

juststeve

Classic Rockefeller word play, manipulated trickery - "Nirsevimab occupies a curious position between drug and vaccine classifications. The CDC appears to be using these definitions interchangeably when convenient. By calling it a vaccine, manufacturers can obtain liability protection through inclusion in the childhood vaccine schedule. However, for reimbursement purposes, it's coded as a drug." This lays a foundation for endless slippery debate in the also owned Legacy Media and what not. This product will make the sores on your fingers disappear. What wasn't said? Your fingers will fall off. In the immortal words of Bart Simpson, "You didn't see me, you didn't catch me, you can't prove anything."

Posted On 09/03/2024

xileenie

Before considering giving the RSV shot to your baby, you may want to read this:

clikview.com/articles/read/guillain-barr%C3%A9-syndrome-linked-to-the-.. More about Guillain-Barr Syndrome: clikview.com/articles/read/exclusive-pfizer-gave-me-guillain-barr%C3%A9..

Posted On 09/04/2024

dude01

Let a healthy immune system be your defense from any virus, be it real or fake.

Posted On 09/03/2024
