I love Dr mercola,. I have been following him fo for 15 to 20 years. I feel though that he does not fully understand the big picture and that by publishing this article on chemtrails he offers no solution for the chemtrails that are accumulating in each persons body. Thus this article will create fear in most people. Also as seen by some of the comments there is disagreement over global warming. This is what the power structure wants. Dane Wiggington is even worse as he not only does not offer any solutions, but he has been a propnent of global warming for many years. Recently he has changed his positon somewhat as the science is overwhelming that Co2 is not a problem.

Recently Dr Mercola has contributed to the fear narrative by warning of a nuclear war. Google chemtrails Sochi Olympics . My Tango teachers toured through Europe and Asia and they saw chemtrails in every country. Every country is spraying which tells you the whole world is contolled so there is no real threat of nuclear war. Furthermore the chemtrails coupled with radio waves can divert incoming missles. Google wall street funded the Russian revolution and you see that Russia is a manufactured enemy. Of course some links debunk Anthony Sutton saying misrepresenting his sources while never mentioning his primary source Stanford University Hoover Institute.

To throw more light on this I went to Russian 15 years ago to Artic. I was with a Russian girlfriend. We ended up in a taxi in a zone where they build submarines - off limits. taxi said better leave. In the dead of winter he said he worked for Exxon as truck driver , Exxon secretly picked up oil in the winter 40 below . Biden is willing to declare war on his country and the entire world with climate geoengineering. Despite the European Commission's recent warning that large-scale interventions, such as solar engineering to reverse 'climate change', could have "unintended consequences." Gui - the Public, 'is geo-climate engineering actually a negative with extreme 'unintended consequences?' Expert, 'Don't know, that is a good question.' The Public, 'That is a bad answer.' Reminds one of those who champion Glyphosate - Roundup, 'oh, it's okay to use, the largest ingredient is salt.' (Just ignore the toxins.) Gates, too many others cheering on we need to control the weather, let's spray to reflect, we have Super Computers, & they are telling us what we want to hear.

Largest critter in the room - "Rinjani isn't Indonesia's largest volcano. That title goes to Mount Tambora, an absolute behemoth whose 1815 eruption rivals Rinjani's as one of the largest & most destructive volcanic events. It recorded a 7 on the volcanic explosivity index (VEI) & ejected as much as 45km<sup>3</sup> or 11 cubic miles of dense rock equivalent material into the atmosphere. While the volcano's eruption reached its peak on April 10, 1815, an increase in steam & small phreatic eruptions took place afterwards for up to three years.

The ash from this event spread around the world & lowered global temperatures to the extent that 1816 became known as the Year Without a Summer, & a brief period of climate change saw global harvests fail." A similar event occurred, a period of no summer was in the book series, Little House on the Prairie, a starving time. A volcano also shows up in historic records & may have been the largest factor in the decline of the Roman Empire as food plains shifted, moved.

Starvation time. So, let us temporarily ignore what already appears to be mass killing of life in the environment & what happens if or when the New Gods expanding their playground to dim the Sunlight to save all the unnecessary, unwashed, useless breeders & eaters & one or more of these kinds of volcanoes erupts? More I am science, never said that, didn't happen, you just don't understand, you sir don't know what you are talking about. Focus on what is important, pass the loot, & where is my pension?

Just, the lie of the 2030 Agenda in line with the WEF and the Davos proposals regarding climate change is clearly being seen. The truth is that what most influences the earth's climate is the sun. Solar activities are more than 95% responsible for climatic variations on Mother Earth. Humanity contributes less than 0.5% to CO2 gases. And of these, less than 0.5%, about two-thirds or more comes from the military, from wars. By far the majority of ongoing wars and armed conflicts come from the master warmongers of WEF Davos, i.e. the US and NATO, and the NATO-integrated European Union (EU) nations. Without CO2 there would be no life on earth.

Trees, plants, therefore our food production needs CO2 to grow. CO2 is good for the world, for our lives. Plants feed on CO2, then emit oxygen that humans and animals, all sentient beings, need to breathe to live. No CO2, no oxygen. Mother Earth is perfect. We don't need a WEF and fake elite "science", bought and corrupted science. Or as John Kerry, former US Vice President and Joe Biden's environmental envoy to the WEF, states, that "the Davos elite of the WEF are like 'aliens'..." intent on saving the planet. However, on November 13, G20 representatives of the 20 most influential nations agreed to a final declaration.

The first important element is a "call for an accelerated transformation towards sustainable and resilient agriculture and food systems and supply chains." What is different about the WEF is promoting a shift from meat protein to vegan diets arguing that it would be more "sustainable". They also promote lab-grown or plant-based meat alternatives, such as Bill Gates-funded Impossible Burgers, which the FDA's own testing indicates is a probable carcinogen since it is produced from genetically modified soy and other products saturated with glyphosate. .

Yes, just and all these actions against espionage, war conflicts and climate change are managed by artificial intelligence and 5G. Dr. Martin Pall, wireless radiation and electromagnetic fields scientist, has conducted groundbreaking research to explain exactly how electromagnetic fields cause premature aging and damage to the human body, including damage to fertility, the brain, the heart and even DNA . He pioneered research showing how electromagnetic fields activate the body's VGCCs (voltage-gated calcium channels), causing them to release excess calcium ions into the cell. This then leads to nitric oxide (NO) and superoxide which react almost instantly to form peroxynitrite and free radicals. Many studies like this one show that peroxynitrite damages DNA.

