With vaccines, artificial chemicals (all prescription drugs and a wild variety of food additives), poisoned real foods (pesticides, herbicides, fungicides, irradiation and whatnot), junk foods of all kinds, cooked foods, and every other atrocity imaginable that's done to our food, the vast majority of mindless people will slowly suicide themselves. I presume that is the agenda: rid the planet of most humans. What better way than to have them voluntarily do it to themselves? And pay for it?!

It's getting to be time to gather the small minority of sane, responsible and high consciousness humans together in small "lifeboat" communities spread all around the planet. They will be the seed stock for our future... if there is one.

Yes Robert. A turning point is necessary to save the planet. These seeds can start with ecological villages, which may have a real potential to guide the future of humanity. Building self-sustaining communities, it seems, can be the turning point, which can allow more people to resemble truly sustainable living situations. At this point of inflection we would seek to integrate local energy production, such as solar, geothermal, etc., together with intensive methods of food production (vertical agriculture, aquaponics and aeroponics, permaculture and others) and "closed circuit" waste systems, together with intelligent water and energy management systems.

Many scientists are firmly expressing that we are on an unsustainable path. Published on November 13, 2017. Warning of world scientists to humanity: a second warning academic.oup.com/bioscience/article/doi/10.1093/biosci/bix125/4605229

A group of 15,000 scientists from 184 countries have warned, for the second time in 25 years, of negative environmental trends that "seriously" threaten human well-being and cause "substantial" and "irreversible" damage to the Earth. World Scientist Warning to Humanity: A second warning is the title of the article they sign this Monday in the journal BioScience, in which they talk about the "obvious signs that we are on an unsustainable path", although they also offer actions to try to reverse current trends. In his opinion, almost all the problems that plague the planet are now "much worse" than in his first appeal, in 1992.- elpais.com/.../722214003_850215.html

Hi, Robert:

Yes; evil and greed seem to have completely taken over this society. The zombie masses are good with that! I have attempted to explain the dangers of gardasil to many people. They basically laugh it off. They couldn't care less. Apathy and indifference is the order of the day!

Perhaps that's exactly the intended endgame. Realization the path is so unsustainable that only the few who are aware survive it to start over -- if possible! That makes perfect sense for examples such as this, but is not congruent with some of the poisoning of the environment, such as with glyphosate that the very same entities promote. Even the multi-billionaires who can create the best pods for themselves can't very well escape the effects of that. How long does that take to decompose, anyway? It looks a lot like burning down the planet to get rid of the rats from where I'm standing, if that's indeed the plan. I still think it's a combination of blinding greed and wishful thinking within a system that protects short-term profit over everything.

Gui and Randy - Seems to me that there are Grand Cycles that occur on our planet, in our solar system, in the Universe. Consciousness has patterns and tendencies that ebb and flow, peak and trough.

This article, and probably two-thirds of Mercola's articles... along with countless related articles on the Net, cumulatively tell us that human consciousness is most definitely in the midst of a ebb and a trough in its general consciousness capacity to maintain high character traits - simple honesty, kindness, foresight, caring, serving each other. We are still lacking in these higher functions. We still, far too easily, fall prey to our lower reptilian selves. And we still, far too easily, fall prey to toleration of evil and mass apathy. The "bugs" in our mental-emotional software are constantly being studied and exploited for temporary gain... which is again a low-level human character trait that leads nowhere.

So yes, we're all bobbing around at low tide in polluted waters. We've got to make the best of it while we're here, and help each other stay above the muck.

balhawk - Non-Human Interference?

I can see no reason for any so-called "elite" group of human beings to destroy the very foundations of Life Itself... as this would also obviously destroy the same foundations of Life for any elite human beings who might remain alive after all is said and done. What's the point of being alive in a dead world? www.youtube.com/watch

If the perpetrators are human beings, then the answer is plain and simple: They are all literally, clinically, terminally insane. The problem with this answer is that multitudes of humans are involved at multiple levels in all of these life-destructive endeavors. Is every one of them insane? Or are they just middle and lower tier workers afraid to speak up or take a stand? One could argue that all these destructive programs are fragmented enough and propagandized enough so that those involved cannot see enough dots to connect them into a bigger picture.

