"As noted in the report, 'Human augmentation has the potential to ... change the meaning of what it means to be a human.' ----- Yeah, right, just like breast implants are real boobs. Call me old-fashioned, but I thought that Life was about self-mastery -- about not being as much of a ringpiece today as I was ten years ago -- about being more like Miyamoto Musashi, Bruce Lee, or Thich Quang Duc, and less like John Kerry and Bill Gates -- about being less of a coward -- about learning who we are deep within ourselves. ----- Oh! I forgot. Many of the super-rich are insane and think everything can be "perfected" by throwing money at it. ----- "In whatever man does without God, he must fail miserably, or succeed more miserably." ~ George MacDonald

Good call on Silly Cones, breast implants. More focus on superficial imaging and capturing minds distracting them from seeing a whole person. Someone one truly would like, love to spend time with as opposed to a brag trophy to hang onto someone's arm in public. One of many things to be image over substance.

What you are saying, hoplitex, is just because you CAN do something, doesn't mean you should. There's no doubt that the greatest boon to mankind has been the discovery of birth control to limit families, even if many 21st century women of child bearing age now find difficulty in conceiving. Usually the causes of infertility can be addressed successfully. Note that the staunchest depopulation campaigners often have four children families. I'm afraid I am stuck in the dark ages and don't approve of factory farmed babies on demand. The interests of the child are paramount way more important than the fashionable whims of our amoral, egotistical age.

A child born into the world deserves not a father and a father, nor a mother and a mother, nor a name on a donor list but a mother and a father. Even if natural parents become separated and widowed, a child deserves to know its parentage, its lineage. A sense of identity and belonging is surely fundamental to the spiritual and emotional wellbeing of us all. Of course just chucking money around is the globalist answer to everything - provided of course that the underclass, the useless eaters, the Untermenschen are excluded from their philanthropy.

There are many, many treasures that money can't buy. The super rich have lost touch with reality. It must become a bit boring when there is nothing left to strive for except more of the same - money and power. Hubris and inflated self importance - even delusions of being the "master race" lead to harebrained experiments and overreach. I'm visualising here the sorcerer's apprentice, rather than the Sorcerer himself, dabbling with forces he doesn't fully understand and unable to predict the outcome. What could possibly go wrong?

Doesn't seem to matter much, how insane, nutty something is, somebody somewhere whether legal or not will be trying to do it. Transhumanism is more fantasy Technocrats believe to be reality. That they are smarter than Creation, a work in progress over millions, if not billions of years. Put all the Technocrats in their delusional computer hive mind working together and they still haven't woken up in the morning compared to what the process of Creation has already provided. This is just one more area where they are in the process of crippling, destroying what has already developed far and beyond anything they could hope to create and despite their delusions whatever they create will always be dead, sterile, empty in comparison.

Yes, Just, humanity is being directed to a diabolical world, a world where technology dominates its minds and body, where God does not exist, where the new gods of Davos reign, in an attack against the human essence, its soul, its dignity and freedom. And, if they do manage to hack life, he describes it as the "biggest revolution in biology since the beginning of life 4 billion years ago." In Davos the laws of transhumanism are being dictated "humans will soon adopt implanted brain technology so that they can 'decipher complex thoughts'", adding that "neurosignals can be used for biometrics" and that the more neurotechnology is adopted, more data can be collected in humans.

The globalist elite may consider themselves saviors but the reality is that they are villains, psychopaths with instincts for power based on crime." The New World Order seeks a society to the taste of those in power, with economic and selfish objectives that would destroy the person, the family and society, where cybercracy: believing that you can dominate the world with programming through the software that They install helped by 5G.

Yes Gui, a destructive impulsive belief The Creator, the process of Creation, Nature and humanity has to bow on knee, kiss the ring of New Gods who suffer the delusions they can do it better.

You desperately need an edit here. It's the same mistake made all the time by people who are in favor of abortion; this phrase: "... if the synthetic embryos could one day grow into humans..." You mean grow into adults. They are, theoretically, already human. If not, then the word "human" is not appropriate.