Dr. Pall has stated unequivocally that “the rollout of 5G is absolutely crazy.” Mark Steele has been very outspoken against 5G and has now been widely interviewed, including by Project Camelot and also by Sacha Stone in his documentary 5G Apocalypse: The Extinction Event. Steele says that although widespread reports claim that 5G operates in the 24-100 GHz range, it is actually sub-gigahertz (i.e. below the GHz threshold, so it is still measured in MHz). He says 5G is a weapons system like long-range radar, phased array radar and directed energy At the link 13 REASONS 5G WIRELESS TECHNOLOGY WILL BE A CATASTROPHE FOR HUMANITY www.globalresearch.ca/5g-danger-13-reasons-5g-wireless-technology-will.. The US CIA is financing a study on geoengineering (climate manipulation) that will last 21 months, with an initial cost of 630 thousand dollars. It is executed by the National Academy of Sciences, with the participation of NASA and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration of that country. The CIA's interest in the climate is not new, but this participation is significant, due to the warlike implications of the possibility of manipulating the climate and the pressure that proponents of geoengineering are exerting in that country to advance in experimentation of these techniques, despite there being a moratorium in the United Nations against their application. The project will analyze different geoengineering proposals, such as solar radiation management and removal of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere; They will also study the effects of cloud seeding and other ways of manipulating the weather to cause rain, droughts or control hurricanes.

Climate control is a long-standing military project in that country, which carried out experiments already during the Vietnam War, causing rain for months at a time to flood the crops and roads of the Vietnamese. In the same sense, the US Air Force published a document in 1996 entitled Weather as a Force Multiplier: Owning the Weather in 2025, whose title clearly reflects its intentions.

We are told that the earth is warming and that geoengineering is the fix. What we are not told is that geoengineering has been going on since the 1960's. What we are not told is that the phony numbers the UN has created to scare us into believing that climate change is real do not include geoengineering. Great links, Krofter. People need great awareness about the truth. Dane Wigington urged people to remain aware, spread the word and be prepared as climate terrorism movements are already underway to cause massive damage to the Earth in every way possible. He told Brighteon and Natural News founder Mike Adams during the recent "Health Ranger Report" episode that the world should start to understand that many factors are far from breaking point right now in climate engineering. "It is mainly responsible for damage to the ozone layer, which if compressed to a single molecular level, is about six millimeters thick.

"It is unimaginably a thin layer that allows us to live on this planet and now climate engineering is removing it," he warned, adding that the latest update from the former National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) contract engineer who now works directly for their website GeoengineeringWatch.org, is that, on average, we have about 23 percent of the ozone layer. "This means it is thicker in some places and obviously thinner or non-existent in the polar regions." Adams raised the issue of the imminent destruction of the magnetosphere, which protects the planet from solar radiation and cosmic particles, as well as the erosion of the atmosphere by the solar wind.

"Not only the ozone is deteriorating, but also the magnetosphere. This means that there will only be double-strand chromosome breaks and damage to crops, such as genetic mutations of crops, as well as humans and animals. It is as if they have opened the gates of hell against the surface of the earth," said the Health Ranger. Dane Wigington noted that climate intervention operations are disabling planet Earth's ability to restore itself. He claims the operation imports transport planes from the United States and uses multiple shell companies to profit from clandestine experiments in the skies. The anonymous pilot has flown more than 26 different types of aircraft and has worked for the military and commercial airlines. Klaus Schwab, a student of war criminal Henry Kissinger, is a mentor to narcissistic, power-hungry sociopaths. The WEF's "Great Reset" is designed to turn the world into an impoverished social concentration camp, where destitute serfs "own nothing" and this, in true Orwellian style, will free them. There will no longer be a middle class, just the poor and the rich, like Bill Gates and all the millionaire followers of Schwab's ideas. In other words, big transnational corporate "stakeholders" will decide where you live, what you eat, what assets you own, how you reproduce, and what you can "rent" from them.

or you won't be allowed to rent if you complain about an unelected globalist "economic" cartel that drives humanity into serfdom, global poverty and depopulation. The productivity and health of our grasslands, farms and livestock are threatened by global warming alarmists and green conservationists. The carbon tax and the fart tax. We are afflicted by climate madness and methane madness. Globalist elites want us to eat fake meat and so approve restrictions on grazing operations based on theories that bodily emissions from farmed animals will cause dangerous global warming.

Yes, land, air, water, food, are contaminated by a toxic soup that makes us more vulnerable to diseases. This exposure to harmful products is linked to various forms of cancer, reproductive anomalies, lung diseases, cardiovascular diseases, neurodegenerative diabetes, cancer and learning problems, among other adverse repercussions on health. Incessant exposure to toxic substances from various sources directly affects the human right to life. It prevents us from enjoying the highest possible level of health. Exposure to toxic substances also prevents us from accessing physical integrity, safe water and food, adequate housing and in an increasing number of States the right to a healthy environment. And now they try to control atmospheric gases that contain carbon with taxes, it is useless and anti-life.