Perhaps.

Or we take on the radical notion that all the destruction is being orchestrated by powers or entities that Do Not Require the same life support systems that all living beings on this planet require for survival. These entities would not care if all life on earth is destroyed. Problem with this speculation is that these entities would likely be far more advanced than us. No doubt they would have far superior means of getting what they want from Earth. No need for these very 'dirty' methods of exterminating Life... unless they are simply sadistic for the thrill of it.

In any case, if eliminating only humans is the goal, there are far more efficient, effective and relatively clean ways to accomplish that. Yet what we see is this crazy conglomeration of seemingly haphazard efforts to slowly, tortuously and brutally destroy everything that is sacred... across the board. Perhaps it's only human psychopathic insanity that would play things out as we see it today.

Vaccines have become the most dangerous legal product in the United States, because they are defended by sponsored corporatism, and the media continues to spread the myth that all vaccines are safe and effective, and that science is established. This science is the product of corruption, and the legal framework that gives pharmaceutical companies full legal immunity for injuries or deaths caused by vaccines.

You have to consider that the United States government through the CDC and funded by the American taxpayers is the largest purchaser of vaccines worldwide. It is morally and ethically rejectable to silence the dangers of vaccines, defending the big pharmaceutical corporations for the interest of money and the corruption of politicians. Debate and discussion about evidence and science should alert parents to the dangers of vaccines. It is totally dishonest, that because science can not prove that vaccines are safe and prevent disease, vaccine advocates resort to intimidation and threats, with control of the main corporate media to silence any dissident.

With vaccines we are mortgaging the effectiveness of the immune system and the promotion of autoimmune and degenerative diseases, including cancer. Natural exposure to disease is the best vaccine to develop lifelong immunity. Vaccine manufacturers do not evaluate vaccines to their potential to cause cancer. This is what Merck says of his MMR vaccine: "MMR II has not been evaluated for its carcinogenic or mutagenic potential, or its potential to alter fertility." This extensive study provides strong evidence against the hypothesis that the MMR vaccine causes autism. www.nejm.org/.../NEJMoa021134 .

Parents should know that each vaccine given to their children has not been evaluated for its ability to cause cancer, genetic mutations or infertility. The incidence of childhood cancer has increased, according to this report curesearch.org/Incidence-Rates-Over-Time .

Hey Gui, "This science is the product of corruption, and the legal framework that gives pharmaceutical companies full legal immunity for injuries or deaths caused by vaccines."

So as such, they have no need or interest in safety & their next move, already in progress is a full captive audience, no choice, you get them or else. In the end a definition without a distinction. As RobertSnadach points out in his post, when you add up all the many transgressions against the populations throughout the world, you can only conclude as he & Stan point out a genocide of the general population. Deliberate or not, still a definition without a distinction.

Of all vaccines, Gardasil is the most hideous and I highly expect in years to come they will discover infertility properties by design.

Rick Perry, former Congressman of Texas pushed this down the throat of the youth and fast tracked a law to make this vaccine mandatory in Texas back in 2010, and it passed! (he was in bed with big pharma & totally corrupt)

It got overturned however (thank goodness) but the scary part is it got overturned NOT because people saw the insanity of this dangerous vaccine, but because the Christian Right political groups could not stomach having a vaccine which seemed aimed at & allowed for the reality that youth would be having pre-marital sex. Yikes, who would of known that the Christian Right gave protection against a vaccine, even for the wrong reasons !

I have also read that Gardasil given to a large group of teenage girls in Columbia caused many vicious and terrible side affect and ruined many young lives and these poor girls had no recourse either through their own government nor the vaccine makers themselves.

Sad times we live and Americans seem oblivious and do not research or seem to have any awareness at all to seek information via research or through other forms of media.

If they ever make this mandatory, I will leave the country, and to be honest, I actually am now trying to put extra funds aside in case I ever do need to leave, which is hard as I am a single mom barely surviving as it is, but these are the days we are in. My biggest fear lately is that we may not even be able to avoid forced vaccination if they start (if they haven't already) putting this in aerosol form via geoengineering, i.e. Chemtrails.

