The dr. Suzanne Humphries says "Vaccines did not save humanity and they never will." Like most doctors, I carried a blind belief for many years that vaccines were necessary, safe and effective. Vaccines are dangerous and should never be injected into anyone for any reason. They are not the answer to infectious diseases. There are many more sustainable and benevolent solutions instead of vaccines -----1) Why vaccines are often contaminated with unknown viral strains and why the vaccine industry has covered up known contamination of vaccines (and knowingly sold contaminated vaccines for use on the public).

-----2) Why the entire vaccine industry should be questioned and why a new effort is needed to scientifically evaluate whether vaccines are truly safe or effective. -----3) Why parents should be concerned about vaccines after noticing kidney failure in patients who recently received vaccines -----4) Why the fairy tale that "vaccines eradicated polio" is a false mythology: Here's what really happened. -----5) Why the smallpox vaccine has never been proven to be effective.

-----6) Why the vaccine industry's research is extremely weak and ignores rigorous standards of scientific evidence. (Using inappropriate placebos designed to minimize the occurrence of side effects, for example). -----7) Why the vaccine industry doesn't test vaccines on unvaccinated children (they are terrified of the results). -----8) Why children caught in measles outbreaks are often the same children who were vaccinated against measles! -----9) Why vaccines can actually suppress the immune system and cause increased vulnerability to future infections.

Hey Professor Gui - Just me, but when I think of 'it's the Terrain,' this from the article would be its definition - It's always been about plumbing, nutrition, fresh air, vitamin D, lifestyle, & keeping poisons out of "our bodies." Finding what Doc & others like him offer to work in our Personal the Size Fitting Me is the strongest fortress, strengthening our Innate Immune System. Yet still we can get sick, out of balance. After seeing research on how the biome when conditions arise so particular species get overfed, they can bloom to form colonies. In those colonies their behavior changes & the microbes move from being one small piece in concert & balance with the other species & convert into a larger body acting in ways upsetting our bodies further.

Similar research suggests when our bodies address out of balance bacteria, scraps, pieces may sometime reconnect & reform to be the bacteria reborn so to speak. Just the Gut Speaking, if such is true my current take on viruses is when bacteria move through the host of Creation & various species address them, they get broken down. So, perhaps different chunks of debris from different species cross pollenate in a sense to have the ability to insert themselves into living cells, yet unable to replicate back into themselves.

Regardless of anything or what may be, currently it is again, just me, but to argue endlessly whether viruses are real or not is dead end internecine bickering when the deadly, most destructive issue is the Corruption we have seen in the C-19, is an infection across the whole strata of our Gov't's & institutions. A pathological mental, emotional, & especially spiritual infection if not addressed, nothing can heal. It's the corruption & the way the C-19 Jab Debacle has & is still exposing this corruption on a Global Scale. The Job is to Drain the Swamp, not to argue whether the alligators are green or brown while they are in the process of eating us.

Yes, Just, great truths very well stated. Above all, a well-modulated immune system is a source of health and resistance to bacteria and viruses. The microbiota plays a fundamental role in the induction, formation and functioning of the person's immune system. In return, the immune system has largely evolved as a means of maintaining the host's symbiotic relationship with these highly diverse and evolving microbes. When operating optimally, this immune system-microbiota alliance allows the induction of protective responses to pathogens and the maintenance of regulatory pathways involved in maintaining tolerance to innocuous antigens.

The immune system - microbiota alliance is essential to maintain health. The acquisition of a complex immune system and its dependence on the microbiota came at a price. Pathologies that increasingly affect humans, such as allergies, autoimmune and inflammatory disorders, arise from the poor response in the control of immune responses misdirected against self-, microbiota-derived or environmental antigens. The alteration of microbiota composition and function as a result of antibiotic use, dietary evolution, and the recent elimination of constituent partners such as helminth worms has transformed our microbial allies into potential risks.

Infections in childhood are mostly benign and limited. Crossing them is good for the child, because they help him become immunized. Vaccines increase the vulnerability of contracting diseases, or delaying their transmission until adulthood, when they become more dangerous. A child's immune system is stimulated daily by antigens, which promote viruses and bacteria. So what we have to do is stimulate the immune system. From the womb, breastfeeding and correct nutrition in childhood we will form a healthy microbiota, which is where 80% of the immune system resides.

This article is very interesting and has the opinions of many doctors on it. : POLIO = DDT!! Now we know where Polio originated from and Cancers from the ModRNA. vaccines. Dr. Suzanne Humphries suggests that “there is strong evidence pointing to the likelihood that experimental polio vaccination is linked to the sharp increase in acute flaccid paralysis (AFP).” Polio was not defeated, the symptoms of the disease were simply reclassified under new names and the diagnostic criteria changed to make it a much rarer diagnosis. Swedish pediatrician Karl-Oskar Medin, who conducted the first scientific studies of a polio outbreak in 1887, concluded that while polio was an “infectious” disease, it was not a “contagious” disease.

Edward Shaw and Hulda Thelander of San Francisco Children's Hospital were also exasperated by the situation: “All aspects of polio have been the subject of intense study over the past two or three decades, yet the doctor has not been presented no inescapably sound doctrine about its epidemiology and transmission, its precise pathogenesis, or the details of diagnosis and treatment... The epidemiology of the disease remains obscure.

“There has been a trend away from an early theory that the disease spreads by direct contact.” Young children exposed to DDT were shown to develop a limp that lasted from 2 or 3 days to a week or more. It was shown that DDT can cause degeneration of anterior horn cells in the spinal cord in experimental animals. Exposure to DDT early in life causes decreased growth, mortality, decreased levels of muscarinic acetylcholine receptors in the brain, increased spontaneous motor activity in adulthood, and decreased learning. ” christine257.substack.com/p/polio-ddt?utm\_source=post-email-title&.. 13) Why people who get the pneumonia vaccine, that only protects you from strain-A infections, get strain-B and die (especially if they go to the hospital)?? Strain-A is easily treated/cured. Strain-B is much more difficult to defeat and is often fatal. Almost no one dies from strain-A, but that's what the pneumonia vaccine is designed to protect you from.

An acknowledgment to Dr. Brownstein. In this article he says: The powers that be claim that vaccines markedly lowered the death rate from common childhood diseases like measles and whooping cough. However, you can see from the link graph that the death rate from these diseases was rapidly declining before the mass vaccination campaign began. Why do so many children have all these allergies? We never saw peanut, milk and gluten allergies when we were kids, where does all this come from? I told you that there are several reasons for this, but the main ones are that the immune system of the young generation is getting weaker and weaker.

I believe that children today, compared to previous generations, suffer from more chronic diseases because they are exposed to more toxins and receive too many vaccines at too young an age. Vaccines contain toxic elements such as mercury, aluminum, and formaldehyde. It is ridiculous to inject these toxic agents into our youth and expect good results. Yes, Martix, 80 years ago Mahatma Gandhi had already questioned the big business of vaccines. It seems that the great Bap anticipated to humanity the perverse trade in vaccines that is now applied to the entire world under the pretext of the pandemic. In his memoirs, Gandhi records his fight against everything that tries to enslave us and make us dependent, such as chemical pharmaceutical drugs, a monstrous business of big world capital that is the Medical Mafia, the title of the book denounced by the Canadian doctor. Ghislaine Lanctot, fired for having exposed the great global business of commercial medicine that is in favor of profit.

Gandhi bases his criticism of vaccines on the issue of smallpox: "Smallpox inspires us with great fear, but we have only very vague notions of it. "In reality, like other diseases, it is a consequence of the impurity of the blood, which causes poor functioning of the intestines; The poisons that then accumulate in the body are expelled in the form of smallpox. If this theory is correct, there is no reason to fear smallpox. "But when people who had been vaccinated were attacked by this infection, it was deduced that it was necessary to start vaccination again after a certain time; It was a new theory.

And today it is a custom for everyone to get vaccinated, whether they have already been vaccinated or not, when a smallpox epidemic occurs in the region. This is the reason why you see people vaccinated five or six times, and even more. "Vaccination is a barbaric custom and one of the fatal errors so frequent in our time. The supporters of this practice are not content with having it adopted by those who accept it without difficulty, but rather they intend to impose it on everyone equally, under the threat of very severe sanctions imposed by law.