Life on Earth already benefits from the additional plant nutrient CO<sub>2</sub> in the atmosphere. Grazing livestock simply recycle a few nitrogen compounds, all of which return to the atmosphere or provide valuable nitrogen fertilizers for the plants they graze. Methane from domestic ruminants is not a problem compared to natural emissions from oceans, volcanoes or oil seeps. Nitrogen is now under attack from regulators in the Netherlands, Ireland and other European countries who claim that animal herds must be slaughtered to remove nitrogen-containing animal urine. This “war on nitrogen” is a war on meat production and the global food supply.

MoMac46 - I am in Australia - and in the past few years it is rare that we have a summer.... Instead of the usual/normal summer weather of 30-40 degree one summer we had nothing else just rain - in the night so people does not see it...(think the bl.globalists...) sometimes the rain just pours endlessly - which is absolutely not normal in this country - now we do not see blue sky - when normally we would see nothing else just an uninterrupted blue sky every day. This summer we see only grey clouds white clouds and more clouds. Naturally plants does not produce. Other times plants leaves got dark brown marks...burn marks. These particles are not 0.8 to 0.75 cm. That would be visible size to the naked eye. These are nanoparticles (!) of metals such as Al, Ba, Sr, etc. they lodge deep into the lung tissue and are able to penetrate alveolar wall and enter systemically, lodge within any organ. I've been trying to educate public about this issue for 20 years, no one cares to hear about it but everyone wonders why toxicities and chronic diseases are so prevalent. I got tested for metals in 2011. Barium and aluminum were off the charts. I have pointed out up to 52 distinct chemtrails in the sky at once. People's response was either they see nothing (Seargant Schultz from Hogan's Heroes) or those are just contrails from airline flights. Yeah, right. 52 different flights going in 52 different directions with none of the exhaust dispersing. Nowadays the planes travel so high they cannot be seen. All you can observe is your pretty blue sky turning into completely white/ light gray in a matter of minutes. I used to sell solar heating with a solar panel system mounted to a trailer for demonstrations. I had to give it up because I could often not have enough sun (in Colorado!) to operate the panel effectively.

Although the causes of AD are multifactorial, some neuropathological characteristics of its development have been related to the high concentration of some metal cations such as aluminum and iron. These roles include the participation of these metal cations in the production of reactive oxygen species, which have been involved in neuronal damage. Aluminum exposure has been shown to cause neuronal damage that resembles the symptoms of AD. Glycogen synthase kinase-3 beta (GSK3) contributes to the hyperphosphorylation of Tau protein, the main component of neurofibrillary tangles, one of the hallmarks of AD, as one of the mechanisms behind AI neurotoxicity will be covered. It highlights the importance of local hypoxia (carotid disease and atherosclerosis of intracranial blood vessels) and systemic hypoxia (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and anemia) in the development of AD.

Nervous tissue is very sophisticated and sensitive to hypoxia and aluminum toxicity. As a side effect of compensatory mechanisms in case of hypoxia, neurons begin to absorb aluminum and iron to a greater extent. This creates a perfect context for the emergence and gradual development of AD. America's legal foundation is under attack by the climate lobby, which has been quietly "training," aka brainwashing, the nation's judiciary in climate cultism. The Environmental Law Institute (ELI), based in Washington, D.C., created a program called the Climate Judicial Project (CJP) in 2018 that established a resource, the first of its kind, for "reliable, up-to-date information" about the change. climate. litigation. We are told that the CJP has since reached not only state and federal courts but also powerful appellate courts. The purpose of the CJP is to indoctrinate the nation's judges in concepts like "climate justice" and "equity" that go against the United States Constitution and the rights and freedoms recognized therein.

You are right. Living on commieMN I grew up with billows and billows of clouds, watching them, comparing them, naming them. I see these trails across the sky laid out in a grid and no clouds to speak of anymore! I thought years ago that people that talked about global warming were crazy. No more. Now I am the crazy one. Plus the climate in this state has drastically changed. Just today we had 53 degree weather in early February, and basically no snow this winter. I should be thankful and say "yabba yabba doo to global warning," but the lack of snow and precipitation is very, very concerning, especially after last summer with no rain. Very unusual in the land of 25,000 lakes . . .

epi-cure, each of us having our own personal limitations, mine leaves me struggling to do what I can do, personally or Locally. This leaves little time and a short window to participate here. As to your concerns of Censorship at Doc's site. Over the years it seems there has been very little. If and when, usually revolved around personal attacks, very aggressive comments, or just way off the mark for the subject. One does not have to just look here to realize, see the Globalist reach and their censorship influence. Doc has not only faced extreme heat and vicious attacks from Big Pharma, Big Money Interest for reporting accurate information on med's causing more harm than good right along, for years.

What is different now is, while Big Pharma gets a free ride, making up to $100 billion on the Jab, by all we can tell is extremely destructive. Yet Doc has been called out by a President on national TV as only in it for $$$$. His site hacked and shut down, who knows what other mischief occurred. High Tech censoring, redirected, washing out decades of material no longer available. Not only has he had to deal with a massive disruption in his ability to bank, do business, so has staff and related family members.

To manage to put out this site has to be a Herculean task, and lawyers have to be involved all over the place. If anyone has ever been jammed up, you know the rock-ribbed advice is - Don't Say Anything. In the current climate, anytime something I put out gets censored, removed, a link blocked out so it can't be connected, it is just me, but I bow to the moderators. I can't begin to determine how many legal limits may be currently in place so as to be able to survive to fight another day. But, that is just me.