Yes, Juststeve, we are captives of the pharmaceutical industry and the official organisms that administer "health", we are captives of the big agrifood corporations. The synergy between the groups that cause the disease, is a great benefit for the big pharmaceutical companies, chronic diseases fill the big pockets of tax havens. Vaccines is the first ally of the interests of pharmaceutical multinationals, because it is the first seed against the immune system, and in favor of the disease.

The politicians, large pharmaceutical corporations and their channels of promotion, media researchers, establish a discourse. and some norms that are generally imposed on society, without any dialogue. The fear of vulnerability is exploited, and little or no interest is shown in the critical evaluations of the vaccinated, and in the associations and protests of the citizens. We must continue to defend the legal right to exercise freedom of thought, expression, conscience, religious beliefs and informed consent, all of which have been internationally recognized as human rights.

Hi shannonaz. I am very happy for the population of Texas, that the Christian right banned the Gardasil vaccine, although for reasons beyond the grave danger of the vaccine against the human papillomavirus. Yes, on August 4, 2017, a lawsuit was filed against the multinational Merck Sharp and Dhome for $ 160 million dollars for damages caused by the Gardasil vaccine in this country. The lawyer, Mónica León del Río, filed the complaint since in Colombia more than 700 girls have suffered the side effects of the Gardasil vaccine, which include, among others, syncope or fainting, autoimmune diseases, Guillain-Barret syndrome, dysautonomia , sclerosis, encephalitis, neuropathies, lupus / Sjogren, ovarian failure, fibromyalgia, ASIA syndrome (autoimmune / inflammatory syndrome induced by adjuvants), and even death. hetq.am/eng/news/84400/700-women-in-columbia-vaccinated-with-gardasil-.. $160-million-researcher-advice-girls-in-armenia-to-understand-the-risks.html/

Another rational well written article on the problems with vaccine safety and another opportunity to send it to loved ones and friends. Thank you ... awesome job. I have been slowly turning my (very conventional) brother around. He had a flu vaccine last year and said he was never so sick. I told him about the ethyl mercury and that there is no proper science and they had put heavy metals and other contaminants in the placebo. (This was on the product insert on-line). He would not believe me until he asked a friend who is a doctor about double blind placebo studies .. and asked what was the p factor. She went red and said that there hasn't been those studies done for the past 20 years. Say whaaaaat!!! Most of the ignorant masses out there believe that proper scientific studies are being done. When they find out they are not they are shocked. The way forward is for all of us who know to find our courage, get really well informed on the subject and keep plugging away at loved ones. We do it nicely and calmly but if you care about your friends it's time to be assertive. It has to be a grass roots movement.

Yes TheOrage. We need awakened minds to the serious effects of vaccines, we must be well informed and develop critical thinking, avoid fear with independent studies. The generalized immunization responds to the voracity of the pharmaceutical industry and the complicity of public managers, and not to the needs of public health.

Many independent researchers have demonstrated the ineffectiveness of the influenza vaccine. The researcher Juan Gervas Camacho, from the Autonomous University of Madrid, Spain, said: "The flu vaccine is not effective, not only do I say it, the Cochrane reviews say (global assessment network) that they have insisted that it only reduces the symptoms, not pneumonia, hospitalizations, deaths and the incidence of the disease," said the specialist. He added that "it has no serious adverse effects, such as pain, fever, some more serious ones such as Guillain-Barré syndrome, which can leave you in a wheelchair, or narcolepsy, as has happened in Sweden." In addition, informed consent should be applied to its full extent, that is, according to the right to refuse the vaccine, if it is not agreed in the conditions in which it is received.

In Spain, vaccination is not mandatory for the population in general, nor for Health employees, except in the case of an epidemic. Those promoting the vaccine for students assume all are going to have sex. This is not the case. For those teens who choose to remain celibate, this is an affront to their freedom and dignity. Since the vaccine allegedly protects against only a few of the HPV strains, it gives a false sense of security that may actually lead to greater infection risk. The days when you could mess around and risk a disease easily cured by a trip down to county health and an antibiotic are over. It is not only the young people who must be careful, but STDs are also rampant in elderly populations, esp. in certain retirement areas of the country.