THE DEFINITION OF A "VACCINE" WAS RADICALLY ALTERED TO ALLOW FOR THE USE OF EXPERIMENTAL MODIFIED RNA GENE THERAPY (NOT MRNA BUT MODRNA - MADE IN A LABORATORY) Vaccines don't work, even though Biden wants them to and he has thrown US$2.1 Billion to make the impossible possible - some hopes with that!! Another part of the fraud is using another vaccine as the control in lieu of a true placebo. You simply cannot prove a vaccine is safe by comparing it to another, most likely unsafe, vaccine (for example Pfizer's vaccine ARR 95% but the ARR is 0.84% meaning Covid is 99.16% effective in infecting you actually and Moderna's vaccine is 1.2% effective against Covid) According to Dr. Suzanne Humphries, there are no worthwhile vaccines, not even smallpox or tetanus.

Tetanus can be successfully treated using high-dose intravenous vitamin C and other essential nutrients (vaccines don't work and never did. The body is supposed to make antibodies against the injected poison in a vaccine, but the body does not know how to do that and all that happens is the body's natural immunity is weakened and sometimes, that's enough to kill)

Guillermou, Thanks! Our Creator's design for our immune system is it learns. A challenge to vaccine and antibiotics creation by man is the pathogens adapt to overcome. Man has in his religion of man exploits to do better than our immune systems have given us numerous strains of viruses to counter man's attempts and antibiotic resistant bacteria. I counter these man induced new threats with promoting my good health with all aspects of healthy living for my immune system to conquer all pathogens. It matters not that bacteria are resistant to antibiotics and it matters not that new virus strains adapted to a temporary at best vaccine because my immune system conquers all pathogens.

At work, they see me washing apples with soap (pure, not antibacterial chemicals) at the sink as I put them down on a dusty shelf before rinsing and exclaim there is dirt and germs on the shelf. I counter that I'm not adverse to germs at all and instead washing off insecticides. I haven't used drugs including even over the counter for decades. When my body fights a pathogen, I never know it as it is so effective that I don't get sick.

I suppose my adaptive immune system is only the backup to my unusually effective innate immune system as the reason I haven't been sick for thirty-six years. My immune system got some experience and lessons in childhood and evidence is that is natural and shouldn't be avoided. Do we really want inexperienced immune systems by means of unnatural interference particularly with the unintended (?) consequences that goes with it?

Guillermou

Very agree Ronald. As reported by Dr. Mercola, another contribution of the poor management of COVID-19 that aggravates antibiotic resistance has as identified key contributors: (1) Lack of surveillance of the development of resistance, (2) poor quality control of available antibiotics, (3) clinical misuse and (4) ease of availability. In contrast, in developed countries, factors contributing to antibiotic resistance included: (1) poor regulation at the hospital level and (2) overuse of antibiotics in food-producing animals. Many developing countries do not have the quality assurance mechanisms in place to ensure that the antibiotics supplied are of high quality.

The use of expired pediatric antibiotics has also been shown to lead to higher rates of resistance compared to unexpired medications. In fact, resistance rates increase 2 to 6 times when using expired medications compared to unexpired medications. Counterfeit medicines, in which there is little or no active ingredient, are also sold and can lead to an increase in the development of drug resistance. Many times children with diarrhea were prescribed antibiotics even though most doctors suspected it was a viral infection.

Antibiotics are widely used in hospitals not only to treat patients with bacterial infectious diseases, but also prophylactically to reduce the risk of infections during procedures and surgeries. The overuse of antibiotics, along with close patient-patient interactions and the need for increased hygiene and sanitation within hospitals, play a major role in the development and transmission of drug-resistant bacterial infections. Interesting about the Tetanus shot. It is /was the ONLY shot that contains both mercury and aluminum together which when combined have been proven over & over again to be 100X more toxic than separately. I had my last shot ever in 2000; tetanus for a cut on my head. Prior to that I only had small pox, polio & tetanus as a kid [born in 1952]. I immediately lost my voice for 8 weeks from vocal chord paralysis. Found out much later that there was a warning deep in the product package insert that said " side effects may include partial or complete vocal paralysis which may or may not be permanent" !!!

I also became allergic to beef ,citrus & gluten shortly after with no previous allergies. The only other time I have seen vaccines with Hg & Al is when Mennigococcal & HPV vaccines were given together; often before college. One contained Hg and the other had Al so now they are combined. The yearly changes in added toxins listed on cdc.gov if you can find it is horrifying. Look under Vaccine Excipients Summary.

I got bitten by my frightened 18 yr old dog that is having issues standing up as his back legs have become weak. I had a nice puncture wound and my forearm over 3 days swelled quite a bit, but I was confident that it would heal, even though I am 65 and according to the CDC vulnerable to the whole of life. I'm not, as I have never had antibiotics or vaccines since childhood and never take pharma drugs only homeopathy. Took remedies for the bite and used one of those Japanese/Korean patches that are supposed to pull out toxins through the feet. I put it on my arm. Everyone was freaking out because I didnt go to the doctor, my reply - They will put me on anti-biotics, tetanus and rabies shots- no thank you. There is no rabies in the country where I live so why rabies shots? 10 days it cleared up nicely and no issues after. If we take care of our health, our health takes care of us.

In the good way. MORE DOG OWNERS ARE QUESTIONING VACCINES LIKE RABIES AFTER COVID + MORE This is not the first indication that insurgent anti-vaccine attitudes have impacted our furry friends. A study published in the Canadian Veterinary Journal in 2021 found an overlap between the movement against mandatory childhood vaccines and vaccine-resistant pet owners. Another found a link between people skeptical of vaccinating their dogs and those who believe vaccines cause autism in children – a false rumor that’s been long-debunked. In the new study, the authors surveyed 2,200 people and found that 53% had some concern about the safety, efficacy or necessity of canine vaccines.

Nearly 40% were concerned that vaccines could cause dogs to develop autism, a theory without any scientific merit. “What this demonstrates is that COVID fundamentally changed how Americans look at vaccines,” said Motta, who co-authored the paper alongside his sister, Gabrielle Motta, a veterinarian in Pennsylvania, and political scientist Dominik Stecula at Colorado State University. Right? For those who have been around long enough to know, nearly none of these were a thing, or possibly a few as an oddity. Now? Numbers through the roof. Most of these when they first began to present themselves were labeled as all in your mind. You are just lazy, don't want to work. You're just looking for attention. If you vaccinate it's akin to removing your liver, and last I heard the liver's kind of essential. After all, everything you eat goes through the liver for filtering and detox before the chemical soup resulting from digestion is allowed to enter the bloodstream. The process is critical, maintaining the purity of the blood. Vaccines bypass the liver before (indirectly but definitely) entering the bloodstream, where the contained foreign (non-self) molecules of all sorts are circulated, assaulting and over time accumulating in the tissues and organs of the body. They're time bombs. It's no coincidence that over the last few decades we've soared to an estimated 40% of the nation's youth having autoimmune and/or neurological disorders. Vaccination's less than merely unsafe. It's a self-defeating paradigm.

We have essential factors to clarify and combat. -----1. The germ theory is incompatible with vaccines and drugs, including chemotherapy, and all manipulations that damage the immune system. -----2. Vaccines depress the immune systems of children and adults, making them slaves to chronic diseases for the rest of their days. -----3. We live wrapped in a toxic soup of pollution and degradation of nature that harms our immune system and we have a denatured diet, promoted with the clear interests of pharmaceutical and agri-food corporations with the approval of government "control" institutions loaded with pesticides, which We are already seeing it in the environment.

The Gates Foundation has unfortunately become the most influential player in the world of agricultural policies and snake venom, the great promoter of vaccines, industrial agriculture and glyphosate. Yes, Dr. Prasanta Banerji and his son Dr. Pratip Banerji, renowned homeopathic doctors in India, famous for the results obtained with homeopathy against tumors, mainly brain tumors, have another great contribution to the world of health. : the Banerji Protocol that aims to help establish Homeopathy as an effective and scientific mode of medical treatment in all possible ways with the prescription and administration of specific medicines for specific diseases, a deviation and novelty with respect to classical homeopathy: Homeopathy places great importance on the physical and mental characteristics of each person.