Thank you for the reply. What I say is in the spirit of constructive criticism. I do so respect what Doc has accomplished and all the points you raise in his defense are valid. Talk about how one person can make a difference in the world for the better . . . . ! I've witnessed several instances where the censorship was unwarranted, including a few that pertained to me. There should be accountability for pulling a comment when the one who posted the remark asks for clarification and there NEVER is. I've recommended verbally and by email to staff members that such would improve the integrity of the website. The amount of content that Doc continues to produce is quite literally incredible. Incredible to the degree that I'm inclined to believe either he has staff or/and AI compiling and writing what he ultimately approves before it reaches our eyes.

Seems likely that the same holds true for the censorship too and, if so, I would like him to be aware of the situation if he isn't already. On a different note, I'm redirecting my life away from the semi-regular commenting I've done for years. The time has come to save an hour here and there toward allocation of other priorities that include stirring the local political pot. As much as time will allow, I'll continue to read the daily essays but you all are going to have to find a way to continue in the absence of my insipid and often ridiculous contributions :- ) All the best to one and all. Avante !

Just and Epi, above all we need the truth on all fronts including today's report on military actions and against alleged climate change. The real problem is the censorship imposed on people who tell the truth. A growing group of journalists, analysts and researchers have documented the emergence of a "Censorship Industrial Complex," a network of US government agencies and government-funded think tanks. These entities have coordinated their efforts to both spread disinformation and censor journalists, politicians, and ordinary Americans. They have done so directly and indirectly, even playing good cop and bad cop on Twitter and Facebook. Hundreds and perhaps thousands of people have been involved in these censorship and disinformation campaigns in the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom.

DiResta pushed for the creation of a government-run censorship center, which he called the "Center of Excellence." Such a center "could link federal leadership with platforms, academics, and nonprofits to stay ahead of these emerging narratives and trends," The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) ultimately acted on DiResta's proposal, instead opting to call the operation a "Disinformation Governance Board," also known as the Ministry of Truth. epi - there has to be a staff but Doc most likely has a system of given and take. They may be asked to look into what has caught his attention, and they send what they discover to him. Back and forth until a finished product. He most likely has the final say, does a layer of editing, then probably a final edit through staff. I seriously don't know, but probably much resembles a real actual Newsroom from the days of old. No matter what, anything put out on a daily basis, while the best to be relevant, is also prone to occasional down and dirty, something gets missed or comes off sideways.

I know I sure can no matter how hard I try. Censorship, why, no answer to you or others I don't have the ability to comment on that. Just keep in mind, to answer in itself may on some byzantine legal level may open a dangerous door. On a personal note, as Spring approaches the long for daily duties for very much increased outdoor activities, building healthy living soil despite the Global poisoning going on, and if and when someone may possibly be open to discuss or engage in endeavors Healing and Not Stealing will limit time here.

(If the Globalist don't stomp it and all of us out of existence.) If the World Banks/WEF/Who/Corporate total control is not backed off or contained, any nuances as to whether things like viruses are or are not real won't exist in this dimension. Life lived at a human scale in harmony as much as possible with each other or the whole of life in our Garden, Planet Earth won't even be on the menu. We will, as the Globalist revive the Twilight Zones Alien Book, To Serve Humanity - a Cookbook.

"Who are these people making decisions that affect all of us without asking, as if they own the world" asks Itsmyright. "They" covers a multitude of possibilities. But who exactly are they? Mercola readers have a pretty good idea they include the military industrial complex, the globalist clique headed by the banking fraternity, Gates & Co, the IPCC, social media technocracy billionaires, the WHO, the WEF, the EU, the UN, NATO, the IMF, the CCP, and the various implants and useful idiots in Western governments and universities who blindly follow directives from their masters. Keeping the hell fires burning we must not forget lately departed Heinz Kissinger. The puppetmasters controlling the present U.S. administration are probably well known to Vladimir Putin who at least is sincere in his efforts to protect his country's borders, unlike the Western governments all too happy to hand over our territories via uncontrolled immigration, which of course fits nicely into the WEF masterplan for a neo-feudalist future, where nation states, cultural identities, sunlight, plant and animal food will not be required, thank you.

Talking of fascist regimes, update on lately kidnapped, arrested and jailed, Reiner Fuellmich is reveals he is alive and well according to sources and on trial for "embezzlement".

Yes, this is who "they" are for sure. You've hit it on the nail squarely. i think that the Schwab's WEF is at the top of the list as to who really wants the rest of us "useless eaters" gone as "they" call us. Yes, i also read that Putin will not allow GMO foods into Russia. i also heard that Russians are actually happy there. i believe that this is true as i've followed the Russian couple who adopted a Puma from a road side petting zoo. The "zoo" people were not taking care of him and he was in poor health. They rescued him and he is as loving and docile as a domestic house cat. He could not be turned into the wild as he did not know how to hunt, and they are not native to Russia as far as i know. So, my thinking is that if a couple could be happy and allowed to keep a Puma there; than to me the country must be OK to live in. From watching their videos (I Am Puma), they all seem to be very happy and healthy.

Hi Cabochon and sunflower - Jimmy Dore went over the farmer issue in the EU: "They're Fighting Back & NOT Giving In To The World Economic Forum!" - youtu.be/toHLSeCF7SY - - Ukraine is flooding the European markets with lower cost farm products.