Posted On 06/06/2018

Guillermou

Hi Almond. The sexual education of parents and in schools should be essential so that young people do not drink alcohol, take drugs and are trained in the knowledge of sex naturally and safely to avoid sexual diseases. Society in general, and the media can be a conflictive field, and if parents and schools are inhibited in this task of educating, children will end up making theirs the values of this social environment, which in many cases is harmful to they.

Drugs, including alcohol, loss of fear of HIV, promiscuous behavior, homosexuality and heterosexuality, and cuts in prevention, have influenced the increased venereal diseases. The treatments with antiviral cocktails, changed the perception of AIDS, which happened to be considered a chronic ailment, reduced the protection measures of the condom. AIDS has helped to promote sexually transmitted diseases by increasing risk behaviors, thus generating a vicious circle. In many cases they are people who, although they have the necessary information, do not put it into practice, especially if they are affected by drug or alcohol use. In the last 6 years, venereal diseases, in young people between 13 and 20 years has multiplied by 5, and the use of drugs and alcohol had a remarkable influence.

Almond,

This is also another valid point about Gardasil, forcing it on 9 year olds! Disgusting assumption ! And I totally agree, it does not cover all the HPV strains and promotes unsafe sex in that condoms are much more reliable and safer against STD's. There is also now a new form of Gonorrhea which antibiotics previously used are no longer affective, and this is a much more serious issue than HPV and therefore condom use should be promoted, instead of dangerous vaccines for something much less dangerous in terms of STD exposure.

Yes Stanley. The Bil Gates and Melinda Gates foundation is poisoning the world with transgenics, the pesticide roundup and vaccines. Gates has used Bollywood actors, with unscrupulous and false advertising. to strongly promote its polio vaccination campaign throughout India. The vaccines given to children in India. Caused 47,500 cases of paralysis and death. "It has been reported in The Lancet that the incidence of polyom AFP, especially NPAFP (non-polio acute flaccid paralysis), has increased exponentially in India after a high-potency polio vaccine was introduced."

www.healthfreedom.org/has-bill-gates-polio-vaccine-program-cause-over.. .

A new disaster of vaccination against influenza can threaten humanity. Bill and Melinda Gates have just announced in March 2018 that they will give $ 12 million to the team of scientists to discover the definitive influenza vaccine. According to Helen Branswell writing for STAT News, Gates met with President Donald Trump to discuss the relationship to the risk of a flu pandemic and the need for a universal vaccine. The fear is in his words "Taking into account the continuous appearance of new pathogens, the increasing risk of a bioterrorist attack, and how to connect our world is through air travel",

Vaccines have become the most dangerous legal product in the United States, because they are defended by corporatism, and the media propagate the myth that all vaccines are safe and effective. This science is the product of corruption, which causes injuries or deaths .. Bil Gates with transgenics, pesticide roundup, vaccines, with the help of large pharmaceutical and agri-food corporations, with junk food, antibiotics, water fluoridation, etc, is weakening the immune system that makes us vulnerable to diseases, such as the flu and now with fear, wants to promote a universal flu vaccine, which will surely cause more diseases and more suffering.

There is a coldness and evilness in him and what makes it so incessant is that his agenda is pushed as philanthropy. I get the feeling that he does not really like human beings in general, that our very "humanness" is somehow disturbing to him. I find the digital age and its accessories very cold, they take us very far away from the earth & naturalness if used incorrectly. It has provided such extreme wealth to a person like Gates who does not like us humans much to begin with and this has given him flight for his evil designs.

Guillermous: The "Universal" vaccine now in the works that they are beginning to condition the media and population with short articles might as well be called "The Final Solution" like in the time of the Nazi plan for the final extermination of the Jews, only this will be the final extermination of humanity (except for the elite) I wouldn't be surprised if they try to make this mandatory in the name of saving the world as their excuse to force this on all populations worldwide.