It is recognized that certain homeopathic medicines, in addition to corresponding to a Typology, Symptoms and General Characteristics, are demonstrably effective for certain very specific ailments or diseases. The Banerji Protocol establishes a medicine for each type of disease or symptom, without seeking the simillimum of the person to be treated, and it is this approach that represents a novelty, and some controversy, in the world of classical or unicist homeopathy, since which, a priori, seems a contradiction with homeopathic premises. The intention of Doctors Banerji, given their history, is to help and facilitate the rapid prescription of medications for different diseases with the aim of universalizing homeopathy, making it available, especially, to the millions of people without economic resources on our planet.

The Banerji Protocol is considered a gift that these homeopaths from India, heirs of a long family homeopathic tradition, have made to humanity and an enormous contribution to homeopathy becoming increasingly known and accepted. I have made 3x dilutions successfully myself. My feet got cold this winter, so I made a remedy out of cayenne flakes using the Korsakov method. My feet warmed up in less than an hour. Homeopathy is getting more popular in the states, so we may have to learn to make our own remedies as Big Pharma, Big Lobbies,, and Big Govt may go after it During the C lockdown, Cuba made a nosode from the virus and gave it to the people. It was cheap and successful. Many people are preparing for the homeopathy assault and have found ways to create the remedies. Notice the case that follows the British Royals around. The fact is that there is ample evidence of a link, not only between MMR and autism, but also between vaccines, autism, and autoimmunity in general. With their unique configuration of immune-disrupting antigens, adjuvants, and preservatives (including aluminum and mercury), it is surprising that vaccines are still so underrecognized as triggers. Dr. Anthony Fauci has repeatedly misrepresented the risks of vaccines, telling Americans in 2009 that serious adverse events from the disastrous H1N1 flu vaccine were “very, very, very rare” and lying under oath before Congress in 2019 (before being corrected by a young colleague) on the serious adverse event of encephalitis, listed in the MMR vaccine package insert childrenshealthdefense.org/news/measles-vaccination-and-autism-the-ine..

"By now, you've probably heard the theory that there are no viruses, period. That the entire field of virology is a hoax, and that what we perceive as viruses are merely a type of cellular debris being shed when your body is trying to detox. Having delved deep into the science of infectious disease, Humphries disagrees with this theory. Viruses do exist." Do they? Humphries disagrees - they do exist. Others disagree - they don't exist. Have any viruses actually been isolated and tested to see if they produce dis-ease? All we know of viruses is what we are told, along with pretty graphics of spheres with golf tees stuck in them. And these non-living, non-conscious, non-sentient so-called DNA fragments are capable of 'hiding', 'avoiding', 'evading' et-al vaccines and the body's mechanisms. It does not add up. I'm not at all sure that these 'expose' types of thing aren't just controlled opposition.

Yup "control opposition" the new term, simply put are entities that are strategically placed in all aspects and levels of our everyday lives...Their primary purpose is to "confuse, deceive and divide." They are very well trained and indoctrinated to tell you EXACTLY what you want to hear.. Once they gain your trust this makes you very vulnerable and easy to cull..Make no mistake they are not just after your wallets, they are after your most prized possession and that is your soul...Never outsource your critical thinking to ANYONE...Seek the one that created the Heavens and Earth, you would see things you never thought were possible..A confused, derelict mind renders you a sitting duck...

'Having delved deep into the science of infectious disease, Humphries disagrees with this theory. Viruses do exist.' I'd love to see her research on this also on the proof of infection/contagion. There's a $1 000 000 prize going begging just for proof of the measles virus. Kudos for the vaccine stuff but the Weston Price Foundation and others have long linked 'diseases' to specific toxins and answered her questions on why she doesn't continually get chickenpox. If you do dive deeply into disease you will find that poison alone will not always trigger detox.

Individuals can act differently to the same toxins. My personal belief is that for many 'diseases' to manifest you also need stress and the resultant poor nutrition. Furthermore, if you want the touchstone for the veracity, ethics and morality of 'the Science' and the 'Scientist' maybe take a look at how obscenely they treat animals and birds - that quite frankly disgusts me and then let's move on to the next level, human trials, on babies and children and think about that in relation to the subject.

Nothing has changed since Jenner and Pasteur, they had the same arrogance and cavalier attitude to the lives of others, their 'research' is a horror story. The great thing about the human body is that it is in a constant state of breakdown and repair but you have to help it along by feeding it correctly, getting enough exercise and sun and spreading some happiness and love. That is why I would question someone who writes 'I'm still as polluted as I probably was 10 years ago.' Why?

Understanding your body and what it needs and what it needs to avoid and then proactively doing something about it is crucial, it is the foundation of good health. There is an old dictum 'you can not run with the hare and hunt with the hounds' and this article smacks too much of that. It's a good start but others have already gone much, much further, maybe interview them?

Guillermou

Yes, Sue, we have a binon: Terrain and viruses that interact to cause or stop the disease. A healthy body without immune deficiencies will be able to overcome the disease. It has been seen how the C-19 disease affects and causes serious damage to patients with previous pathologies and elderly people. First of all, we must enhance natural immunity, which is what will defeat Covid.19. To do this, we must take care of "the terrain", that is, the internal environment of the body, to defeat any external germ. What Bchamp called "terrain" is very close to what modern medicine has now called the innate immune system. We must consider the adaptation of people to diseases, through appropriate modulation of the immune system.

When an epidemic occurs at some point in evolution, the population that is attacked by any pathogen adapts. Above all, take care of good adaptation to natural immunity. The journal Aging Cell publishes a novel project with 16 researchers from eight different institutions beginning the study of the relationship between the symptoms caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus and senescent cells, also known as zombie cells due to their behavior. "The most interesting thing is that these cells are metabolically hyperactive, which makes them harmful to the body by creating a chronic pro-inflammatory scenario in the tissues where they accumulate.

The idea was to observe if the virus, when it infects, amplifies the negative effects of senescent cells," explains Cayetano von Kobbe, a CBMSO researcher who led the project. Subsequent studies developed showed the role of senescent cells in creating an inflammatory environment that contributes to the development of Covid-19 symptoms. Therefore, this project highlights the importance of aged cells in mortality and morbidity induced by SARS-CoV-2, which could be extrapolated to data derived from the covid-19 pandemic. ## Krofter

Sue - I largely agree with your assessment. But I would also have people consider EMF's (discussed in my stand alone comment). Guilerrmou - The study you linked is highly problematic. In the methodology section it says the covid virus (NAVARRA-2473) was "obtained obtained from the nasal swab of a COVID-19 patient". The virus was then used to "infect Vero-E6 cells (ATCC CRL-1586) which were grown with Eagle's minimum essential medium containing 10% fetal bovine serum and antibiotics." Eagles medium is a synthetic witches brew of chemicals. And there is nothing remotely human about bovine serum. And we all know antibiotics cause mutation.

And Vero-E6 is a patented cell, not a human cell. First of all, to learn how a forest works one does not go out into the forest and cut a tree down and bring it into a lab and remove a few cells and treat them with all kinds of chemicals. Using this process teaches us absolutely zero about how a forest works. Why do we think this is such a great way to learn about how the human body works? Secondly, to know you have a covid virus you have to have a comparison specimen. They cite no comparison. Why not? Because none has ever been isolated. I'm no scientist but even I can see right through the holes in this study. It's crazy talk.

Hi Gui and Krofter, I always suspect anything/one that needs to change the definition of a word to make an agenda fit. Pandemic had to be changed to avoid mention of death, 'healthy' had to be changed to become 'asymptomatic', which somehow sounds way more 'scientific' and scary and 'isolate' now means a lot of jumbled up bits of debris and toxins and cancer cells and serums and bits of monkey's kidney, in fact a witch's brew in which you could find anything or nothing. The pcr test was made into a diagnostic tool, something it never was and its inventor had stated that quite cogently and on video if you want to check it out.

www.bitchute.com/.../Mlu40duhIHoG and here: www.bitchute.com/.../UijaKLCYaECJ Allopathic Medicine is a cult or religion, it is something you have to believe in because when you start looking at real proofs, everything starts falling apart. Those who wish to buy into it and choose its products and methods, if you are an adult, great do it but to force it on children and animals who have no say in the matter is just so wrong. Try to mandate it through governments is wrong too. Only 20% of the World's population use allopathy and my guess is that has declined since covid. In reality Allopathy is fighting for its life or rather the edifice is crumbling and one of its key foundation pillars, or maybe its only one, is vaxxination, remove that and it's in free fall.