Cabochon

You are probably right - on the face of it, sunflower. But as far as we know, Schwab was appointed by Kissinger to run the WEF. The concept of a united Europe was really a Nah-zi idea to destroy independent nation states and make Hitler's dream for Europe come true. Kissinger may have escaped from occupied Europe but that didn't necessarily excuse him from putting fascist ideas into practice. The EU started off as The Common Market which supposedly meant merely free exchange of goods and services, but in fact was geared up towards complete political union. Even back in the 1970's our own politicians were intent on betraying the British public by pretending otherwise.

Our cheap food and fishing became a thing of the past hastened by decimalisation which totally changed the perceived and actual value of our currency. The word is that the EU is now falling apart. Thankfully, the UK had the sense to get out of that trap in 2016. As for Putin, he is not the one waging wars all over the globe, but quite rightly objects to missiles pointed at Russia from the Ukraine. That whole morass is about creating an energy crisis as part of the globalist plot to destabilise and impoverish Western governments as a prelude to global governance, which in my opinion is not a future scenario but already a fait accompli.

So you are right - back to the WEF for the full agenda. Thanks, realrose, for the link. I have been following the European farmers backlash against the criminal takeover of food production - again as a prelude to neo-feudalism and global depopulation. The Canadian truckers were the ones who first stood up to WEF trained Trudeau, who illegally blocked donations to their cause. You have to be made of strong stuff to be a farmer, methinks, as nature is not so easily tamed, so maybe they have picked the wrong sector of the economy to start their war against humanity.

Assuming it could even be technically done at anything approaching a reasonable cost, how stupid do you have to be to believe it wouldn't be a disaster for the earth and all the creatures that reside here. As an uneducated layman, i sent a note to a big shot at the Audubon Society pushing for solar energy. I argued Father nature knew trees were the solution, not destroying land for metal, plastic, and glass that create and reflect heat and toxic waste. Trees provide clean air, absorb sunlight and provide shade, and create habitat. He said he'd get back to me. That was a couple few years ago. We push for solar and now are going to reflect the light before it gets to it? Alrighty then. Yes, it's minimal, bit it's stupid in CNY where i live as it's only sunny 50% of the time and quite chilly for 5 mos. I reduced the amount of deodorant i use due to metal content and warnings about ingesting metals one way or another, and spraying everything with a coating of this stuff is gonna be good for our health? Maybe we need masks after all for another elite experiment we have little knowledge of.

Yeah, I would not start with that article, its rather advanced...Its a great compilation. Start with the simple things: the quality of air you breathe, water you drink, and the food you are eating. Dr M has outlined this many times in his substack articles. Go to the censored library tab along the top tools and do a trial and look up these 3 topics. You may want to look first at what you are taking in, before you go to any intentional detox, and it means investing (not all at once) in an air and water filter, a shower filter, sometimes your bedding, linens, cookware and more. Our living spaces can contain many times higher toxins than outdoor environments.

Chaff- generally a non issue, but additional confirmation studies might be useful. Just like the military needs to drop bombs and shoot guns for training, they need to practice electronic counter measures. effects can be mitigated and isolated, but are far lesser than... WAR, which is terrible for the environment and our collective health. Minimal risk for a protective gain. Spraying massive amounts of aerosols into the air to control the weather?? Hugely irresponsible. While CLAIMING that global warming is bad for the planet (which it is not), "they", those who want to control people, resources, and the planet, do things that could ACTUALLY cause grave harm and disrupt planet-wide processes. Warmer climates and more CO2 results in more food... but that leads to a HEALTHY population that pays less money for food AND medicine (and lower profits for THEM). Instead, THEY would have people be sick, stupid, faithless, and subservient. And I don't agree with that program.

I've been studying the Sun for some time now - all this sidetracking with climate change - you don't hear anybody much talking about our buddy, the Sun, the oversoul of our solar system. He has had a lack of poles since last year, he is in solar maximum doing all kinds of amazing things. (I keep an eye on spaceweather.com plus other sites). Right now there is an enormous sunspot area that just turned toward earth with positive and negative magnetic polarities closely-packed. The entire solar system has been moving towards an enormous galactic cloud - all planets have been heating up.

I am totally entertained by the NASA guys trying to explain all of these amazing things with their limited brains :- ) - there is so much more going on than we hear about - NASA has been tracking this for years and it's really amping up - if we're getting more solar radiation at the poles, maybe this is a blessing and not a curse. There is a greater consciousness creating this solar system! Human egos really need to step down and be humbled by the magnificence of creation and see how they can join the dance :- )

Mistreatment of the population can be seen everywhere, just look at the items in the grocery carts of the person in the line front of you and you can see their skewed value system. Self-destruction on a dinner plate, self-destruction to take the popular remedy, self-destruction to wage war against their own country politically/socially. People are trained to accept the unacceptable, largely due to distraction, ease of procurement and lack of information to the contrary. Those of us who know how warped things are now have little ability to control but our own personal space, as the monsters are at our door, and overhead. Staying informed creates disenchantment, for most it's easier to just go with the flow and accept the consequences, while driving your car reading text messages.