Hey StanleyBecker, Please read the above article again, as I found this in the 4th or 5th para down:....

"Most recently, Bill Gates stated he believes a global pandemic that could kill 30 million in six months is on its way, and we're completely unprepared for it.22,23

His comments were made during an "Epidemics Going Viral, Innovation Vs. Nature" speaker series on April 27, 2018, sponsored by Massachusetts Medical Society and The New England Journal of Medicine. According to Gates, the next pandemic killer might well be a disease we've never encountered before.

The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation has a history of supporting questionable vaccination agendas with their millions, so it makes sense, I guess, that Gates would be anxious to create a need for some costly remedy by amping up the fear factor. In the past decade, there's been a string of attempts to rile up the masses and increase demand for pandemic vaccines.

The predicted pandemics all fell flat, and no mass casualties ever occurred, yet the fearmongering strategy is not easily abandoned..."

That could probably happen with enough pressure from the parents of children that have become victims. But to get that to happen we must first rid the FDA of all of the ex-employees of Big Pharma and Big Chemical. They now control the FDA and that must be ended ASAP. Whenever I see a commercial for a new drug that includes "FDA approved" all manner of red flags go off for me. Today, "FDA Approved" is NOT a positive thing by any stretch of the imagination. There are many drugs that are banned in Europe that are allowed in the US. Just "follow the money" being poured into FDA staff members and federal politicians.

When I looked into suing for malpractice I was told the the doctor was relying on the data compiled by "Up to Date". This is a company that needs to be exposed. I can see the benefit of having the latest information on medical procedures available to doctor's who want to keep informed. When this is used to shield a doctor from accountability it becomes dangerous. I find this especially frightening in the case of pharmaceuticals. The fact that the research is so tainted and that the feedback loop for reporting side effects is broken, means that there is no motivation for anyone to hesitate to prescribe any drug or to listen to a patient who has a complaint. In my case my doctor reassured me for a several years that the side effects I was experiencing were not related to the so-called medicine I was taking. Now no doctor will say that my suffering is a side effect. I have been given diagnosis that does not connect the dots. If they acknowledge the connection they obligated to report it. This means paperwork and it would create a paper trail for a case like mine. I have moved on to concentrate on my health going forward and am trying to "let it go" but there is a part of me remains very angry. My biggest issue is that I would like this company "Up to Date" to be exposed for what it is. EVIL.

One would think that living a life before marriage by being a virgin would protect a women from the HPV virus! However, that was not the case in 1963. I married someone who was not a virgin & "after" we were married bragged about his nationwide excursion of unprotected sex! Fortunately, my HPV virus was detected in very early stages & completely removed before it had time to spread. Our marriage ended in divorce because of my husband's unfaithful lifestyle. The pap smear saved my life from cancer. My divorce prevented more STDs.

It is sad that people look to vaccines & medications to combat STDs instead of living a life that honors God and your own body.

As Dr Mercola's has reported, both this HPV vaccine & STD medications are failing to protect or eradicate these death threatening STD diseases. HIV and herpes are other possible dangerous diseases. AARP Mature magazine wrote an article about 15 or 20 years ago about how a large number of people in their 60s were practicing unsafe sex & acquiring the HIV Disease.

Not a vaccine, but a drug called DES - diethylstilbestrol, given to women in the 50's to 'prevent' miscarriages. HA! Caused a rare form of cancer, premature births, etc. in the daughters and may be causing 2nd and 3rd generational effects. See DESAction.org for more info. (This drug was given to cattle to fatten them up and also put in the morning after pill.) Results came in early proving it was damaging to women's reproductive organs, but the makers (couple who invented it) didn't want to believe it and it would be many years before action was taken. I was a daughter and I experienced 4 miscarriages (2 ectopic), 2 premature births, incompetent cervix, and cervical dysplasia resulting in a coning procedure.

It really does seem that there is a depopulation agenda, and perhaps that drug was part of it. Certainly Gardasil seems to be destroying fertility, as well as lives.