Yes Krofter there was a very interesting and very poor quality telephone video made in the UK by a radiologist, right at the start of covid, she had a Geiger counter at home and she had tested her family and found high radiation levels in all the ones who were showing respiratory symptoms. All in all covid is a reference for several events and many conditions from radiation and air pollution (I checked at the time, there were hot spots of nitrous oxide discharges way over safety levels) to medication and bad food.

Sue12Cross – I am repeatedly trying to point out that the definition of what we are talking about is of utmost importance! This crucial feature of human discourse & knowledge was already discovered by ancient Greek philosophers like Aristotle, who formulated the principles of logic, still valid today. We all take it for granted that we know what a “dog” is so we don’t argue about it. But some “deniers” could argue, like are the tiny rat-like looking dogs really dogs? Or some strange dog like animals like hyenas or coyotes? Do they have features we normally consider to be “doggish”?

For answers you would have to go to genetics and this would open another can of worms. The same goes for virus and the definition of what we are talking about is even more important since we cannot see viruses. My 10 year old dictionary of biology gives a long definition, and one the points is that viruses are visible under electron microscope – are they? Again, it depends on definition and whether electron microscope can shown them. I think the new technology can shown them, see– www.youtube.com/watch – www.youtube.com/watch – – One of the most knowledgeable biologists, Lynn Margulis, was so convinced that she formulated her whole philosophy of biology around this concept of viruses.

According to Margulis the whole biomass is formed of viruses, see – www.biocivilizations.com/what-are-viruses What the VirusMania is pushing is a very limited and primitive argument and I couldn’t care less about it had it not been for horrible bioweapons, or synthetic viruses, since the 1918 Spanish Flu, as it turns out, as RFK Junior alarmingly describes all this new science paradigm in his The Wuhan Cover-Up!

Guillermo, these new “Synthetic viruses”, “genetic sequences” or “proteins” change the whole paradigm dramatically! They are NOT the same thing as the presumed “natural viruses” of Margulis. They are super-deadly (in a number of ways), man-made & likely demonically inspired “perversions” of natural viruses! Anybody who has read and understood what RFK Junior is saying in his new book must come to such “radical” conclusions. Sahsa Latypova, one of the most knowledgeable and insightful people in the whole debate, correctly described the key problem in the current virus debate in her recent interviews - the bioweapons with synthetic viruses have messed up the natural paradigm and we now have a full spectrum fluidity of concepts from natural to synthetic viruses, if that is what we choose to call them!

I think also in this recent eye-opening interview – www.bitchute.com/.../zAk6fTkBEvkO – Is the VirusMania controlled opposition? – www.bitchute.com/.../2zIQEzEmvZWN – www.bitchute.com/.../OCQfJI3qzO3g . -- Terrain, homeopathy and supplements may have worked for these older viruses 150 years ago. (Before the 1918 Spanish Flu virus bioweapon, as RFK Junior identifies it).

BUT there is no guarantee that homeopathy and supplements will cure you from an attack by any future Disease-X! There is no guarantee and enough available knowledge to know how we can effectively defend ourselves against the cabal’s democide by synthetic viruses, especially since they have a plethora of secret research and methods! Anybody who actually cares to read & understand RFK Junior’s book, and its implications, will likely conclude that we are talking about a doomsday Apocalyptic scenario!

Hello Sue ! Takin' a break from the farm stuff, hoping you can help with my chicken question. I realize you're over there and I'm over here (U.S.) and that your birds are part time tree dwellers and our birds will be spending their daylight hours in the confines of a mobile chicken tractor. That said, are there species whose temperament make them incompatible? I heard an endearing rooster tale yesterday told at the family dinner table about a friend's independent hen who ventured onto neighbor's property. She ignored the rooster's attempt at herding her back to the fold (gotta admire those strong-willed females). So, rooster became very vocal on the human's front porch who realized something was wrong. And the collaborative effort was sufficient to get the wanderer back on her home turf. What a hen. What a rooster !

Sue12Cross

Hi Epicure, Do you mean wild or farm animals? Most farm animals used to live in symbiosis but modern ideas changed that. Roosters generally like things organised - I had one that ordered the big bay tree where the flock used to roost just like a coop. He organised it so that everyone started on the low branches in the early evening and then he moved them further up the branches as the evening progressed. If I had a hen out with chicks in a run, he would get very upset if I didn't bring them in by a certain time - he didn't mind about them not going up the tree - this came when they were older but he didn't like them being on the ground outside after a certain time.

The birds that have strongest understanding of when and how they can use human help seem to be pigeons. My pigeons would fly down and tap on the kitchen window when they needed help - usually it was because some lazy neighbour was stealing sticks from their nest rather than go and find their own. They have an uncanny way of presuming we understand their telepathy, on many occasions a pigeon would stand in my path and stare up at me, willing me to understand that it had something to tell me and basically it was up to me to work it out, food, oyster shell, water..?

I thought maybe it was me projecting human ideas onto the pigeon until I broached the subject with friends who had pigeons and they had the same experiences, the tapping on the window to resolve disputes and the telepathic communication. When you set yourself up as a 'keeper' you become a member of that flock, that's why on my blog I ask not why you would want to keep poultry but why they would want to live with you.

Poultry also tend to get on with wild birds, sometimes they try to steal worms from blackbirds and blackbirds will imitate buzzards at mealtimes to get a chance at the chicken food but in general they inform each other of predators and will try to save each other in the event of an attack. We can learn an awful lot from birds.

Thank you, Sue. When I read your chicken wisdom I get flashes of a more narrowly focused James Herriot whose books I read in my younger years and again to my granddaughters. My girls (hens) will be farm birds that will spend their lives in an enclosure even outdoors because we simply have too many hawks in the region. Despite the free-range constraint it will be penthouse living indoors and out with sunshine and breeze in an uncrowded enclosure and all the ground fauna they can find at a new location every day. I'm so stoked over becoming a chicken uncle I told my better half it's almost like starting another family :- )

Well, many years ago, probably about 15-18 years ago, my grandson was on holiday camping with us. He fell out of a tree and a stick went into his hand. We don't do vaccines, but back then, when I didn't know so much, I wondered if we should get a tetanus jab, I spoke to a doctor I found on the phone. He said "if there was bleeding tetanus could not survive because there would have been oxygen in the wound. We didn't get the jab, he was fine. So I've told people since then that tetanus cannot survive where oxygen is present, your doctor just confirming that. It can only survive in punctures that do not bleed.

MrPOrangi

Fully agree. All vaccines have been known to fail in protection and cause adverse effects the only thing in dispute is the quantity and severity. With reduction or elimination of an illness no account has ever been taken into subsequent improved lifestyles including running hot water for hygiene actually washing hands with hot water and soap after doing number twos. No account has ever been taken of natural immunity acquired. When these fear mongers yell we cleared the disease with our vaccines no account is ever taken of the countries that cleared the same diseases at the same time who NEVER VACCINATED.

I can't say for sure as I never tried (or did I?) this on myself, but the dogs and cats seem to have soap incorporated into their saliva as they lick their own 'exit'. What is called immunity is just cell being able to function. It is there before conception, though it develops into a bigger form, in cooperation with other cells agreeing to specialize to form a whole human. Immunity is innate to life or the life would not survive one day. Basically immunity means functional. The development of immunity is just part of growth. The vaxes try to stop that growth and partially succeed. Really makes me wonder for how long 'this sophisticated culture of human beings' has been a controlled experiment by external forces.