Meanwhile those in the know watch our backs and observe with horror, those not in the know. Consequences are upon us in every way imaginable. Dark observations, but true. It's a hopeless time to watch such destruction being imposed upon nature, in the guise of all the reasons used, as we humans are part of that nature, animals, prey to some, worker bees to others, and expendable nearly all. The memory of my childhood is cherished dearly, when skies were unlined, seasons natural, farmers cherished, raging wildfires uncommon, bees and birds flourished, and communicating face to face was commonplace. And so it goes.....much has been lost. And for what?

Ms libby, Regarding: "Self-destruction on a dinner plate," at work today, an always sickly employee complained of his ears not clearing from a minor altitude change from driving, that never happens to me, dismissed my offer to suggest some foods that would be helpful by saying he is seeing a doctor and getting huge doses of antibiotics as if they were miracles in a bottle, yet still having faith in them with unfounded thoughts that it would be worse without them. His problem isn't bacterial and is clearly nutritional based upon me seeing his poor dietary choices, of course made worse by destroying intestinal flora. Okra is such a simple solution but his religion of faith in man precluded allowing me to even speak that while seeing the answer all around him, yet not recognizing it. Religion of misplaced trust in establishment not realizing one who simply reads Mercola.com consistently knows more about living healthily than most doctors.

Kelpticgodeess - yes supposedly aluminum and barium burn very well - we saw the spraying: as clear sky then striped then forest fires some years ago - Australia.... DEW is very different - leaves a very distinctive mark on the ground - also does not necessarily burns up the trees but the houses cars are melted away on such a level that even stone disappears, the cars are melted as fluid, Paradise California is one - Athens another - Maui another and on more where oprah wanted a land in US I forgot the name.

I have taken pictures, thousands of them, over my own rural property for 15+ years. Anyone that doesn't see what is going on needs to look up. I have a large garden that raises a good portion of my food that I preserve for winter and also have my own chickens. Everything I do for my plants and my flock I do organically but as much as I try nothing is organic anymore, including what you pay extra for at your grocery store. How can it be with the poison that rains down on it everyday.

It is terrifying that they think they can mess with such a precise and self-regulating system as the climate and that it won't have disastrous consequences. Aluminium is extremely toxic and there seems to be a lot of evidence for it being a contributing factor to Alzheimer's. An author and scientist called Dennis Crouse has written a few books on the topic and points to the importance of consuming silica to detox the aluminium. The best source is silica-rich water such as the French mineral water 'Volvic' or the brand 'Fiji'. There is the supplement horsetail (and other supplements), too, which may be helpful.

It just seems even more important to look into detox strategies considering what is being released into the air. As mentioned in the article, all the measures that are taken to remediate the so-called 'climate change' problems just end up making things worse, to the extent they seem to be attempting to engineer a problem in order to benefit from the increased control it would provide them with. Wind farms cause devastation to wildlife but they also cause the soil to dry out which I'm sure will also have consequences pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/36209881 On a side note, there has been a problem here in the UK with these dreadful looking synthetic Slushie drinks.

Very small children are being made ill because they contain something called glycerol which can be poisonous to them. I'm not sure if they are available in the US, but if so they are probably best kept away from kids. There's some speculation that the glycerol has replaced sugar so that they will be exempted from the sugar tax- another case of unintended consequences www.dailymail.co.uk/femail/article-13050749/slushy-brands-glycerol-dod.. go to a flight school and wonder why they never directly mention the negative sides of becoming a pilot or cabin personnel. Cancer rates, sperm kill, nine11 taboo, all kinds of taboos like everywhere, nearly every industry is full of poisoning the world and nobody is educated to know, on the contrary, we get educated to shun 'agitators' and 'conspiracy' theorists in every gov approved 'school'. Jobs supposedly done by 'heroes' (docs, pilots and all the nonsense as if the 'lower' jobs were for subclass humans) don't have a higher average level of integrity, even sociopath killers study to know how to play the game.

Pilots don't care any more than other employees: they accept it when they get the job or when told to. Everybody should care about everybody but we are not designed that way. Do we blame our design or the unnatural society in which we are forced? The higher your salary, the more you have to lose, the more you are a slave to orders and to a system which you have become part of. And so you rationalize away everything that contradicts what you do in the name of your job.

Sending this article out to everyone i know! Thanks again Dr. Mercola for another great news worthy article. i've been following Dane Wiggington for the past 5 years ever since a friend of my mentioned the chem trails that were being sprayed over us as we stood outside talking. A local radio station used to air his podcasts; but i don't think that they do any longer. What a fallen world we live in. Makes me wonder if these chem trails are another way to cull us off? i feel so sad for all the creatures that have been and are being affected by what mankind is doing to this planet. Between this and all the radiation that is bombarding our world, this planet is in big trouble. Don't want to seem like a doomsday type; but i wonder if the end is near; that these are the last days.

So christ in all his godly perfection should do a better job next time instead of blaming his 'flawed' creation. I have faith in some things but not in a globalist story (imposed organized religion is the beginning of globalism and far from personal experiences of godliness) made to discredit the true alpha, leader, defender and saver of the pack. Let's forsake our true saver which we can see, judge, fight and argue with and replace him with a story about someone we never met, isn't accountable, is above critic etc and let's not question it! To me, that is forsaking the logic I was born with.