No wonder Gardasil is so dangerous. It includes a huge dose of aluminium, a known neurotoxin - and the new Gardasil 9 has an even bigger dose. But most western governments and their 'health authorities' aren't interested in the truth, and won't listen to dissenting voices. The corruption and ignorance is mind-boggling!

A "huge dose of aluminum" is so very correct. About 1% or so of aluminum is absorbed in the gut when you ingest it. When you inject it into your muscle, 100% goes into the body and about 50% stays in the muscle causing a disease called macrophagic Myofaciitis that can be thought to be many muscle diseases like fibromyalgia and even malaria symptoms emulate this problem. The aluminum stays in the muscles and causes lesions that get worse and worse each year and peak around 6 years and then are there for many years to come. Consider the amount of aluminum injected into our children! It is far above 5,000 mcgs. that is more than a 350 pound sumo wrestler can tolerate!

This National Vaccine Act of 1986 needs to be repealed and drug companies and doctors need to be held liable for all this devastation they are creating in so many people instead of taking our tax dollars in the billions to compensate vaccine victims. Now, the Vaccine Court refuses to compensate autism victims all because the CDC has lied and said vaccines don't cause autism when they know they do. What about the Aluminum damaged children? Who's going to pay for their care? This whole vaccine paradigm needs to be eliminated!

Absolutely right, happywifehappylife. Also the CDC and FDA, and similarly corrupt 'authorities' need to be disbanded, and their directors, who have foisted this 'plague' on our innocent children, should be prosecuted and spend the rest of their lives paying restitution to those they have damaged. As should all politicians who have brought in compulsory vaccination, or legislation like Australia's "No Jab, No Pay/Play," which goes against international laws regarding right to informed consent, which means without coercion.

FYI, the condom has been found to offer 70% protection against HPV for men, for women, some studies have suggested no protection as the disease is spread by skin to skin contact.

Dear God, how can our system be this broken?! These purveyors of poison must be called to account! By whom though, by whom? Our voice is strong, but not loud enough.

MS drugs maybe $5000 a month and let a person be disabled since they don't fix the root cause...Celiac/low sunlight/mitochondrial issues and now GMO/vaccines add to it. NO gluten/dairy/soy/sugar/GMO/food with a label...taking vitamins/good oils/minerals...probiotic...LDN..detoxing may help brain/body health issues as they help the intestines heal so more nutrients absorb that restore/rebuild cells so they work right. All the health issues mentioned above that they made drugs for can be due to gluten. Tests may not work to diagnose Celiac. Hair tests show good minerals/heavy metals. Low minerals on a hair test may show intestines are not absorbing nutrients.

Vaccines may hurt the brain/body and may be hard to heal from. Vaccine companies need to be held accountable not the government and vaccines should not be forced on people since they may destroy health fast and some have died.

The whole concept of vaccination is ludicrous. It creates disease.....and future patients.

A work colleague, healthy and career focused, had her 17th straight flu injection and shortly after was rendered paralysed from the waist down. Her public sector employer regularly encouraged annual flu injections., She was lucky to work for such an employer and able to take advantage of leave provisions for the lengthy period off work.

How would this have been caused by the flu injection?

Why do our medical people keep pushing this terrible technology on Americans? Are they that stupid or that greedy? Gardasil has been causing cancer at this 44.6% rate for years and a Canadian study showed this years ago. A little known fact is that we ALL HAVE THE HPV-16 or 18 virus in us! It is in all egg yokes except for a very rare one. It is even in the dark clouds above us in the sky at the tune of about 2,000 ng/dl. Just by having someone breath on you that has the virus will give you the virus! Do drug companies pick on Americans because the general public is so gullible? You can get rid of the HPV-virus, but then just be infected again very easily. Our immune system is what we need to be focused on, not some fancy tie, white collar, syringe wielding maniac using FEAR and INTIMIDATION like all terrorists promoting their agendas.

It's not just in America. This insidious vaccine was invented in Australia - and this year they're using the new, more dangerous Gardasil 9 on our population.

This is why they horribly murdered the scientist who created this vaccine. I think she was going to be a whistleblower.