The vax pretends it knows better than the cell, while the cell is the one directly exposed to its own environment of which the vax can't have any knowledge, being an outsider. The same happens with laws: don't react to the situation of which you are a direct witness. No. Leave it to us, or leave it to the decision of a jury who you'll have to convince that what you experienced really happened. We have senses and a will to react directly, but we let it being taken away under the premise that we are not equipped to deal with the situation when it happens and that the imagination of a distant bunch of people afterwards, is a better solution.

Their thoughts and actions must travel back in time then! We're living a lie in so many ways, not a good recipe for health. Vaccines should be illegal solely on the basis that there cannot be informed consent from a baby or child and that by the time they are old enough to make the perpetrator pay, the perpetrator has disappeared. If there is no accountability there can be no truth or justice (especially for children who should receive the highest protection).

The cells of the human immune system are storing information about the coronavirus (and likewise against other viruses) in order to fight it again. Natural immunity should be taken into account as the great fighter against diseases. The CDC conservatively estimates that many Americans have been infected with SARS-CoV-2. There is every reason to believe that in most of these people, SARS-CoV-2 infection "induces long-term immunity." As Dr. M has informed us, also in his op-ed, Klausner and co-author Noah Kojima ask why we are "so focused on vaccine-induced immunity...while ignoring natural immunity" and also criticize those responsible.

of policymaking for ignoring the "complexities of the human immune system," including evidence that both B cells and T cells contribute to post-COVID cellular immunity. "That immunity should have the same social status as vaccine-induced immunity. Such a policy will greatly reduce anxiety and increase access to travel, events, family visits and more... allowing [those who have recovered] to safely discard their masks, show their faces and join the legions of the vaccinated ". PHYSICIAN: FANATICISM' – NOT SCIENCE – GOVERNS CDC'S AGGRESSIVE PUSH TO VACCINATE EVEN THOSE WITH NATURAL IMMUNITY. childrenshealthdefense.org/defender/cdc-aggressive-push-vaccinate-natu.. -----

So true! Just recent history backs this. Africa was one of the least Covid-19 (Sars-Cov-2) vaccinated continent on the planet and they had one of the lowest infectious rates and lowest death rates in the world. Of course, they have prior exposures to major coronaviruses. SARS (Sars-Cov-1) was very recent and after that was Ebola which is a coronavirus-like virus. Both of those outbreaks have suspicious beginnings with Fauci's and Gates' fingerprints all over them. Africa was doing so good that another suspicious Covid-19 variant came out of nowhere called Omicron. Conspiracies suggest this variant came from a lab in Africa. The first known cases of Omicron were literally a rocks-throw away from a Level-3 lab that was funded by Bill Gates in Africa! Reports suggest they were doing bat-coronavirus research and just before Omicron emerged, Chinese scientist were spotted in the area and they were doing bat research.

Same story over and over. It's for your own good. It's for a better world. It is to make a stronger soldier in future wars. Really?? How about not needing a stronger soldier because you eradicated the parasites that orchestrate war? Imagine you're someone from 50-100-200 years ago. You'd think with all this technology we'd live in some sort of paradise today. Unfortunately we're not, we've just been made more dependent on it, instead of depending on each other (family houses/communities, shameless human contact etc). When we accept what feels wrong... The satanists always do the opposite of what they pretend, they show themselves yet in disguise, in short: the great trickster 'god'.

Every part of life (bacteria, the sun, physical contact and senses etc dare I say mosquitoes) has been called cause of disease, basically calling life a disease. Good thing the body can not be tricked as easily as the 'superior' part of the brain which those 'inferior lower' life forms don't have (see... read in opposite). Dogs are here to show us sniffing is no crime and cats to show us 'chilling' in the sun is fine too... after a good day's work of chasing rodents of course ;-)

Yes, crimes aggravated by the killer "vaccine". Mortality at the national level, as well as from carefully documented studies and sample surveys, show the global implications of the "killer vaccine." The evidence is scattered all over the world. Multiply those documented cases by the billions of people on the planet who have already been vaccinated. What is at stake is the future of humanity. What has been imposed on 184 countries is a Depopulation Agenda, a criminal enterprise (accepted by corrupt national governments) that is unprecedented in the history of humanity. At the beginning of 2021, Pfizer was fully aware that the Pfizer-BionTech mRNA vaccine which is meanwhile being marketed globally has caused an unprecedented wave of mortality and morbidity.

The number of vaccine doses that have already been administered worldwide, i.e. 13.5 billion amounts to a crime against humanity by Big Pharma. It is also a mea culpa and betrayal by corrupt national governments that have obscured what is best described as a criminal process of depopulation, i.e. genocide. Scientists, doctors, social scientists and statisticians must address the global panorama and apply alternatives that are beneficial to health and help people with damage that can be reversed. Juststeve mentioned a tetanus vaccine. In 1997 I received a tetanus vaccine because I was cut with a piece of metal. Non rusty I might add. But at the time I knew nothing of what I do now. The next day I began to ache all over my body - big time. It kept getting worse day by day. After about a week I went to see my family doctor who told me it was arthritis. I asked "does arthritis all over the body come on this suddenly?" to which she replied yes. Prior to this I never had any pain - not even so much as a headache. My health was great! Over time In addition to all the pain came intense fatigue, lack of stamina and insomnia.

I was diagnosed with fibromyalgia and chronic fatigue and offered antidepressants which I refused to take. I wanted to get to root cause so began my journey down the medical rabbit hole. Some years ago I stumbled across an article stating that nagalase is being put into the tetanus vaccine. It has to do with GCMAF and is a very bad thing for the immune system. There was only one lab in the US that tested for this. My result was 3.0 with a healthy person at 0. I was told this meant either cancer or high viral load. It didn't matter to me which it was because my treatment plan would have been the same.

A holistic approach to regaining my health. I've been struggling with this ever since but had I gone the conventional route no doubt I'd be in much worse shape by now and maybe dead. I can't help but wonder if nagalase is added to other vaccines as well and I can't help but wonder if this underlies most of the chronic conditions we see today. For those who want to learn about nagalase there's an article that does a good job of explaining it. Search for Nagalase by Dr.Timothy J. Smith.

I've known a few great doctors that would actually agree with Suzanne. They were great. They solved problems. There's one thing they didn't do. They didn't accept insurance as payment. Obama Care put them out of business. Not only did Obama Care force everyone to have insurance, it forced all doctors to accept insurance as payment. This was the final nail in the coffin for a lot of small family doctors with private practices that had no affiliation with the big corporate brands like Baptist, Methodist, St. Francis. etc. They were forced to hire people to process all the paperwork (insurance), or join a major medical network like Baptist. Many of them just retired. All of them I knew said the same thing Suzanne says about vaccines.

I live in a state that sees little sun in the winter, At the time Covid happened I broke my code of not taking shots. Out of what I now know was fear I got the shot I lived in fear of what that shot would do to me now several years later I understand what they did to us. I cannot change what happened but understanding what happened is a great teacher. My daughter took the shot and has not been well ever since. I do not know why some get sick from it and others do not. Still take my vitamin D every day and had a mild case of Covid lasted about a week 3 days sick then just tired for about a week.

After the shot, I came to my senses, about 4 wks later and put myself through a round of ivermectin and drank Pau d' Arco tea every day for a week I believe that worked to help push out the shot effects. I have been in animal rescue for many years and of course, have several pets I get the first round of vaccinations for my fosters but have never believed in yearly shots after that. Some states require rabies. Seen far too many effects of over vaccinating your pet. In that same regard, it goes for humans. I do not encourage adopters of my fosters to get all the shots either. It is nothing but a cash cow for vets.

It is important to keep in mind that when the medical establishment first conceptualized vaccines, the understanding of the human immune system was nearly nonexistent. And today, the understanding of the human immune system by most of the medical establishment is STILL nearly nonexistent!!!! Basically, all vaccines do is screw it up, create immune priming, "anti-antibodies" (IgG4), and use up necessary resources both the innate and adaptive parts of it need to adequately protect us. AND the system ignores the value of high-dose vitamins C and D, vitamin A, zinc, selenium, magnesium, etc. and the importance of fostering glutathione production and maintaining healthy mitochondria!