It's not mankind that destroys the earth as 'primitive' (natural) man lives in harmony with the earth. It's manipulated man that is put in a selfdestroying (so he suffers from blaming himself) victim position by destructive powers. The destructive powers sure are taking their time for destruction, hence my conclusions they harvest misery, not death, and are not human like us. We don't get destroyed by one quick blow. We get crushed as slow as possible to extract every bit of suffering. But maybe they are just very slow. Again, maybe this destruction is a necessary part of existence (as in yin yang you can't have one without the other and it has to be in equilibrium), or we are victim of a higher parasite stronger than us.

I assume not doing the same (making smaller creatures suffer unnecessary) might inspire higher things to do the same. It all gets contradictory from here bouncing from one opposite to the other to learn or find the way so it's useless I mention it here. But regarding JC and his nemesis it always struck me they both like suffering in one form or another. The order in which the reward comes is just inversed. It's up to us to change things imo.

Nobody is paying because there is no money involved in the overlords agenda. The money is the carrot we donkeys follow mostly blindly. Money is very efficient to shield the overlords/elites (insert any name) from the masses as they have other things to do these days than slay us for pleasure. Imagine you want to dirigate a captured ant colony, you might use sugar or fat as currency to dirigate them. You have an unlimited supply of fat because nowadays you program it, instead of going to your printer/fridge.

My point is, the fat is not for you and doesn't influence your agenda. It's just handy to make those ants do your job without having to kick them each individually because then sometimes they turn around and bite. With the fat they run towards it, not away from it. Money doesn't really exist. They fake its existence for control purposes: turning us against each other; to justify why they own you because 'you owe them' money ; saying they had no other choice to neglectly kill and poison people because otherways they would not be competitive enough to battle with the (same owner) competition (so all crimes are ok, as long as you're doing it for economical reasons) ; to have us do their work for them ; to make us believe in some form of economical meritocracy ; to make us believe there is a limited fixed amount of it and if you don't carry out the orders, it will be at the expense of your fellow man and thus refusing orders makes you a public enemy ; to justify the constant climate of competition to avoid the catastrophe of others having more money than you etc I sure can rant lol...

Watch the news from 50 years ago or any other even older media propaganda: it's always "in these difficult economical times, we have to...

(insert orders here) ". It's always difficult and we always have to bow down and obey orders which no one understands nor can justify. In the meantime fruits keep on growing on trees, with no other demand than for you to gather them.

i see you seem to be monitoring the comments for dr mercola. I love Dr mercola,. I have been following him fo for 15 to 20 years. I feel though that he does not fully understand the big picture and that by publishing this article on chemtrails he offers no solution for the chemtrails that are accumulating in each persons body. Thus this article will create fear in most people. Also as seen by some of the comments there is disagreement over global warming. This is what the power structure wants. Dane Wiggington is even worse as he not only does not offer any solutions, but he has been a propnent of global warming for many years. Recently he has changed his positon somewhat as the science is overwhelming that Co2 is not a problem.

Recently Dr Mercola has contributed to the fear narrative by warning of a nuclear war. Google chemtrails Sochi Olympics . My Tango teachers toured through Europe and Asia and they saw chemtrails in every country. Every country is spraying which tells you the whole world is contolled so there is no real threat of nuclear war. Furthermore the chemtrails coupled with radio waves can divert incoming missles. Google wall street funded the Russian revolution and you see that Russia is a manufactured enemy. Of course some links debunk Anthony Sutton saying misrepresenting his sources while never mentioning his primary source Stanford University Hoover Institute.

To throw more light on this I went to Russian 15 years ago to Artic. I was with a Russian girlfriend. We ended up in a taxi in a zone where they build submarines - off limits. taxi said better leave. In the dead of winter he said he worked for Exxon as truck driver , Exxon secretly picked up oil in the winter 40 below . Soluton - Mineral rich silica water binds aluminum www.youtube.com/watch www.youtube.com/watch There is much more - we need off grid farms and energy solutions at 1 cent per kwh - out of space let me know if you want more

If the particles are equally reflective in all directions, then they should also reflect the warmth earth generates back towards it. You know, that hot potatoe with molten lava underneath the crust on which we live... Who says earth doesn't need to SHED herself some heat into space? Since it's a hot ball in a frozen space (I'm just repeating the science paradigm) and yet it has not frozen over after being in that deepfreezer for aeons of time, that Clearly indicates it is producing more heat than the space surrounding it, the space cools it as that's why we have a colder crust to live on. So if we shield the earth from that cooling space, it will heat up.

Look at history BACKWARDS ! And then you'll understand that all those things that led to the situation of today, were NOT the fruit of chance/hasard. All the steps that happened were intentional. Implemented in a progressive way to avoid counter reaction (refusal) from the public. 40 years ago nobody would have accepted a spyphone which dictates most of your life. We had friends from actual physical encounters, from our surroundings, we knew our neighbours. When a new neighbour arrived we took the time and pleasure to meet. We didn't need to have means for very remote communications.

So we would have rejected the spyphones. Same thing with modern housing. I doubt many here were born in nature, but would 'wild' man have traded his natural habitat that provided health, food, no rent, family life etc for modern housing? Soaked in dependence on suppliers, rent, exposure to lots of toxins, to constant EMF, constant gov control, restriction of freedom etc ? I don't think so. So it has to be implied gradually, by making the individual dependent and ignorant, so he has no other choice than to stay when you change the conditions, the rent, the user agreement, the laws, the deconstruction of community and family relations, the restriction of freedom and other dictats.

