken advantage of by the Rockefeller Gates pathological hatred of their own species - if this is the GREATER THREAT then this should be the focus of investigation - how did Gates force the WHO {World Health Organization} to demand the Gates Lockdown be imposed - this should be the object of surveillance so that if huge crimes against humanity have been perpetrated the instigating CRIMINALS should be RIGHTFULLY indicted and our planet protected from further catastrophes and human disasters who "CRY WOLF" and manipulate through FEAR - all FAKE FEAR MONGERING like false mortality figures must be investigated