Yes, Evidence indicates that mitochondria in senescent cells may be dysfunctional and unable to keep up with the hypermetabolic demands associated with Covid-19 sepsis. Mitochondrial proteins can serve as a molecular pattern associated with damage by activating innate immunity. Disruption in normal oxidative phosphorylation pathways contributes to an increase in ROS that activates the sepsis cascade through the HIF-/Sirtuin pathway. Viral-mitochondrial interaction may be necessary for replication and increase in viral load. Hypoxia and the hyperinflammatory state contribute to the increased mortality associated with Covid-19 sepsis.

Based on emerging evidence, it suggests that mitochondrial dysfunction may be the primary event. Interactions of SARS-CoV-2 virus proteins, such as ORF and NSP proteins, with host cell mitochondrial proteins lead to loss of membrane integrity and also cause dysfunction in mitochondrial bioenergetics. What follows is a secondary damaging event with the release of mtDNA, elevated ROS; loss of antiviral interferon production, activation of the NF-K pathway, inflammasomes and innate immunity with a hyperinflammatory state and cytokine storm. Mitochondria are the center of cellular oxidative homeostasis.

Furthermore, mitochondria can circulate “without cells” in non-nucleated platelets, in extracellular vesicles, and mitochondrial DNA is found in the extracellular space. Elevated inflammatory/oxidative status can lead to mitochondrial dysfunction leading to platelet damage and apoptosis. The interaction of dysfunctional platelets with coagulation cascades aggravates coagulation events and thrombus formation. matory/oxidative response leading to the vicious cycle of events.

Hi Gui, I learned decades ago that the more one grows spiritually (to a state of Know Thyself ), the less one becomes controlled or even influenced by others views, either manipulative..with an agenda, or even well meaning. The recent episode to " jab or not to jab " has been a good example of the different states. Some like myself, knew what was going on, and many were learning rapidly. I often use the word " inevitable " when it comes to such events. Classic science is based on repeatable predictable outcomes with certain interactions. QM takes that to a whole new level, where the individual observation affects such interactions.

Most Q.M'ers see this as an expansion of classic science but a few like Rupert Sheldrake, Bruce Lipton and the likes, recognise a whole different level of consciousness, very much in line with established wisdom, such as Stoics like Epictetus who stated that reality is where yiu are looking from, not what you are looking at. A good insight to timelessness there.. lol... Predictability also applies to group human interaction. How else could Adolf " Hisler " (Nostradamus' s spelling ) be prophesied to gether with the necessary group interaction to create WW2...Of course, many other seers such as da Vinci and more recently , Tesla are well known.

My point being, " it is written ", albeit with many cultural interpretations, like our individual (and I would suggest " group " )dna is correct, and we are at a time where both the group and the individual consciousness is accelarating at a remarkable pace. Just thought this view may take the stress and pressure off those who are at the stage of " graduating " from the Universe-City course..

Her lectures are nearly gone from the web (deeply buried) but worth searching for. Definitely get 'Dissolving Illusions' and get a very different history of vaccines. Yay Dr. Humphries! Thank you! It has been a soft kill for the most part. Other poisons injected like gadolinium (oh but you claim don't have any problem with the "dye" used for the MRI) a heavy metal that doesn't all come out and is not found in the body of any human, well maybe the child slaves who mine gadolinium for the use of poisoning people with injections of gadolinium. Oh, but the dye (heavy metal) creates and "elegant" picture. Vaccines are given, diseases are caused and then you need an MRI with "dye" (a heavy metal gadolinium). What a circus.

Per my baby book, I had seven polio vaccines in the 50s and early 60s. The last one almost killed me. I missed months of school and had to relearn how to walk. I was diagnosed as having a "kidney infection" - and had absolutely no reflexes in my legs for 58 or 59 days, at which point my toe twitched, to the delight of my doctor. It took about 2 years of my life, wrecked my eyesight and damaged my overall immunity. I was never the same.

If you look at the parallel reality idea, you could also ask " is there any defence within an individual, when subjected to invasive energy from others ". The more one has developed their individual state of consciousness, the less effected they are by others. To Know Thyself is also a state of observing the " group " where maximum immunity is established.

Just an FYI; Excerpt from Dr. Suzanne Humphries's book.....Not too long ago, lethal infections were feared in the Western world. Since that time, many countries have undergone a transformation from disease cesspools to much safer, healthier habitats. Starting in the mid-1800s, there was a steady drop in deaths from all infectious diseases, decreasing to relatively minor levels by the early 1900s. The history of that transformation involves famine, poverty, filth, lost cures, eugenicist doctrine, individual freedoms versus state might, protests and arrests over vaccine refusal, and much more. ....An old saying, "To know the future, you must learn from the past." Also written as, You must look to the past.

The idea that a jab is needed implies that there is a virus out there floating around waiting to infect you, right? Is it not a fact that NOT EVEN ONE so-called "virus" has ever been isolated or purified using Koch's or even River's postulates, by ANY LAB anywhere in the world? You can go to CDC dot gov and search "symptoms of Covid-19". What pops up is an EXACT description of the common flu. Common flu was labelled a deadly virus and used as an excuse to lock down society, start a fear mongering campaign and inject people with a deadly substance as a way to reduce world population. The mRNA jab destroys the immune system, causing HIV, which is always fatal and takes years to kill. Tricky! According to the NYT 72% of the world's population is jabbed.

I'd love to be able to give everyone in the world (who can understand English) a copy of Suzanne's first or second book, even though I myself, and some others, never needed rabbit torture studies or science to just know that vaccines are pure kak and do not prevent illness in any meaningful sense. But some people require that approach to be "converted" to common sense, so that's why I'd give them Suzanne's books. 45+ years ago, a natural healer in a book I read stated, "Vaccines are useless, vain, silly poisons." That was enough for me. It got me going, reading more on toxicity and the idea that we invite illness, and, further, that illnesses are good for us.

The religion of man and authorities and faith in governments religion are people choosing their own demise and same with their votes. Seemingly now either the majority now or having taken over pillars of society to steal elections their votes for their own demise will likely succeed, so I say to those who see that and prepare: "IF you can't outvote them, then prepare to outlive them for they vote for their own demise and will succeed." After that, they will no longer be a majority, but that creates a cascade of other challenges as hostile nations look at that as opportunity to take over directly.

On the question of the existence (or non-) of viruses, a letter to JAMA, from 1919: To the editor: i have just read the abstract in the Journal of Sellards' article on "The Insusceptibility of Man to Inoculation with Blood from Measles Patients." It is remarkable that Sellards was unable to produce this highly infectious disease by means of the blood or the *nasal secretion* of infected individuals. Not long ago, however, I had a similar experience with varicella. Thus we are confronted with two diseases the two most infectious of the endemic diseases in this part of the world - which we are unable to transmit artificially from man to man.

The result was most surprising in regard to chickenpox, and if the same rule holds good for measles it would seem as if *a basic principle must be involved*. Evidently in our experiments we do not. as we believe, pursue nature's mode of transmission; either we fail to carry over the virus, or the path of infection is quite different from what it is commonly thought to be.

(Emphases mine.) Alfred F. Hess, M.D., New York There are many such examples over the century, of failed real world disease transmission tests. That is, not test tubes and petri dishes, but healthy subjects directly exposed to the bodily fluids, in some cases the exhalations and coughs of patients diagnosed with influenza and various other illnesses. An interesting quote from Florence Nightingale, the mother of modern nursing: "Suffice it to say there is no proof that there is any such thing as 'contagion.'"

Vaccines are "preventatives that don't cure." Nutrients, like Vitamin C, water, and healthy exercise and rest are preventatives that cure us when we are sick from a deficiency - and their inverse (consuming less Vitamin A when toxic) are preventatives that cure when we are sick from an excess. A cure is an individual case, real - a story - in modern medicine language, an "anecdote," an unreliable fact or "not proven, . as in "there is no STATISTICAL evidence that...." A preventative that doesn't cure is a statistical fact. As in "lies, damn lies, and statistics." We can demonstrate and prove many cures easily, although this might be immoral in humans.