Lol that's true though. I'm just annoyed by all of it but especially abortion being illegal however researchers can only allow a real embryo to live for 14 days? So then what happens? They flush it down the toilet and it goes to sea and becomes a mermaid I suppose because once an egg is fertilized, life begins and it's illegal to be aborted after that happens. Maybe that law doesn't apply to everyone? Just embryos made through inter course and not test tubes? Okay now I'm confused. So I can have an abortion but just after 14 days I think is what they are saying now. Well okay then as long as we're all on the same page. SMH! God bless us all!

ANY and EVERY time man tries to play God, he or she fails miserably. Too bad the perpetrators never realize, understand or accept that fact because they are too enthralled with playing God.

Exactly they are just to enthralled with being completely idiotic morons digging mankind's grave.

Keep messing around with all of these bizarre experiments and clonings. One of these days, we may not be able to stop the damage that has resulted from these mad and bizarre creations that were made in the name of science.

And who funds this research?? NO, Who really is behind it? Why is the word CLONE not being used? What 'useful' product or system does this create?? Mostly this looks like 'mad scientist' territory. OH, and is this something you would like to be? Living creatures usually have a soul. These creatures not only do not have a soul they are sub-human because they are an invention of humans. CREEPY. Frankenstein territory. Sad for the experimental creature.

Creepy, creepy, creepy. It is too bad the mad scientist in real life are not so recognizable. HmMMM, then again, ummm, Gates, Schwab...maybe sometimes.

It's very sad and makes me ashamed to be a damn human being. For us to be this idiotic, we have to be an experiment sent to earth by aliens. At least I hope mankind is not this selfish and ignorant! I really don't think humans are smart enough to have invented the technology that we are playing around with though and that's what will be our demise.

Yes, some very dedicated "healers" tried to reverse this and help some of the androids, but often failed. Some say that, this destruction of God's creation and genetic contamination was the reason for the Great Flood... to wipe the earth clean of all the altered plants and animal life forms as well as people. The ancients did not use our vocabulary, but there is usually a gem of truth in many of the old legends if we can interpret it. Much of this research is about man replacing God with science.

I agree in all stories or legends there is a glimmer of truth that created the legend in the first place. It does seem that man is going to create his own demise because he's too busy creating a perfect machine or entity, instead of enjoying the life and gift given to him in the first place. What a shame.

Karma is a  and I hope everyone remembers that. There's some things we just don't need to mess around with, period!! I don't care how rich and perfect you think you are. God doesn't care either and you'll go to hell for playing with the creation of life. All your precious money won't help you one bit because a life is a life whether it starts at fertilization, conception or at 6 months of pregnancy. Wrong is wrong and illegal is illegal. If I can't have an abortion then you can't kill an embryo at day 14 for the name of science either! I'll pray for you because if you're that stupid then you're going to need all the damn prayers you can get!

Posted On 02/20/2024

The fact that researchers can do whatever they want with an embryo of any kind but a woman cannot have a legal abortion is just insane and ridiculous!! The United States and the world should be ashamed of themselves for being absolute, disgusting, idiots!! What a bunch of useless pieces of !! Nobody has the right to play around with human life regardless of making it, ending it, or otherwise. I know I wouldn't like to be known as the first embryo that went good and have no real parents but scientists. Really WTF???

Why grow a human outside the womb? It's all about control for the wanna-be gods, to design humans in their image, into patented factory made products. What's next? 3D printed embryos? May Jesus return soon.

If there's any truth to using these things as a substitute for true natural born humans in testing looks like more bad "science" ahead. It's not the actual article from the true origins and exposure to living life. This feels like another big misdirection, selling the public on the "benefit" of the practice. Still smarting from the most recent "advance" for our "benefit". Matter of fact we've yet to see the full impact of the most recent dabbling with God's design.

Considering that the "elites" want to depopulate the world, why create more people? They will just start a new breed of "useless eaters", as Yuval Harari would say. One problem these "creators" have is that they are not God and never will be God. It goes back to Genesis where man wanted all the wisdom of God, never received it, and was punished for his ingratitude, disrespect, foolishness and arrogance.