It's all planned towards the same thing as always: slavery and suffering with no way out. In the lack of actual danger, they convince us with constant fear propaganda made up entirely of nonsense so the individual thinks the problem is very complicated, too complicated for him to check or to argue about, so he complies.

there are so many possible answers to this question, but believing they are too stupid (yet 'in charge') to realize it would be naive. They also like control so that is kind of reassuring against scenarios with technologies (AI for ex) that could spiral out of control, although if they don't live in the same petri dish as us, it's no concern to them so who knows? The main thing to understand in my opinion is that they are NOT humans like you and me. That's just a lie to make us believe they care, to project our own humanity on them and expect they'll act accordingly. Who knows, they might by spiritual resonance, but they sure have a strange way of communicating it. We can deduct some things by looking at ourselves and realize how we treat 'inferior' life forms. And whether we find that treatment appropriate or not.

Folks, Garbage In = Garbage Out, even with supercomputers. Epoch Times had an article within the last 6 months about Nobel laureate in Physics (2022) Dr. John Clauser stating, IIRC, that the climate models use a constant 5% cloud cover when in fact it varies from 5% to 95%. Thus the models are predicting the Earth heating up due to no cloud cover. Plenty of info if you do a search for "John Clauser climate model". I recall reading an official NASA article, prolly 2 decades ago, prolly in Tech Briefs, where the highest (Cirrus) clouds reflected sunlight during the day. NASA said they needed to update their modeling s/w to include contrails. Give that some thought...

Indeed! In france I see 'clouds' that I have never seen in my meteorological courses, while the weather is a necessary obsession in air travel. So you cannot look past it. Streaks don't naturally form. They have a clear cut off form. While natural clouds always have vague unsharp edges and all kind of irregular forms, reflected in the culture of seeing images in clouds. The chemtrail clouds all look like produced in the same mould at time intervals and look like a long standalone tuuurd. Some also have unnatural colours and shades differing from normal clouds which are always white above and grey beneath, the higher (more towering), the darker underneath. A very regular degradation of brightness. Clouds can't flip upside down, so when you notice one is too dark at the top, there is definitely something wrong.

It's been going on for decades, worldwide. Was in Palm Springs a couple weeks ago. The skies were criss-crossed with chemtrails. 20 or 30 years ago, National Geographic had a 'story' about 'horizontal clouds' -- chemtrails. In other words, they're in on the scam. How about that? Shocking. So much sh** has been dumped into the air and onto the ground and into us, I doubt it can be measured. I would say 95% of people, maybe 99%, can look up at skies which look like tic-tac-toe, and not even notice. Stay strong, stay positive, stay in a place of love as much as possible. I'm convinced that fear and hatred and anxiety and worry are part and parcel of all of it. Hatred feeds the beast.

We have far more power than I think we even dimly realize. The power lies in love, holding images, pictures, visions, of the world we want. Yes, we are aware, and I think all of us here are far more aware than most. Years ago, I read of an experiment. Some fairly small number of people around the world, in different places, agreed to hold the vision of peace in the Middle East for a period of time. An hour, two hours. That was all. And when that happened, there was a fairly dramatic reduction in violence in the Middle East. I doubt it was coincidence. I think it showed us the immense power that each of us has to change this world for the better, and to create the world we want.

I'm on your page. I participated in Lynn McTaggart's experiments, too. You may want to check out Richard Gordon's "Quantum Touch" - it's all about healing with love & quickly. I've been doing Reiki for years and I feel this is more powerful. Richard is rounding up the love troops to dowse everything with love. Whenever there is a global crisis, I go hover over it and dowse it with the LoveLight. Usually when I get there, there is already an amazing number of beings doing the same thing. So inspiring! So many beautiful lightworkers on the planet. So while all the lower frequency stuff is going on, there is a massive higher frequency movement happening as well.

Intention is powerful & the "powers that were" know that, so they're always throwing us a gasp moment to get us unfocused, but this is a great validation. We do have the power and I believe we are creating a new and powerful world with the help of our buddy the Sun :-). See my post above. Indigenous cultures knew that this world was heading into a lower frequency state, but we are done now. and evolving upward. I'm really hoping the baddies are still creating Alternative3; fleeing to Mars - they've got their little buddy robot, Perseverance, exploring the place.

Every time I hear from a climate alarmist, I am reminded of the Dr Seuss character, the Lorax, who claimed to speak for the trees even though the trees never asked him to do that. Same thing with everyone else who professes to care for the planet or nature or the environment or whatever other grandiose constituency is said to be involved. The parade of climatic horrors is never ending. The only constant is how the bureaucratic and political classes claim to hold the solution. We're supposed to ignore their serial failure in managing basic tasks such as public safety, education, roads, and a budget.

The idea that climate can be regulated into compliance is the sort of absurdity that even academics should reject. Except it is not rejected. Because there are fortunes to be made in accepting it and proselytizing about it. And it is cast in partisan terms so that large numbers of people will buy into the claims solely because their preferred politicians and talking heads told them to.

We need to form relationships with farmers we know and trust, to feed our families, to create food security and sovereignty on the local level, and make sure more small, independent farmers are successful in order to withstand the onslaught of the de-farming now under way by the controligarchs.