We can, for example stop access to water to produce the disease dehydration, and then give water to cure the disease - before or after permanent damage occurs. We can do the same with forced excessive water consumption. But we cannot prove any case where a "preventative that doesn't cure" actually "prevented" a case of disease. We can only gain "statistical proof.: Unfortunately, modern medicine, and even more so for EBM statistical Evidence Based Medicine, prefers statistical (not proof) over anecdotal (real proof). Modern medicine and EBM have no definition of "cured" for most diseases and no interest in collecting statistical information about cures.

Why not? Because most cures are cheap. Dehydration is cured with water. And most cures are trivial - no doctor is required to cure most diseases. And most patients "have no need" for the cure, which cannot be patented, bottled, and sold for profit. Preventative drugs, like vaccines, are statistical. Patentable. Marketable - just collect some statistics. It makes no difference if they actually prevent. Statistics. They don't need to cure in order to be marketed and sold to everyone - even those having no need for a preventative or a cure. It's a fact! Cures are anecdotes. to your health, tracy

As an Army Nurse I was ordered to get the Hepatitis C vaccine, but after talking to my oldest brother who is a doctor. He said he never get even the flue shot. He and I are the only ones in my family that haven't gotten the COVID jab. I have 6 children. I started vaxing my oldest and read a book that said don't do it. I vaxed my second one after she was 18 months old and then I quit. My last four children were never vaxxed. When my son broke his arm, the doctor asked if he was vaccinated. I said he was because as far as I was concerned he got all of the vaccines I wanted him to which was none.

Then he, now 25 year old son got the Covid vax after becoming a Marine. He now tells the guy giving the vax to just mark it given, but he doesn't get the vax. My other 3 have never gotten any vaxes. The oldest of the three went on a missions trip to Moldova, Romania and Turkey. They didn't require vaxxes in these countries. Praise the Lord! Thank you Dr Mercola for this great presentation!

He also said the reason shingles appeared was because our immune systems broke down over time. BUT he said nothing about improving our immunity the natural way, with healthy diets, exercise and fresh air. I was not impressed. I haven't had a vaccine since 1990 when I was persuaded into the tetanus shot. One question please, is the tetanus immune globulin the TIG shot, which someone else was recommending instead?

When they are discussing all of the elements that need to be included to enjoy your healthiest life, the most basic and most important factor always seems to be overlooked by MDs and even DOs who seem unable to recognize that they are still wearing blinkers, when it comes to recognizing and owning the importance of having brain stem interference corrected with precise chiropractic adjustments. Removal of interference with the brain stem function, as a result of spinal subluxations, misalignments, [which inevitably occur in everyone, given the to 400-1 ratio of head weight to atlas vertebra upon which the head sits,] remains the first and most important and most effective factor, in the quest to return one's body to it's maximum efficiency, which after all is the definition of total health. Dr. Mercola should know better as he has been aware of the benefits of chiropractic for decades, but maybe more inclined to see chiropractic more as a musculo-skeletal discipline.

Conservatives need to start realizing just how naive they are when it comes to skullduggery. The powers that be, behind the scenes, the weaponization of the FBI, CIA and DOJ specifically to target political opponents, (such as the current politically motivated vendetta against DJT,) are all clear evidence that the rabid zealotry of the Leftist political elites, and their political disciples (all doing the bidding of Klaus Schwab and his WEF agenda,) will stop at absolutely NOTHING to achieve their goals. Murder, blackmail, burning down businesses and even towns are tactics used routinely, and used effectively, as the perpetrators are totally without conscience.

Maybe hard to believe for most of us, but true. Understanding this, then why is it so difficult to believe that agents would be assigned to issue detailed death threats to unsettle and dissuade a gentle, honest soul such as Dr. Humphries, who would bound to be shaken by the events concocted by professional terror mongers, (and most might take the hint,) rather than assuming that there are just some independent loonies out there with nothing better to do?

Whenever the crooked Democrat machine decides to throw another phony charge at DJT, they have no problem hiring ten or twenty women who will swear under other that DJT sexually assaulted them in the past. The Conservative politicians seem to still want to play by Queensbury Rules, while the Democrats and the Leftist elites laugh at them and kick them in the groin. It's past time for Conservative leadership to understand how evil and sinister their political opponents really are, and take effective measures to expose and counteract them.

"It's not just about not vaccinating. If you're going to feed your children garbage and if you're not going to have a healthy lifestyle, I SAY GO VACCINATE, because when you get sick and you have to go to the hospital, you're going to be abused." ----- EXCUSE ME? What have I missed here...is Suzanne now saying, directly and plainly, that vaccinations do work as intended and that the risks of getting sick (supposedly by feeding your kids junk) and therefore having to go to the hospital (and suffer its abuses) are actually worse than the risks involved in taking the inoculation??

Why write those books, then? Acute illnesses (which are naturally occurring discharges designed by Nature to keep you clean and to strengthen you) are not necessarily always caused by eating junk food and poor overall lifestyle. Children grow fast and this will induce the discharge of toxic internal wastes which have gathered and need to be expelled. There is no 100% pure diet and pure lifestyle - this is not doable.

We can only reduce exposure to unhealthful substances and events. Your children will "get" something or other and we need to learn how to handle these acute, usually unpleasant, cleanouts. Isn't that what the practice of medicine is supposed to be about - handling the unexpected instead of promoting the injection of poisons; because it sounds as if Suzanne is doing exactly that. Shaking my head. I would like Suzanne to reply to this question and comment of mine. Thanks.

I thank God I refused tetanus shots many times! The most recent time is when a glass broke in hot soapy dishwasher & did not notice it until I reached in and cut my finger! It bled so bad I had to hold my hand straight up, applied an ice cold compress and wait for my son to drive me to the ER for stitches! As I refused the tetanus shot, my defensive remark to the doctor was that I did not cut myself on a rusty metal or nail but on glass in hot soapy water! He stitched up my finger & sent me home with an antibiotic prescription stating each pill was 1,000 mg to be taken twice a day! I had lupus & that would have destroyed my whole immune system! I wish I had refused the Pfizer COVID shot & one booster! I have refused the annual flu shot consistently for almost 12 years! As a caregiver flu shots were REQUIRED! My heart continues to bleed for families with young children exposed to so many REQUIRED vaccines to attend school!

When we moved to a one-horse town in western North Carolina, my husband & I needed to find a general practitioner. One with whom we consulted said she would not be our dr. unless we got the pneumonia, flu & shingles vaccines. She did not become our doctor. Right now, I am healthy and under no stress. My immune system seems fine. I've caught COVID twice and only got the sniffles and felt a little tired. I had chicken pox as a child & am not one bit happy that the zoster varicella virus is hiding somewhere in my body. The people I know who have developed shingles were under great stress: one whose husband died & the other was having heart problems.

There are a couple of vaccines for shingles but Dr. Humphries has convinced me to avoid all vaccinations, including the ones for shingles. I'll look up the ingredients in Shingrex to see what all gets injected into one's body. What I'd like to find is a way to get rid of the zoster varicella virus that hides out after having chicken pox. It seems to me there should be a way to get rid of it or neutralize it. If that plan fails and my immune system gets compromised & I develop the horrible rash, I have taken note of using manuka honey & lysine.

Almost everyone could do their own epidemiological study to determine the efficacy of vaccines. Practically every school district has records of students vaccinated and not vaccinated. The school districts also have attendance records. Just compare the attendance records of those vaccinated to those unvaccinated. If vaccines are effective, then those vaccinated will have a better attendance record on average. If vaccines are more harmful than beneficial then those unvaccinated will have better attendance records. Easy to do and the cohorts can be expanded over time and states and/or districts.

Since I've know of her I've been a huge fan of Dr Suzanne. I've seen her speak several times. I once received an unsolicited hug from her. She's the definition of integrity.

Dr. Suzanne Humphries with credentials in internal medicine and nephrology. She says "Smallpox was not eradicated by vaccines as many doctors say. They say that out of conditioning rather than out of understanding of history or science. The polio virus was not responsible for paralysis in the early part of the 20th century. Polio vaccine research, development, testing and distribution has committed atrocities on primates and on humanity. Bill Gates is not a humanitarian.

"Another part of the fraud is using another vaccine as the control in lieu of a true placebo" I've found a source for the use of AAHS as a placebo. Have not found the "another vaccine as a control". Nor have I found what Pfizer use as a control for their mRNA vax.

I never, not for one minute, trusted vaccines. Last one I had was in February 1976 when I had to have smallpox and yellow fever to travel through the middle east. I will never allow anyone to jab me ever again. Weirdly, my two adult children were bought up completely vaccine free (in Australia) and now are both totally pro the jabs. Strange... they certainly didn't learn that from me.

That is most interesting, but painful to read, and probably equally painful for you. Maybe they got sick with the flu or something else, really suffered, and now blame you for not having them vaccinated. SMH... Do your two children support mandatory vaccination?

I wonder also if using honey on wounds would be useful as well. I believe it creates a pocket of hydrogen peroxide at the site. I would consider adding this as well as using the listed treatments.

A highly recommended book eliciting all the vaccine shared information here and more is titled "Turtles All The Way Down". There is so much vaccine related data obfuscation, lying and corruption. One need only look for logic to learn it is not there. The fact that the placebos used in trials are not true placebos.

Usually the trial placebo used is a different vaccine. Next is the use of Relative Risk Reduction, ( RRR ), vs Absolute Risk Reduction. ( ARR). RRR is meaningless. ARR is self descriptive. RRR is what pharma claims in there efficacy advertising. How and why RRR is allowed is yet another of the many vaccine lies.

It always seemed to me that safe vaccinations should emulate scrapes and cuts of children playing in the dirt, not intramuscular. Concerning getting sick....old time fasting teachers called getting sick "healing crises." I think it's more than psychological, the clearness of body and mind after being sick. It has been my lifetime subjective experience.

Zoltannovax

Thanks to Dr. Humphries, Dr. Mercola, and the ever brilliant Professor Gui. Hopefully, when DJT gets re-elected, Dr. M will be chosen for Surgeon General, then he can appoint Gui head of the CDC. Years ago, as a young scientist for the NIH and a part time missionary for my church, I had the opportunity to work in Matto Grosso state in Brazil, and to learn the Je language directly from the Xavante. They would walk around barefoot and step on all kinds of sharp objects covered with soil and animal excrement, some of them with sizable bleeding wounds. The only thing they did for the wounds was to apply a salve of coconut juice and some kind of frog toxin they used for their arrows (maybe botulinum toxin in homeopathic doses??), and then days later they could still run and carry large tree trunks during their remarkable palm tree race competitions (I never won!).

While I'm not sure that their indigenous treatment would work here given the composition of our own DNA (I wouldn't recommend it yet, at least until we have access to the same frog skin derivative used on their hunting arrows), it does support Dr. Humphries ideas. When we took blood samples and studied their DNA back in our colleagues' labs in So Paulo, we found they had this unusual deletion on the long 'q' (!) arm at the q12 position on chromosome 17.

When I got home to D.C. and suggested doing a detailed DNA topoisomerase analysis to see if this allelic translocation might confer tetanus immunity during the DNA transcription and replication processes, I was immediately shut down. One of my supervisors 'jokingly' said: : What do you want to do, shut down the whole tetanus vaccine industry. That same night I bought a ticket back to Europe!

I have decided I will never get another vaccine again, I'm older so they'll try to push the shingles vaccine and I must admit, I'm concerned about getting it. I have stocked up on lysine just in case and I often find high doses of vitamin c work for illness. So if anyone has ideas besides vitamin c and lysine, please share.

My husband, who had been diagnosed with stage 4 Medullary Thyroid Cancer got the shingles. They were on his right thigh and spreading. I was told to cover them with MANUKA honey, and I put a layer of cotton over honey morning and night. It stopped the itching and pain and completely stopped it from spreading. I heard this from many people. I keep Manuka honey just in Case.

The fact that throughout the last two decades no one (physicians, proponents of vaccines, credentialed 'experts', you name it) will debate RFK on the topic of vaccines is ample evidence that something is seriously amiss to support claims of their effectiveness. There's the famous example of how RFK found himself staring at four empty chairs when four vaccines experts failed to show up for their scheduled debate. And vaccine shill Peter Hotez refused an offer of over a million dollars to do the same.

Over the years I've read a few books on this topic, the most recent being Turtles All The Way Down coauthored by Mary Holland and Zoey O'Toole. We now know vaccines long sordid history reached new lows when it became clear during the covid jab campaign that the vaXXes had become militarized against the citizenry through outright weaponization. And Sasha Latypova reveals this better than anyone else: jeffreyprather.com/breaking-latypova-reveals-dod-prep-act-democide/ Starting around 12:30.

Wasn't it that it was Jenner who used puss in the experiment with his daughters? Jenner was the first to try to do a kind of vaccination. One of the Founding Fathers did something like this during the War of Independence. Some have it, that he was succesful. My point is that the smallpox vaccine given to kids up to sixties and seventies wasn't puss.

Momtad, I don't really know anything about it at this point. I got a series of 3 preventative shots, first one, a week the next one, two weeks the last (if I'm remembering correctly). It was sometime around 2008. I only know now that I simply don't trust pharma at all. Rabies is one of those risks that I felt it worth getting the shots, rabies kills exclusively (I believe), covid on the other almost doesn't at all. I don't know how she can be reached, Judy Mikovits could probably answer your questions, or you could perhaps get answers from one of her online videos/interviews, if google hasn't buried it.

You shouldn't trust physicians either. They are some of the most self centered untrustworthy people on the planet. They never stand behind their work or take responsibility for anything. Don't take they advice when it goes against your own intuition. The stories are endless. Most of it doesn't end up with actual malpractice claims, but it should. Pharmacists are even more dishonest. They are the weakest link in the Medical Industrial Establishment.

A book that came out in 1979, Confessions of a Medical Heretic by Dr Mendelsohn, is still very relevant today. Airsurfer, you mentioning cats and dogs: my cat got bitten by another cat on his hind leg. A few days later took him to the vet since the leg had swelled up. Vet flushed the wound and flushed out a lot of gunky liquid, bandaged him and put a collar on his neck. He got an antibiotic and pain killer injection and I was told to come for 7 days for his full course of antibiotics. Well, we came home and my cat disappeared for 3 days. When I finally found him 3 days later, he had managed to strip off his bandage but the collar was still on. Upon examining him I found his wound was clean and almost completely gone, so no need for more vets visit. What is it in their saliva that heals wounds so well?

I have wondered the same thing about saliva. Think of the phrase "lick your wounds" In the past mothers had an intuition about saliva. They often used their saliva on their children, and it worked. Why do cats constantly groom with saliva? When saliva in the mouth has the proper constituents, cavities cannot survive.

I grew up when summer outbreaks of polio were feared by parents like mine who kept me out of swimming pools and theaters until the cool weather arrived. Huge rooms in hospitals were filled iron lungs contain children. Even our President contracted polio. Then came the Salk vaccine, and since then polio is practically non-existent. The same with small pox. Should I believe your article attacking all vaccines, or my lying eyes?

Anicopia

The mind is EXTREMELY POWERFUL! Study the "placebo effect". Many people have been healed/has healed themselves from conditions the medical establishment claims are irreparable: badly scarred hearts have regrown new muscle, nerves and spinal cords have healed, cancer patients in advanced Stage Four end-stage on-the-death-bed and in complete organ failure have turned it around. The first thing you can do to change your health is to change the message you are feeding your subconscious: the "I will spend the rest of my life, sick. :( ". That's NOT necessarily so! Learn meditation and energy healing techniques. Get into nutrition. Stop eating toxic foods: "vegetable" oils (industrial seed oils), excess sugar, plant toxins in grains and legumes, oxalates in high-oxalate vegetables, nuts, and seeds (spinach, beet greens, swiss chard, and almonds being among THE WORST, but also many others).

Try fasting to get into "autophagy". That can clear out old, dysfunctional cells and reset the immune system. And clear out damaged mitochondria. Reduce your calcium intake and increase magnesium (absorbable). Take several grams per day vitamin C in "divided doses". Take 30,000 i.u. vitamin D3 per day and some K. And iodine maybe 15 mg per day (or more) unless you have an autoimmune thyroid condition, then be more cautious. Do more research. Change IS possible!!!!
